WEST BILL DEFEATED

Senate Shies at Amendment

Constitutional Convention Proposal Voted Down by Upper House

Bay City Delegation Active in Killing New Plan of Apportionment

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (Exclusive)—The proposal to call a constitutional convention to rewrite the present shabby instrument of organic law for California was defeated in the Senate today by the San Francisco delegation, aided by three Los Angeles Senators, one from Alameda county and three strays from the cow counties.

San Francisco opposed the amendment because it has been changed to give the rural districts the preponderance of strength. The discussion started on the advisability of calling the convention and wandered off on the proposition of equitable legislative apportionment and some warm words were used.

VOTE 22 TO 15

The final vote on the amendment was 22 to 15. The author, Senator West, changed his vote from yes to no in order that he might move for reconsideration and try his luck again tomorrow, so the amendment really had twenty-four supporters, with one absentee, Lyon of Los Angeles. A constitutional amendment needs twenty-seven votes for adoption.

The amendment provides that if the electorate in November, 1930, approves the idea, the Governor shall call a special election for September, 1931, to elect 120 delegates, one from each Senatorial and one from each Assembly district, these to meet within six months and frame the new Constitution, which will in turn be submitted to the people.

HITCH CAUSED

Originally the amendment called for eighty members in the convention, one from each Assembly district. Senators Boggs of Stockton, the recognized leader of the farm bloc; Inman of Sacramento, Nelson of Eureka and Slater of Santa Rosa managed to get it amended to include the Senatorial districts. This caused the hitch, because under the Farm Bureau plan of reapportionment, while the Assembly is apportioned on a population basis, each county is limited to one Senator. The amendment of the farm bloc means the addition of thirty-seven rural representatives and three urban representatives to the convention organization.

Senator West brought up the measure this afternoon with the statement that the difference between the rural and the urban representatives was not serious enough to block the plan for holding the convention.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BOSTON, May 2.—[To The Editor of The Times:] Say, what's this May Day thing? We used to look on it as a beautiful spring day when we had a picnic and fastened ribbons to the top of a pole and danced around and sang and played. We had no mass production (only in children,) we had no Federal Reserve or farm relief. Everybody was just poor and ignorant enough to be happy. But now May Day, with all our modern accomplishments, is for the fellow that is dissatisfied. He puts in his only hard day's work of the year. He arises early so he can denounce longer. He prints an obituary notice on a banner of everybody that has tried to make him earn his living during the year. And he just has one of the best times of his life. Hurrah for progress.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FINAL CALL ARRIVES FOR TAD DORGAN

Famed Comic Strip Maker Dies at Long Island Home After Extended Illness

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Thomas Aloysius Dorgan, widely known cartoonist who signed his pictures "Tad," died at his home in Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., today. He had been seriously ill with a heart ailment for about nine years.

SAN FRANCISCO RECALLS TAD'S EARLIEST EFFORTS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (AP)—Old residents here recalled today that Thomas Aloysius Dorgan, better known as Tad, who died in Great Neck, N. Y. today, first attracted attention with his cartoons which he posted at the windows of his father's cigar store here.

His professional career started on the San Francisco Bulletin at $5.50 per week. One day he asked for a rise and got fired. He still thought he was pretty good and came back to the newspaper and offered to work for $3 a week. He got his job back and from that time on, his was a steady climb to fame.

Tad was born "south of the slot," as the district south of Market street was known in the early days. While a boy, his family moved to Hayes Valley district, where his friendship with James J. Corbett began before the latter was heavyweight champion. Tad attended Polytechnic High School here and it was in this city that he picked up most of the characters for which he was later to become famous in his drawings.

Score Injured in New Clash and Communists Hold Suburban Area

District Like War Zone With Barricades and Police in Armored Cars

BERLIN, May 3. (AP)—(Friday)—Communist rioters early this morning held the working class suburb of Neukoelln, after seven persons had been killed and twenty or more injured in police efforts to clean it out.

When it was realized soon after midnight that the demonstrators, continuing the disorders which began on May Day, meant to offer stubborn resistance and would not content themselves with temporary blocking of traffic, the police chief ordered out reinforcements.

Armored cars carried 300 officers armed with carbines and hand grenades into the district. All shopkeepers were requested to lower wooden or metal curtains to protect their store fronts and the people were ordered not to show their faces at windows on possible penalty of being shot.

The whole district took on the appearance of a war zone as normal traffic through the suburb to the south of the capital came to a stop and the opposing forces prepared for combat.

The rioters demolished all street lights to prevent the police from clearing Hermannstrasse, the principal thoroughfare of the district, without further loss of life.

The officials made vain attempts to persuade the Communists to abandon the barricades they had thrown across the streets. Finally it was decided to leave the Communists in temporary triumph and to hold off further efforts to restore order until daybreak.

DESULTORY FIRING

Desultory firing began last evening. The rioters seized road materials and anything else that came to hand to erect high barriers across the streets.

Barrels, boxes and carts filled with building materials stored in the vicinity for a subway extension were used in the barricades. From behind these defenses an occasional shot was fired at the police guarding the street beyond but apparently this firing did little or no damage.

The chief ammunition of the rioters consists of beer bottles, stones and sticks. The police realized that the barricades could not be taken without considerable bloodshed as long as the streets were dark. They contented themselves with stationing armored cars near the barricades to hold the communists at bay until daybreak.

Hermannstrasse and all side streets are closed to traffic, even newspapermen are barred from the district.

SHIPS CRASH IN DENSE FOG

Spanish Liner Carrying 1000 Passengers Rams British Freighter in New York Harbor

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive)—The Spanish Royal Mail liner Cristobal Colon, outward bound for Vigo, Spain, with 1000 passengers, crashed into the British freighter River Orontes of the American Levant Line today with such force that the sound of the impact was heard for a mile from the Quarantine Station, off which the collision occurred.

Late today, after difficult maneuvering, ten seagoing tugs dragged the water-logged freighter across the narrow mud flats off Bay Ridge in the lower harbor and there beached it for the salvage of ship and cargo.

The tugs were assisted by the huge Cristobal Colon. Its tall bow still firmly jammed into the great gash it had cut in the freighter, the liner pushed while the tugs pulled and the freighter was removed from the path of shipping.

LINER BACK AT PIER

With the freighter safe for the moment at least, the Spanish ship was torn away from the gaping hole in the port quarter of the River Orontes and proceeded to its pier in the East River, there to discharge its frightened passengers and take stock of the injuries it had sustained.

Fog, that ancient and unconquered enemy of seafaring men, did the business for the River Orontes. The Cristobal Colon, sliding rapidly through the Narrows, was blinded almost in a minute by a vast swirl of fog that was swept in from the sea. One minute all was clear ahead—then a trifle hazy—and the next minute the outlook was shut off as by a wall. Right off Quarantine Station, before the captain of the Cristobal Colon and its outgoing pilot had time to signal quarter speed, it rammed the incoming freighter from Constantinople.

TWENTY-FOOT GASH

The high, sharp bow of the Spanish passenger liner cut into the port side of the River Orontes almost amidships, going in deep and making a great gash twenty feet high. At the same time the tremendous force of the collision shattered and crumpled the bow of the liner. Both began to take water with great rapidity, especially the freighter.

Hurry calls were made to the wrecking companies and other agencies. Incoming destroyers of the United States Navy, inbound for a lark and a vacation, found they had another job on their hands and stood by under the leadership of the knife-like No. 247, while the wrecking tugs came up and got hawsers aboard the freighter.

In the meantime officers of the Cristobal Colon had quite a time with their human cargo. Most of the 1000 passengers aboard were Spaniards and when the crash came many of them were badly frightened and with plenty of reason. Nobody was hurt on either ship.

SICK GIRL'S FEVER SETS HIGH MARK

Child's Temperature of 112 Degrees Registered, But She Now Recovers

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (AP)—Medical San Francisco today was marveling over what physicians believe to be the highest temperature ever recorded in a surgical case where the patient has lived.

Records at the Children's Hospital here revealed that Rose Lombardi, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lombardi of this city, registered a temperature of 112 deg., 6 degs. higher than that which usually brings death, while under treatment for a mastoid last week.

Today the girl is reported recovering.

The twins, believed to be the only ones of their type to survive birth, are joined at the pelvis and have but one body between them.

The legs are at right angles to the torso, one set on each side, while there is a complete pelvis on each side. An X-ray showed, physicians said, that any attempt at separation would be fatal. The twins have five brothers and sisters, all normal.

Lindbergh Fails to Meet Anne Morrow in New York But Sees Her Later

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Miss Anne Morrow, betrothed to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, came back to New York today with her sister and her mother, but the Lone Eagle was not among those to greet her on her arrival.

Miss Morrow, with her sister Elizabeth and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, left the train which had taken them from Cleveland, at the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth-street station in Harlem, instead of at the Grand Central station. They went by motor and ferry to the Morrow home at Englewood, N. J.

There were no interviews. Miss Morrow, like the flying colonel, is averse to newspaper publicity on their romance.

Lindbergh arrived at the Morrow estate at lunch time in a blue sedan and soon drove away with Anne beside him. They returned at 11:15 p.m.

FORTY KILLED IN STORMS ACROSS ELEVEN STATES

Two Hundred Injured Left in Wake; Nineteen School Children Die; Fifty Hurt in One Town

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Approximately two score persons were killed by storms which swept through the South and Middle West yesterday.

Accompanied by tornadic blasts which caused widespread damage to buildings and crops, storms swept scattered points in eleven States—Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Arkansas.

Upward of 200 persons are reported injured.

A schoolhouse at Rye Cove, Va., was demolished, killing nineteen children, injuring seven others seriously, and nearly 100 less seriously.

A cell block in the City Jail at Columbus, O., was demolished; two prisoners were killed and eight injured.

The high school building at Woodville, Va., was blown down and one boy was killed. An undetermined number are injured.

Two persons were killed and more than ten injured in a windstorm which struck the outskirts of Jacksonville, Fla.

Between thirty and forty houses were destroyed at Morgantown, W. Va., and fifty persons injured.

Crops were damaged and wires blown down in Missouri and Illinois, where the storm was accompanied by sleet and snow.

The storm caused the death of five persons in Arkansas, two in Tennessee and one in Alabama, with more than a score injured.

An airplane was forced down in a storm in Lake Michigan near Indiana Harbor, Ind., and its two occupants are reported to have drowned.

Heavy rain and gales prevailed in the East and South and the Weather Bureau at Washington issued a storm warning for most of the Atlantic Coast from Florida to Virginia.

NINETEEN CHILDREN KILLED AS TORNADO HITS SCHOOL

RYE COVE (Va.) May 2. (AP)—Sweeping into the Nolichuckey Valley a tornado today leveled the Rye Cove consolidated school, killed nineteen children, injured seven so critically that physicians did not expect them to recover and left approximately 100 others less seriously hurt.

The tornado struck about a half-mile down the valley from the school, overturned several buildings and took the roofs from others before ripping the two-story frame school asunder and strewing the wreckage over a distance of several hundred yards. Some of the children were blown 100 feet from the building, while others were buried in the debris.

TAKEN TO RAILROAD

Twelve dead had been identified early tonight and seven other bodies were held. Ambulances summoned from Bristol and Kingsport assisted private automobiles and trucks in taking the seriously injured to Clinchport, ten miles away, where a Southern Railroad train was converted into a hospital to take the injured to Bristol for treatment.

The tornado struck the school building about 1 p.m. central time just after children had entered it from the mid-day recess.

Newspaper men who went to the scene from Kingsport, Tenn., ten miles away, found a scene of great confusion. Bodies of the dead had been removed from the wreckage to near-by houses and the injured were being carried to Clinchport. Parents and friends were running about frantically in search of missing children.

Several of the eight teachers at the school not seriously injured were attempting to assist with the injured.

TEACHER SEES CLOUD

"We had just started classes after the noon recess when I saw the storm coming up the valley," Miss Elizabeth Richmond, one of the teachers, said. "The cloud alarmed me but I said nothing to the pupils, not wishing to cause them uneasiness.

"The wind velocity increased rapidly to a very high degree with a loud howling noise. I was on the second floor. I suppose it was only a few seconds after I really became alarmed before the building collapsed with a loud crash."

Lloyd Noblin, principal of the school, told a similar story.

"I saw the storm coming up the valley and ran into the building," he said. "The schoolhouse collapsed just after I entered and I knew nothing more until I had been pulled from the wreckage."

The school was a seven-room building situated on a high plateau in the rolling hills between the mountains. Its enrollment was 250

SNOW WHIPS MIDWEST

Spring Blizzard Does Damage

Missouri and Illinois Traffic Tied Up and Crop Loss Reported Heavy

Mercury Drops to Freezing; Fruit and Berry Areas Face New Crisis

ST. LOUIS, May 2. (AP)—A spring blizzard whipped across Missouri and Illinois today and left behind it three to six inches of snow which weighted down foliaged trees, leveled telephone and telegraph lines, congested traffic, and caused crop damage the extent of which has yet to be determined. No loss of life is reported.

Tonight the fruit and berry crops faced a new crisis — the threat of destructive frost which is forecast for the entire Middle Mississippi Valley by the United States Weather Bureau.

Should a heavy frost occur, it is regarded as virtually certain that most of the fruit belt will be laid to ruin, with losses into millions of dollars.

WORST BLAST IN YEARS

The weird storm, the worst wintry blast this region has experienced in May for more than fifty years, came in the wake of a series of varied disturbances yesterday and last night in the Middle West, ranging from heavy rain and thunderstorms to hail, wind and tornadoes. It sent the temperature down to the freezing point, but because it did not go below freezing experts hold out hopes that crops have not been ruined.

The snow was heaviest at Springfield, Mo., where a fall of six inches was reported. The storm laid a blanket of snow over South Central and East Central Missouri, Southern Illinois, and as far north as Springfield, Ill. Most of it had melted off tonight.

ST. LOUIS BLANKETED

St. Louis felt the full force of the blizzard snow which began falling here shortly after 5 a.m. following a night of rain and heavy winds. In three hours nearly four inches fell. It broke down hundreds of trees in Forest Park and in residence district streets in some places were blocked. The storm also broke telephone poles and caused smashing of many plate-glass windows in business establishments.

Telephone service throughout the city was paralyzed for a greater part of the day, vehicular traffic was impeded and trains ran behind schedules.

The Weather Bureau announced it was the first time the temperature had reached freezing here in May since 1875, and that previous May snowfalls since 1884 had been confined to flurries in 1909 and 1913.

NEW AID IN WAR ON GERMS

Way Pointed to Short-Cut to Cure of Ills by Rules for Research in Medical Chemistry

COLUMBUS (O.) May 2. (AP)—The chemist's hope of a short-cut to curing disease by finding chemicals that may be taken internally to kill bacteria without injurying the patient was given a new slant at the American Chemical Society today.

It was in a set of newly formulated rules that show how to calculate accurately the toxic and the germ killing powers of thousands of germicidal compounds. The rules are a set of tools which shorten somewhat the staggering task of those who search through fields of test tubes for the now unknown compounds that may be effective.

SEVEN RULES

The rules were presented by Dr. Oliver Kamm of Parke, Davis & Co., of Detroit, and his assistant A. L. Rawlins. There are seven of them, all involving chemical formulas affecting alcohols and phenols. The phenols are a group of compounds of which carbolic acid is a familiar example. Dr. Kamm said that thousands of alcohols and phenols exist, or may be produced, each one capable of killing bacteria. Their lethal range runs from extremely mild effects up to a power multiplied hundreds of times.

By use of the seven formulas a chemist can take a phenol as a basis of calculation and find out the germicidal effect of any other phenol or even of the various types of alcohol.

POSSIBILITIES CITED

"He may use the rules," said Dr. Kamm, "as a means of plotting a field to locate a desirable region in which to search for compounds that might have practical medicinal value. He may find something not previously made.

"The important part is that as yet we have made very little prog-students and the teachers estimated that about 225 were in school when the tornado struck.

ONLY FLOORS REMAIN

The wind lifted the building from its foundation, leaving the floors.

The upper stories disintegrated as the wind tore it asunder, pieces of the wreckage being blown in some instances more than 400 yards away. One empty house near the school was demolished and practically every building in the vicinity of the school was damaged.

FIFTY INJURED BY HURRICANE THAT HITS WEST VIRGINIA

MORGANTOWN (W. Va.) May 2. (AP)—Between thirty and forty houses were wrecked and about fifty persons injured, fifteen seriously, by a high wind which struck Morgantown early tonight.

The Morgantown Country Club, a $200,000 property, was about half-demolished. William Fransen, the club steward, sustained a broken nose and other injuries. Between thirty and forty persons in the clubhouse escaped. About twenty persons on the golf course when the storm struck escaped by seeking protection behind bunkers and hugging the earth.

The tornadic disturbance, apparently about 200 yards wide, swept over the northern section of the city and into the residential suburb of Evansdale, where numerous houses were reported wrecked.

Among the homes destroyed in Evansdale was the old Dille homestead, one of West Virginia's landmarks, which has stood since Revolutionary days.

From Evansdale, the gale ripped through the industrial district of the city, where heavy damage is reported and then crossed the Monongahela River to Riverside, another suburb. Between fifteen and twenty houses are reported wrecked at Riverside.

On the outskirts of Riverside, the tornado apparently blew out its fury on a hill as no damage was reported beyond that point.

Persons hurrying into the storm area are hampered by wreckage and uprooted trees.

WOMAN AND CHILD KILLED BY BY BLOW NEAR JOHNSON CITY

JOHNSTON CITY (Tenn.) May 2. (AP)—Two persons were killed, at least five others injured and four houses demolished by a tornado that struck near Embreeville, ten miles southwest of here at noon today. Those killed were Mrs. Matilda Storey and Benjamin Springer, 2½ years of age.

JACKSONVILLE MAN DIES IN FLORIDA HURRICANE

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) May 2. (AP)—A small twister struck Jacksonville Heights late today, killing one man, and injuring more than a dozen persons.

Matt Hoefer, 35 years of age, was killed when the tornado picked up his house and dropped it into a near-by field.

Property damage is estimated at about $75,000.

FALLING WALLS OF PRISON BRING DEATH IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS (O.) May 2. (Exclusive)—Two prisoners are known to be dead, four others reported killed and scores injured today when a tornado swooped down on the Columbus city prison vicinity and wrecked one wing of the structure.

Only the rigidity of the cell block prevented a death toll which might have mounted into the hundreds.

In the latest check-up, nine other prisoners are reported missing and are believed to be among the ruins. One of the two known dead was Derrill Devore, address unknown, who had been admitted to the jail on a charge of intoxication but two hours before the tragedy. The other is unidentified. The dead and injured were crushed by falling debris when the west wall of the newer cell block was blown in. The east wall also was wrecked but fell into the prison courtyard.

Fifty prisoners were put to work to dig into the ruins hunting more bodies. Many of the rescue workers were injured when the wind blew loose pieces of slate from the upper part of the ruins.

Filling stations and homes in the vicinity of the prison also were leveled by the wind but no fatalities are reported. Water was scooped up out of the Scioto River by the wind and deposited over the City Hall in the center of the business district.

According to Weather Bureau officials the wind reached a velocity of approximately forty miles an hour, stayed there a few minutes and then fell to about thirty miles an hour where it stayed for more than an hour.

BOY KILLED AND EIGHT HURT IN VIRGINIA SCHOOLHOUSE

CULPEPER (Va.) May 2. (AP)—Marshall Hawkins, 14 years of age, was killed late today and eight others were injured by a tornado which struck the village of Woodville in Rappahannock county, wrecking a school building, four houses and two churches. The dead boy and the injured persons were in the school building with about forty others.

Two teachers are among those injured.

The force of the storm centered on the school building, the largest structure in the village.

One of the best known artists in Los Angeles is Will Garroway, who has been firmly established in popular favor for nearly twenty years. Mr. Garroway devotes much time to teaching, a work in which he has had signal success. Perhaps his greatest characteristic is his intense sincerity coupled with his high ideals. Yet sincerity and ideals do not of themselves make a successful teacher. Mr. Garroway has had the advantage of working for years with the great masters of the piano, and to his profession he brings three vital qualities: knowledge, sincerity and ideals. Mr. Garroway has purchased for his studio and will use for all his public appearances the incomparable

TEACHER FUND BILL ADOPTED

Rochester Measure Passed by State Senate

Jones Declares Deficit to be Future Result

Administration Fight May Come in Assembly

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (Exclusive) — The teachers' retirement fund, which has been one of the fiscal nightmares hanging over the head of the State government of California for many years, is revised upward and placed upon a steadier foundation in Senate Bill No. 673, by Senator Rochester of Los Angeles, adopted today by the Senate and sent to the Assembly.

Senator Rochester stated, in presenting the bill, that it remedies the act of 1913 which actuaries maintain will in time create a deficit of many millions. Only one voice was raised in argument against the bill, that of Senator Jones of Marysville, who said the bill is not "mathematically right," and will have "distastrous results."

The bill was adopted by 28 votes to 6. The Young administration is supposed to be opposed to the Rochester bill, although no administration men fought it on the floor, probably reserving their attack for Assembly consideration. Senator Inman of Sacramento recently introduced a constitutional amendment in an effort to delay consideration and to put the matter to the people in accordance with a recent pronouncement by Gov. Young. This amendment appears to give the Legislature authority to create a teachers' retirement fund, an authority already possessed by that body.

Under the Rochester bill the teachers contribute $36 annually to the fund, which is matched from the State general funds. The pension is on a sliding scale, the retirement pay being $700 after thirty years of service, $770 after thirty-one years' service, $840 after thirty-two years, and $910 after thirty-three years.

Minimum retirement age is 56 years and the maximum 70 years.

Senator Evans of Monrovia answered Senator Jones by saying that actual investigations have proved the fund will take care of itself.

SENATE KILLS WEST MEASURE

then tore into the plan, declaring that the farm bloc amendment rendered the measure impossible for San Franciscans to swallow. San Francisco, which for years aided the farm bloc in preventing Los Angeles from receiving its just dues in representation, suddenly has discovered the Farm Bureau plan of reapportionment extremely inedible. Six of San Francisco's seven Senators and one of her thirteen Assemblymen will be eliminated when the plan becomes effective, and political jobs are prized in the city by the bay.

Senator Murphy said the adoption of the Boggs amendment was a deliberate and open trade on the floor. He accused the cow counties of not only gaining control unjustly of the Legislature, but desiring to seize the convention as well. He said it meant taxation without representation and upheld the theory of area instead of population representation.

REVISION NEEDED

Senator Christian of Alameda declared that while the constitution needs revision, he would not become party to a plan of representation based on square acres and added that it would be best to drop the matter while "this feeling of distrust exists between sections of the State."

Some queer figures emanated from Senator Inman. He denied the rural districts would control the convention, but said that the cities would do so by sixty-nine votes to forty-nine votes. Some one asked him to add up his figures and see if they made 120, whereupon the Sacramento Senator sat down hurriedly.

PLOT DISCOVERED

Senator Pellom of San Francisco thereupon discovered a plot to take out of the constitution all progressive legislation, and he took up all the time allotted to him in an expose.

The inequities of the Farm Bureau reapportionment plan were the subject of an address by Senator Carter of Wilmington, who pointed to the huge voting figures rolled up by Los Angeles in contrast to the sparsely settled sections of the State.

Senator Nelson said his figures lead him to conclude that, on the basis of the reapportionment following the 1930 census, the cities will have fifty-seven delegates and the cow counties sixty-three. He defended the Farm Bureau plan as a happy compromise and, speaking directly to Senator Carter, reminded him of the many times the rural members have joined with Los Angeles in her requests for legislation.

Michigan into a fury. Boulevards were flooded and lake front property, damaged by recent storms, again was threatened. City engineers reported the lake swollen 2.86 feet above normal, its highest level since May, 1918.

Snow flurries fell early today and were followed by rain. One man who fell on a slippery sidewalk died as a result of skull fracture.

The child is Ruth Julia Slenczynski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josef Slenczynski of Berkeley. She was born in Sacramento in 1925. Shortly after her third birthday her musical education started in earnest.

DYING 'MAN' PROVES WOMAN

"Peter" Stratford, Married for Four Years, Confesses True Sex and Deception as End Comes

OAKLAND, May 2. (AP)—"Peter" Stratford died here today and death stripped away the mask behind which a woman masqueraded as a man. On her death bed the woman told her secret to a physician. Her story revealed that for many years she had lived and worked as one of the opposite sex.

Piecing together the woman's life as best they could from letters and evidence found in her hotel room at Niles, near here, police found she was married in Kansas City, October 1, 1925. There is the record of a marriage ceremony which united Peter Stratford and Elizabeth Rowland. It is contained in a book of bridal memories and is signed by George F. Roach, a Kansas City justice of the peace.

With the discovery of the marriage certificatae police turned to Hollywood to find the woman who had lived as Peter Stratford's wife at the Niles Hotel until three months ago. The woman, hotel employees said, had been known as Mrs. Stratford during the time the couple lived there.

J. A. McDonald, former assistant manager of a nursery where the "man" was employed, said he engaged "him" two years ago as his private secretary on the strength of credentials from the Quartermaster Corps in the Canal Zone, which stated "he" "had served with distinction during the World War."

McDonald said he pierced the deception a year ago and that she admitted the masquerade, begging him to keep it a secret. He did so after she told him the story of her life. Highlights in this story, McDonald said, were that she was a woman with no feminine aatributed, loving horse races, masculine sports and talking like a man.

McDonald said she was one of the most efficient workers he ever employed.

SHE'S "MRS. STRATFORD" WRITER ADMITS

Beth Rowland, a Hollywood screen writer, last night admitted that she was the "wife" in the strange case of Peter Stratford, who long masqueraded as a man, but whose secret was betrayed by death in Oakland yesterday.

The screen writer said she met Stratford several years ago in a mid-west city. Miss Rowland at that time was employed in a secretarial capacity, she said, with a noted woman, whose name she refused to disclose.

After much correspondence and a friendship of two years Miss Rowland said Stratford declared "his" love for her and proposed. Stratford at that time was desperately ill, she says, and after their marriage she sent her "husband" to California for "his" health. Miss Rowland later followed "him" to Niles.

Miss Rowland declared she did not know her "husband's" secret until two or three months ago when "he" confessed. She left "him" then, she says, and came to Hollywood, where she has been writing for motion pictures.

In a letter found in Stratford's effects on "his" death there were memoranda to the investigators, indicating "his" true name to be Dresley Morton. Miss Rowland declined to reveal Stratford's true name, or affirm or deny it was Morton.

JAIL TERM OF SINCLAIR BEGINS SOON

Court Mandate Will be Sent Monday on Verdict Against Oil Man

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—The District of Columbia trial court which sentenced Harry F. Sinclair to three months in jail and fined him $500 will be ordered by the Supreme Court on Monday to carry the verdict into effect.

The mandate of the highest court, which on April 8 affirmed the oil man's conviction on contempt in refusing to answer questions put to him by the Senate oil committee, had been prepared and will be mailed Saturday to the clerk of the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

The court's rules prescribe twenty-five days before presentation of the mandate, unless it is expedited. This period expires tomorrow.

George P. Hoover, of Sinclair's counsel, said today that no motion will be made for suspension of the sentence. Motions of this type have been made in similar cases, based on requests that the defendant might put his business affairs in order before incarceration, but Hoover said he had no intention of seeking to delay serving of the sentence.

Japanese Ship Hero of Deep

TOKIO, May 3. (Friday) (AP)—Brief radio messages from the steamer Hachiro Maru today told of its struggle to rescue more than 400 persons from the Japanese steamer Goyo Maru, which ran aground in the Kronotzi Gulf in a heavy snowstorm Wednesday night.

The Hachiro Maru, simmoned by radio, reached the scene at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and took off 350 fishermen before rising seas and darkness compelled cessation of the rescue efforts. It stood by during the wild night to take up the task again today. Twenty fishermen and thirty-eight of the crew remained on the wrecked vessel.

A reserve of $1,000,000 was set aside before deriving the net profit figure.

YOUNG AND DR. SCHACHT NEGOTIATE

Reparations Conference Pronounced Still Alive; Agreement Hoped For

PARIS, May 2. (AP)—Negotiations for the settlement of German reparations at the second Dawes committee remain at a standstill tonight after a conversation between Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee, and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, who just had returned from Berlin.

Neither Mr. Young nor Dr. Schacht and his colleagues would disclose the nature of their talk, further than that it got down to essentials. They would draw no conclusion from their conversations.

All that experts on the other delegations would say after they had been acquainted with the substance of Dr. Schacht's talk with Mr. Young was that the conference still is alive.

Dr. Schacht intimated that a final decision will be reached within a couple of days, but declined to indicate whether he hoped it would be favorable to an accord.

Emile Moreau, chief of the French delegation, is leaving Paris tomorrow for Sunday's municipal elections throughout France, so that nothing decisive can be arrived at in any case until after his return on Monday. Meanwhile the conversations of Dr. Schacht with Mr. Young and other experts will continue tomorrow.

ress in destroying bacteria within the body. We have means of destroying them in test tubes and in cultures outside the body, but these methods often are not effective upon a patient.

DEPEND ON NATURE

"The hope in the field of medical chemistry is to find a specific germicide for each one of the bacterial diseases, such as scarlet fever, measles and septicemia. For such ills we now have serums, but as yet no chemical agents that will end the infection. We really depend upon nature to develop its own cure.

"The hope of the research worker is to locate the exceptional compound that will destroy the disease. Producing bacteria and yet have only a slightly deleterious effect upon the tissues of the host.

"The task ahead is a big one, but even though it requires several hundred years, I believe we shall succeed so that some day, for example, when a child comes down with an acute infection, a drug can be administered that will cure quickly and completely by killing the bacteria."

BEET SUGAR MAKERS ASSISTED BY SCIENTISTS

COLUMBUS (O.) May 2. (AP)—A control method designed to enable beet-sugar manufacturers to realize larger yields in their "bad years," perfected a week ago by Ohio State University scientists, was announced before the American Chemical Society today.

In "bad" years sugar yield is low, although the sugar exists in the beets. It is impossible to extract it fully because of the presence of quantities of "gum."

The work just completed at Ohio State is a perfection of a method of determining how much of the obstructing gum exists in a batch of beets. It is done by use of ethyl alcohol and hydrochloric acid. Knowing the amount of "gum" in a given batch of beets the sugar maker can get rid of some of it.

LAND FIGHT OPENS

Resolution Aims at State Collecting From Federal Government

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (AP)—The State may sue the Federal government for compensation estimated to total approximately $1,000,000 in return for lands granted Indians in California under the terms of a resolution introduced by Assemblyman Robert Fry of San Francisco today.

Should the measure be passed Atty.-Gen. Webb would be authorized to start suits against the Federal government, and one-half of whatever moneys he recovered would be the property of the State, the other half going to private interests holding claims against the Federal government because of the lands.

Fry declared he received the incentive to introduce such a measure from a test case closed recently in Nevada through which that State recovered compensation from the United States government.

Long Line of Heavily Armed Cavalry Rides Into Town

Entry Regarded as Sealing Revolution's Doom

AGUA PRIETA (Son.) May 2. (AP) Federal Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, at the head of an army of approximately 9500 men, rode into this former rebel stronghold this afternoon. It took his army more than two hours to ride down Calle Alvaro Obregon to their bivouac inside the trenches surrounding this border point.

Most of the troops were cavalry. All were heavily armed. Following the long column of mounted soldiers came fifty trucks loaded with the few infantrymen. It was reported that the main body of Almazan's foot soldiers will arrive here in a day or two.

Sweeping ahead of the standards of the Federal army, only a few yards overhead, was a squadron of airplanes. These planes were anchored on the international airport and placed under heavy guard.

Gen. Almazan retired to the quarters in a local hotel, where rebel Gens. Jose Gonzalo Escobar and Fausto Topete made their headquarters a few days ago until the revolutionary debacle.

As the army came marching down the streets the bugle corps of each regiment sounded continuously. The Federal army seemed to regard it as a triumphal procession marking the death of the revolution.

ALL REBEL ACTS ANNULLED BY FEDERALS

MEXICO CITY, May 2. (AP)—Press reports from Chihuahua tonight said the State Legislature had annulled all acts under the rebel administration, including marriages, birth registrations and tax payments. Those married by rebel civil authorities now must go through the ceremony again. It was said that other States planned similar decrees.

The government expects restoration of normal conditions in the State of Sonora within a fortnight and the reopening of railroad traffic to the American border by next Tuesday.

Gen. Juan A. Almazan's troops today were concentrating at Agua Prieta, and Secretary of War Calles had established headquarters near Guaymas. It was thought that as soon as he had set the work of rehabilitation going that he would return to the capital, possibly within a few days.

A few small bands of rebels remain to be cleared out of the mountains. The final insurgent retreat was so hasty that little destruction of the rail lines was done. The principal task is to replace the bridge over the Yaqui River.

Irregular rebels today attempted a surprise attack on the town of La Barca, Jalisco, but were driven off. They left a number of dead in the streets and carried wounded with them when they gave up after three attacks. Another band sacked the undefended town of La Noria, near Mazatlan, Sin.

CHURCH SERVICES END AS FEDERALS COME

NOGALES (Ariz.) May 2. (AP)—Church services in Nogales, Son., automatically ceased when Federal forces took possession of the city, and the priest who had been conducting services there fled to the American side of the line, it was announced here today. It was said that the cathedral there would remain open for worship of the people.

GEN. TOPETE AND BROTHER ON WAY HERE

NOGALES (Ariz.) May 3. (AP)—Leaving the cares and worries of Mexican affairs behind them, Gen. Fausto Topete and his brother, Gen. Ricardo Topete, accompanied by their wives and Col. A. J. MacNab, Jr., of the American Embassy of Mexico City, left here today for Los Angeles.

Gen. Fausto Topete was one of the leading generals of the Mexican rebellion.

PITTSBURGH, May 2. (AP)—The controversy between the Liberal Club, student organization, and University of Pittsburgh officials, culminated today in the discharge of Frederick J. Woltman, assistant in philosophy, and expulsion of William Albertson and William McDowell, students.

The club, of which Albertson and McDowell were officers, came to grips with University heads following a demonstration against the continued incarceration of Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings, California union labor leaders. Prof. Harry Elmer Barnes, sociologist of Smith College, was the speaker.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2. (AP)—Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., the former Mrs. Grover Cleveland, was re-elected president of the Needle Work Guild of America at the annual meeting today.

More than 1500 women from twenty-three States and Labrador attended the meeting. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the President, was among the delegates. She is a former president of the guild.

GENEVA DELAYS NAVAL SCRUTINY

Detailed Examination of Problem Goes Over

Subcommittee Likewise Will Not be Named Now

Disarmament Conversations to be Continued

GENEVA, May 2. (AP)—Complete agreement has been reached by the big five naval powers to refrain from detailed examination of the naval problem at the present session of the Preparatory Commission for Disarmament Conference. It was learned tonight in responsible circles.

The American delegation declined to discuss the matter. From other sources it was learned also that the powers have agreed to refrain from appointing a naval subcommittee to work on the problem in the light of the recent American proposals.

THEME OF CONVERSATIONS

The question of reduction of the fleets as a supplement to the Washington naval treaty will be adjourned to a date which will be left unfixed. Meantime the five powers will continue conversations on the naval problem. The form of these conversations is understood to not yet be determined, but presumably will be exchanges of notes between the five nations.

These possibly may develop into a meeting of experts from the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy.

The main theme of these conversations will be the American suggestion for agreement upon a formula for estimating the equivalent tonnage of cruisers, destroyers and submarines by considering such factors as age, units, displacement and caliber of guns.

It is understood that Japan in particular, the most distant of the five countries from Geneva, wants ample time to study the American ideas, which are understood to be received by the powers generally with favor.

GIBSON MAY EXPLAIN

It is believed probable that when the naval question is reached on the commission agenda Ambassador Sato of Japan will recommend adjournment of further detailed discussion, emphasizing the necessity for opportunity of close examination by the naval board.

Lord Cushendun of Great Britain likely will insist on the wisdom of giving the British Admiralty time to study the important suggestions advanced by the United States. It will not be surprising if Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson follows in a similar strain, perhaps adding some general explanation on what America intends to imply by the phrase "equivalent tonnage."

The date of the next meeting of the Predatory Commission depends chiefly upon the speed with which the five powers carry on their conversations and attain some measure of agreement. The prevailing view is that the conversations cannot be completed before autumn. The leaders expect the commission will bow to the desires of the big five and accept their decision to adjourn discussion of naval matters.

RESERVATION WITHDRAWN

This program is understood to have been reached this afternoon as the result of active telegraphic exchanges between the delegations and their home governments. In this Count Massigli of France, Lord Cushendun and Mr. Gibson, Ambassador Sato and Alberto De Marinis of Italy participated.

As an outcome of last week's withdrawal by the United States of objection to the nonlimitation of trained reserves, Mr. Gibson today announced withdrawal of the American reservation concerning war material in stock.

Air Travel Grows So Heavy New Problem Arises to be Solved

CHICAGO, May 2. (Exclusive)—Travel by airplane has reached such proportions that extra planes to transport the baggage of passengers have become necessary. The problem will be considered at the annual meeting, tomorrow, of the Chicago Air Traffic Association. Representatives of thirteen lines will attend the meeting.

With the increase in the size and business of airplanes, greater accommodation for baggage must be provided. Under present rules passengers are limited to twenty-five pounds of personal belongings, with the customary restrictions on poodle dogs, parrots, etc.

Senate Passes Bill for New Transit System

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (Exclusive)—Senate Bill No. 748, by Senator Weller of Glendale, providing for the formation of rapid-transit systems under the State laws, was passed by the Senate this morning and sent to the Assembly.

Senator Weller explained that the purpose of the bill is to make possible the organization of a rapid-transit system from downtown Los Angeles to the San Bernardino Valley, in accordance with a proposal which has been advanced by the valley interests for some years. Amendments have eliminated the few objections raised against the bill.

Mr. Weller said some of the cow county representatives looked askance at the measure, and three of them cast2 votes against it, but twenty-seven Senators gave it approval.

WAVE LENGTHS' SALE BLOCKED

Radio Board Takes Stand in Refusing Renewals

KGFH and KMIC Broadcast Banned as Result

Transfers Declared Illegal Without Authorization

[Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

WASHINGTON, May 2. (Exclusive)—Radio wave lengths cannot be sold, nor may their use be transferred to other parties without authorization. This is emphasized by the refusal of the Federal Radio Commission to renew the broadcast licenses of two suburban Los Angeles stations and one in Kansas City which were recently transferred to new owners without first obtaining the permission of the Federal licensing authorities. Such assignments under the law may not be made without the written consent of the commission.

An example is being made of these stations. All of them now are off the air and all are protesting so loudly and so vigorously that another test of the Federal control board's authority, may be in prospect. The two in California are KGFH, Glendale, and KMIC, Inglewood. The Kansas City station, which went through two successive transfers without the required permission, is WHB.

DENIAL BOLD STEP

The denial of license renewals to these stations as of April 1, last, is one of the boldest steps yet taken by the commission, and already has called down certain political criticism on the radio board. Nevertheless, the commission is insisting that it is the only body authorized to determine whether a station is operating under the law's standard of "public interest, convenience or necessity." Often the character of the owners of stations establishes whether the standard is being met, it maintains.

In the case of the California stations, both of which were transferred to one man, the new owner has a radio advertising scheme which is being severely criticised in formal representations to the commission, according to Commissioner Lafount. All of the penalized stations probably will obtain hearings soon, but they must remain off the air in the meantime.

SENATE INQUIRY AIM

The sale of wave lengths, whose ownership is vested in the people of the United States, with the Federal Radio Commission as trustee, is what Senator Dill of Washington is protesting against by introducing his resolution for a Senate inquiry into the proposed sale of the ship and transoceanic communications services of the Radio Corporation of America to the International Telephone and Telegraph Company. Such a sale, he maintains, actually might mean a transfer of physical assets, but the use of such property is almost entirely predicated on a franchise obtained from the government.

Vested rights is an issue that has not yet been settled by the courts, but the course of the Congressional debates on radio indicates rather clearly that Congress had no intention of granting away any channels of the ether for all time.

CIGARETTE HAZE GROWS DENSER

Nation Puffs Up and Tax Shows Huge Gain

Cigar and Pipe Figures Indicate Slump

California Manufactures Show Increase

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—A tremendous increase in cigarette smoking in the United States during the first nine months of the 1929 fiscal year was indicated today in statistics made public by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

The figures show that during the nine-month period cigarettes were taxed $247,160,930, an increase over the same period of the previous year of $23,632,682 in such revenue collected by the Federal government.

Use of all other forms of tobacco decreased in the time covered, as measured by the tax figures.

All tobacco taxes totaled $315,936,361, an increase of $21,262,102 over the same period of the previous year. Stamp taxes aggregated $46,049,333, an increase of $12,109,115.

Of the stamp taxes more than half were paid in New York on capital stock sales and transfers. Treasury officials attributed this to the great amount of speculation in the stock market during the nine months.

Playing cards were taxed $4,156,800, an increase of $290,531. Ohio again led in the amount of this tax, returning a total of $2,648,513.

California's tobacco tax increased in all divisions, totaling $196,102 for cigars, an increase of approximately $5000; and $9,349,836 on cigarettes, an increase of $763,000, and $27,096 on manufactured tobacco and snuff, an increase of approximately $575.

ENTRY FREEDOM SCORED BY JURY

Special Privilege Granted at Ports Censured

Favors Given Congressmen Called Un-American

Practice Leads to Abuse and Suspicion, Says Report

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Freedom from customs inspection, a privilege commonly accorded officials on government business, was condemned today by members of the Federal grand jury as un-American and leading to various abuses "and to the natural suspicion that the claimed privilege of free entry is really being used as a cover for the importation of contraband."

After the statement criticising the practice of free entry, signed by every member of the jury, was made public without comment by U. S. Atty. Tuttle, it was learned that the jurors had spent ten days investigating the practice immediately following upon the arrival of the steamer Cristobal on March 28. The grand jurors took no action as such, waiting until they were discharged to issue today's statement as private citizens.

There were more than a dozen members of the House of Representatives on the Cristobal, several of whom were granted free entry in advance as being on a government mission. Representative William M. Morgan of Ohio, who was on the boat but who had not been granted free entry, demanded that he be accorded the courtesy and on his insistence and his statement that he was on official business was permitted to enter without baggage examination.

LOG OF MERCY COMES TO END

Navy Hospital Ship of That Name Finishes Her Final Voyage

PHILADELPHIA, May 2. (AP) The log of the U.S.S. Mercy—a log that tells the story of twelve years of a hospital-ship crew's tender services—was closed forever today.

The Mercy steamed into the Philadelphia navy yard to end her last voyage. One hundred and sixteen men debarked, the last of the many patients carried aboard the Mercy in years of war and peace, and preparations were made to decommission the ship.

EX-SECRETARY BACKS MELLON

Leslie Shaw of Roosevelt Cabinet Writes Senator

Rule Bars Only Business or Trade Activity, He Says

Senate Still Deadlocked on Stockholdings

WASHINGTON, May 2. (Exclusive)—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, whose foes in the Senate are seeking to oust him on the ground his ownership of stock in corporations disqualifies him under the Constitution, had a defender today in the person of Leslie M. Shaw, who served two terms as head of the Treasury under President Roosevelt.

Writing from political retirement Mr. Shaw in a letter to Senator Steiwer of Oregon, a Republican member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, investigating Secretary Mellon's eligibility, said that the constitutional prohibition cited by Mellon's critics applied only to a Secretary of the Treasury who actually engaged in active business or trade, and was not aimed at those merely holding shares in producing concerns.

The Senate committee remained deadlocked today on the question of whether Mr. Mellon's stockholdings place him in violation of the law. His critics are now pinning their hopes chiefly on the deposition he made in a law suit involving the Aluminum Company of America, of which he is a large stockholder, and through which they will attempt to contradict his contention that upon entering the Cabinet eight years ago he ceased all active business management.

PORTLAND VASE AUCTION FAILS

Famous Antique Worth Half-Million Draws Bid of $145,000

LONDON, May 2. (AP)—The famous Portland vase, offered at Christie's auction rooms today, was withdrawn after 29,000 guineas (about $145,000) had been bid, the reserve price not having been reached.

It had been thought that the price for the unique vase might possibly reach £100,000 (approximately $500,000.)

EDGE FAVORED FOR PARIS POST

Washington Thinks Senator Will Get Appointment

Nomination May Follow Close of Congress

Schurman and Others Held Likely to Stay On

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Diplomatic Washington seems to be convinced that Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey is the most likely choice for appointment as Ambassador to France to succeed the late Myron T. Herrick.

Authentic information now is that President Hoover has no intention of making a selection for some months, or until after the extra session of Congress.

Other gossip in diplomatic and Congressional circles is that Jacob Gould Schurman will remain at Berlin and that L. S. Swenson will be retained at his present post in Norway, where he has served since 1921. Some of the other diplomatic representatives to Europe, including Hugh Gibson, Ambassador to Belgium, also will be continued in their present places, although some transfers to Latin America are anticipated.

THE EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

A cool green summerland invites You!

THERE is no finer recreation land in all the world than the marvelous spring-and-summer country of Puget Sound and British Columbia. From the towering white mountains above, to the blue waters of a forest-fringed inland sea below, it is full of vacation delights.

There are places of scenic interest everywhere—and all so easy of access! Trains, steamers, ferries, and auto stages connect you quickly with all the principal cities and vacation spots. You'll find splendid hotel accommodations in every part of the Evergreen Playground. A vacation here is not expensive, because the attractions crowd against the very doors of the cities.

Every vacation enjoyment is at its best in this cool green summerland. Alpine snow sports in midsummer, golf on verdant courses, canoeing, sailing, bathing in lake or inland sea, fishing in rushing mountain streams, secluded lakes or sheltered salt water, thousands of miles of motoring over forest and marine drives on paved highways.

And all days are so delightful during the summer months here. From May to October the average temperature is 62° through an almost rainless season. It is a climate tempered by the mountains and cool breezes from the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Excessive heat, even in midday, is unknown.

Ask your ticket agent to route you one way via "The Evergreen Playground," if you are going East. From California the through rate by steamer here, and then eastbound, is the same as your direct rail fare East. The all-rail trip via the northern lines is only slightly higher.

Cool green golf courses the whole summer long.

Our free illustrated booklet, "The Evergreen Playground," will assist you in planning your trip and vacation more easily. Mail the coupon today.

TRANSPORT AID PLAN ADVANCED

President Urged to Appoint Federal Board

Control Over Air, Rail, Water and Highways Asked

Automotive Group Points to Growth of Problem

WASHINGTON, May 2. (Exclusive)—Formation of a Federal transportation board was urged before President Hoover by leaders of the automotive industries at a White House conference today. Stressing the necessity of a co-operative attack on the present transportation problems, the leaders of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce tentatively suggested a board composed of Federal officers whose departments, bureaus and sections at present are concerned with transportation by air, rail, water and highways.

In advocating such a board it was pointed out to the President that the transportation problem is becoming a vital one and that in view of the fact that virtually everybody is more or less interested, the solving of the problem should be approached from a detached viewpoint.

It was suggested that such a board will be helpful to the traveling and shipping public. Roy D. Chapin of the board of the Hudson Motor Car Company to Detroit, was spokesman for the group.

STATE UTILITIES FUND DISCLOSED

Association's Secretary Talks at Washington

Tells of Costs Incurred to Obtain Publicity

Annual Expenditure Placed at $100,000

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—An annual expenditure of $100,000 by the Light and Power Association of California, including the maintenance of a legislative representative at Sacramento, and a $25,000 to $30,000 contribution to the California Taxpayers' Association, was disclosed today by its secretary, James Pollard of Salinas, before the Federal Trade Commission.

Pollard and A. E. Wishon of Oakland, the secretary between 1923 and 1927, were witnesses at the commission's investigation into publicity activities of California public utilities.

They testified as to the expenditure of funds by the association and its part in the State referenda on the water and power act in 1922, 1924 and 1926. The association is composed of executives of eight power companies of the State.

Pollard testified that Elmer P. Bromley of Los Angeles had been maintained at the State capital as legislative representative.

During the 1927 legislative term, Pollard declared Bromley was paid $7000 for expenses and that during the first four months of the present session he had received $4500.

BAY CITY'S PORT FIGHT ADVANCES

Senate Votes Assembly Bill Out of Committee

Goes to Floor for Debate Despite Young's Wish

Northern City Wants State to Turn Over Control

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (Exclusive)—San Francisco's fight for the control of her own harbor was carried to the floor of the Senate today as a result of a vote of that body in over-riding its own Commerce and Navigation Committee, which had bottled up the San Francisco delegation bill already approved by the Assembly.

By a vote of 22 to 16 the Senate granted the request of Senator Crowley, chairman of the San Francisco delegation, that the harbor control bill be taken from the committee and debated on the floor of the Senate.

The action of the Senate was taken in the face of the opposition of Gov. Young, who has served notice on the Legislature that he disapproves of the move to transfer the control and management of the San Francisco Harbor from the State to the city.

The Senate Committee on Commerce and Navigation is declared to have been handpicked for the task of chloroforming the San Francisco Harbor bill and the action of the upper house today gave hopes to those who want to give San Francisco the right to manage her own water front, for the passage of the bill. The margin between those for and those opposed to the transfer, however, is very close.

Senator Murphy, San Francisco, declared that the members of his delegation are asking only for the Senate as a whole to consider the question of the transference of the harbor from the State to the city and that such a matter should not be permitted to remain buried in a committee. He said that "San Francisco is asking only that she be permitted to work out the destiny of her own harbor just as other California cities had been permitted to do." He pointed out the unfairness of a situation which he said forces San Francisco to ask her competitors to vote her the use of her own money for the improvement of the harbor.

Radio Reception Quiz Approved

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (AP)—A complete study of interference of radio broadcasting reception in California by the operation of high voltage transmission lines and other electrical lines, equipment and devices, is authorized in a Senate resolution approved by the Assembly today. The measure was introduced by Senator J. I. Wagy.

Following out instructions of the resolution the California State Railroad Commission would conduct the study and report its findings and recommendations to the Governor not later than December 1, 1930.

EDISON'S BID FOR BOY ACCEPTED FOR STATE

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (AP)—The boy who will grow up to carry on the electric torch of Thomas A. Edison may be a Californian. This possibility developed today with the acceptance in behalf of the State by Gov. Young, of the electric wizard's invitation to California to send her most promising high or preparatory school student of science to the Edison laboratories at East Orange, N. J., where he will be examined personally by Mr. Edison.

The rule is called a disastrous discrimination against this type of grape.

MEDICAL BILL FAILS TO PASS

Three Practice Act Changes Win in Assembly

Senate Adopts Proposed Chair of Nursing

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (AP)—The Assembly locked horns over a medical-practice act bill today and declined to pass it but sent through three other measures touching on the same act, two of them by Senator Crowley and one by Senator Rochester.

By a vote of 29 to 26 the lower house refused passage to Crowley's bill providing that an applicant for a physician and surgeon certificate must have one year's training in an approved hospital and that each applicant must show that he did his school or college work as a "resident" student.

A bill was passed providing anyone who has had his medical-practice license revoked by a sister State following conviction of a felony on the charge of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act or of illegally posing as a doctor, shall not be permitted to practice medicine in California.

CHAIR OF NURSING

The Senate also passed a medical bill introduced by Crowley providing for a chair of nursing in the University of California with an appropriation of $30,000.

The Assembly passed a bill introduced by Rochester making it illegal for anyone to sell, offer for sale or give away veronal or its derivatives or compounds containing more than forty grains to the fluid ounce.

The Senate passed a measure by Senator Victor Canepa providing for the establishment of a medical library to be conducted in connection with the State library. Moneys exceeding $100,000 in the board of medical examiner's contingent fund may be used for the library.

TUBERCULOSIS FUND

The Senate also passed a bill by Senator Jones authorizing the State to pay to cities and counties maintaining tuberculosis wards or hospitals the sum of $3 per week for each tubercular patient unable to pay for his support. The bill does not state whence the money thus expended is to come.

Restrictions on barbers are tightened in the bill introduced by Senator Sharkey and passed in the Assembly today. It prescribes the qualifications for admittance to postgraduate courses in barber colleges, and changes the salary of members of the State barber board from $3600 per annum to $10 per day of actual service, excepting the secretary, who may or may not be a member of the board.

SEE WHAT LOST HAT CAUSED!

His Auto Stolen and Woman Companion Kidnaped; Two Robberies Follow as She Drives

CHICAGO, May 2. (AP)—Clayton Sherman's hat blew off last night with the following results:

(1.) Theft of one automobile; (2) kidnaping of Miss Dolores Bannon and (3) two robberies.

Sherman, president of the H. P. Smith Paper Company, was driving with Miss Bannon on Sheridan Road when he lost his hat in the wind. He stopped and ran back half a block to retrieve it.

As he was returning two men leaped into the car and drove away with Miss Bannon. For five hours thereafter police sought the young woman. It was nearly 2 o'clock this morning when the doorbell rang at the Sherman house and Miss Bannon was found, in a collapse, at the door.

She told what happened after her escort's hat blew off.

"I looked around at a sudden noise and there stood two men, one on either side of the car. Before I could cry out they were sitting beside me. One pressed a revolver against my side.

"'We're stickup men,' one said. 'We want you for a blind so the cops won't stop us. Just do what we tell you and we won't harm you.'

"Before Mr. Sherman could reach us we sped away, one of the men driving. They told me they got their revolver from an Evanston policeman they held up Tuesday night."

(Albert Carr, Evanston policeman and winner of the Patten prize for police bravery, was robbed of his gun and his star Tuesday.)

"I begged them to let me out, but they kept saying they wouldn't hurt me. They said they had a lot of places to rob.

"Finally they told me to drive. Soon we passed two women on the sidewalk. The men started to get out to rob them, but I screamed. The women, becoming alarmed, screamed and ran. The men got back into the car.

"They didn't get mad at me, though. Just told me to keep on driving. Out somewhere, I don't know where, they robbed a car."

The robbers drove on, Miss Bannon said, robbed the occupants of another car, and would have held up several shopkeepers, she said, except for her pleas to them not to. Finally they put her out of the car and drove away.

There were 175 deaths recorded during the first quarter of this year, only four of which were of Canadian policyholders. Last year during the same period there were 144.

ARCH DEL RECUERDO (The Arch of Memory)—a broken arch that speaks the story of broken romance. Once upon a time hardriding men loitered here, sitting like centaurs in their emblazoned saddles of Cordovan leather. And dreamers looked out upon sea-vistas that lured them to the magical Orient. Now the tides have turned and it is the Malibu that lures Cathay.—JOHN STEVEN McGROARTY.

Drive out Beverly, Wilshire, Santa Monica or Pico Blvd. to the Ocean, then just eight miles to the right around the bay brings you to Rancho Malibu la Costa.

IT would be unjust to confuse Rancho Malibu la Costa with a mere real estate development.... Southern California has waited more than a decade for this opportunity.... RAILROADS ACT TO AID FARMERS

Hoover Wish Carried Out in Plan to Reduce Rates

Executives of Eastern Lines Announce Slashes

Idea Adopted to Help Move Surplus Grain Crops

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—A farm-relief plan consisting of reduced freight rates on grain was adopted today by presidents and traffic executives of eastern railroads at the suggestion of the Hoover administration.

The purpose of the reduction, a statement issued after the meeting said, is to assist farmers in disposing of the surplus grain left over from last season before the new crops are placed upon the market.

"Consideration was given to the emergency in agriculture," the statement added, "caused by the great accumulation of grain on farms and in elevators in the West. This grain, together with the abnormally large crop maturing and which soon will be ready for market, must meet the competition of the unusually large carryover and production in foreign countries, with consequent lowering of the price level in the principal markets of the world."

SUBJECT TO APPROVAL

Subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the railroad representatives decided to lower the freight rate on export grain from Buffalo to the North Atlantic seaboard 2 cents a bushel, decrease the rail reshipping rate from Chicago to New York from 22½ cents per 100 pounds to 17 cents and lower the rate between St. Louis and New York from 26½ cents per 100 pounds to 20 cents.

HOOVER WISH RESPECTED

After the decision was announced, it was stated at the White House that Secretary Hyde of the Department of Agriculture and Secretary Lamont of the Commerce Department have been active in attempting to obtain lower rates from the eastern carriers with the approval of President Hoover.

W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, conferred with Mr. Hoover late today and later issued a statement saying the eastern railroads have been "largely guided by the wishes of the President and the Cabinet."

DEBENTURE PLAN PRAISED BY FRIENDS

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—With a vote in sight on the disputed export debenture plan, the Senate today heard that proposal defended as the only avenue for higher farm prices and the farm-relief bill in which it is included attacked as "a dressed-up scheme" to satisfy campaign slogans.

The debenture section was supported by Senators Norbeck, Republican, South Dakota, and Connally, Democrat, Texas, while Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, assailing the whole bill, described the debenture plan as an unworkable proposition destined to involve the farmer in governmental red tape.

The New York Senator, asserting a right to discuss the farm problem because his State ranks first as a consumer and taxpayer, proposed a huge government corporation which would be charged directly with handling crop surpluses. He contended the charge has been made that co-operative associations have not been successful and it would be folly to have these associations attempt to handle the surplus situation.

Curtis Quotes Rule to Heflin

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—During an attack today upon Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, was warned by Vice-President Curtis that a Senate rule prohibited a member from referring to a colleague in "an uncomplimentary manner," and the Alabaman was cut short in a statement about Jones.

FOCH TALKS

By COMMANDANT BUGNET

Aide-de-camp to the late Marshal Foch

VI.

"It is a bad thing to change horses, especially in midstream." The marshal loved this proverb and applied it. He kept his colleagues as long as he could.

In selecting them he examined their proofs more than their promises. He quickly weighed up those who were thrust upon him by the accident of appointment or the exigencies of command. In both cases it was by their work that he considered them.

What he asked of them was efficient service and performance of duty. That was all he would take into account if any occasion arose. With everyone in the service he was exacting, even severe, but just.

PRIDE IN MEN

With what pride the marshal declared: "Weygand, Desticker and Georges—those are the three men we have brought out during the war, and we have not been mistaken in them.

"Weygand! He is a wonderful executive who understands everything and has, moreover, an extraordinarily clear and accurate memory and a consuming energy. At the end, when I left the reins to him, I was sure he would do what I should have done myself. We were the inseparables.

"So with Desticker and Georges. With them my mind was at ease. They could see and understand. I sent them out and they brought me back their reports."

FORGETS SELF

As for Gen. Weygand, his character and personality were strongly marked, although it was his utter forgetfulness of self which enabled him to rise nearer to the level of his chief and thus render to him and to his country services of inestimable worth.

Possessing the highest conception of his faculties as chief of the General Staff, he determined to remain himself while subordinating himself to his chief. Once the chief had spoken, his only concern was the execution of that decision, for which he knew that a complete abandonment of his own opinion was indispensable.

MUTUAL RESPECT

This absolute submission, while springing from a recognition of superiority which one cannot but admire, bears no resemblance to that sycophancy which the marshal could not have endured.

So between these two men grew up innumerable ties, binding them by a community of thought and feeling, by an identity of purpose and method. Yet att hesimetime each retained his own personality.

To realize the relations between them it was enough to see Gen. Weygand talking with the marshal, or to hear the marshal speak of Weygand. The terms used were ordinary, but their intonation gave them a special significance: "How young he looks! . . . There is something formidable about him, such enegy!" . . . and his face lights up; there is pride, enthusiasm and warmth in his voice.

TRANSFORMS IDEAS

Nothing please the marshal more than praise of his C.G.S. "Quite true!" he would agree, as if to elicit further eulogies. And how pleased he was to give details and reminiscenses when questioned about their association!

"Did you know Gen. Weygand before the war?"

"Not at all. . . . Or, at least, only so far as an army corps commander knows an officer in one of his regiments of whom he has heard excellent reports. I think I had never spoken to him. He was sent to me.

"From the beginning I took him with me all the time, instead of keeping him on paper work, and I told him everything. At night, when I was going to bed, he was still working, translating my ideas into definite instructions.

KNEW ALL VIEWS

"With his astonishing intelligence, memory and power of work, at the end of three months he knew all my views. . . . And we were never apart. That is not the usual method of work for a C.G.S., but it is the best. He can express my views as well as I should have done myself. . . . In 1922, at the time of the Bolshevik successes, when the President said to me, 'We must send somebody to Poland,' I replied, 'Send Weygand. He will do what I should. I will go later if necessary.'

COMRADES PART

On April 30, 1923, all the members of the Inter-Allied Military Committee and many Poles came to the Gare De l'Est to say farewell to the marshal. By general consent they left Gen. Weygand to talk with the marshal. They walked to and fro along the platform beside the train.

There followed a moment of keen emotion. The two inseparable colleagues were parting—one for Warsaw, the other shortly for Beirut.

Gen. Weygand is rather pale and is chewing a cigar. The marshal is gloomy and absorbed. At this moment of parting nothing seems to exist for him but the presence of Weygand. It is farewell to his most intimate colleague, his most devoted disciple, his best friend! He embraces him, kissing him affectionately on each cheek. He boards the train, but remains on the footboard and leans toward him: "Remember what I said to you just now."

MARSHAL TOUCHED

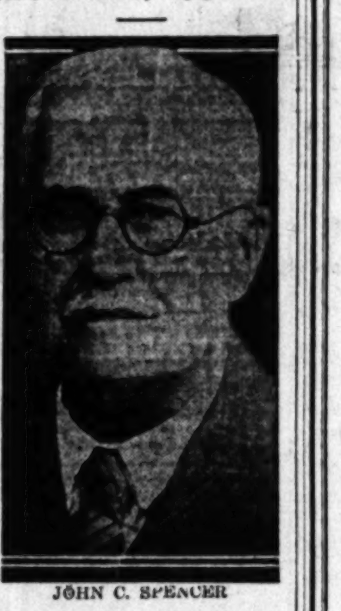
Standing in the frame of the door, waiting for the train to start, he remains sad and silent, but still thinking of some last word of advice, which he throws to Weygand in disjointed phrases, while the general listens with respect and approves: "Be strong . . . alertness . . . variety of resources . . . Roll yourself up into a ball . . . like a porcupine and then get to work! Eh?" . . . Each word is punctuated by a determined gesture.

The train is on the point of leaving. The marshal comes down a step, leans over Weygand, keeps his gaze fixed upon him; he seems to be smiling at him, but with a superficial smile to hide the profound pain which the separation causes him. The train starts. One last word. But in what a tone! "My dear Weygand."

(In his next article Commandant Bugnet gives Marshal Foch's story of the first battle of the Marne.)

Spencer Takes Sargon on Long Trip to Florida

The following enthusiastic statement was made by John C. Spencer of 498 Sixty-third avenue, West Allis, Milwaukee, who for thirty years was actively engaged in the commercial and civic life of that city, but who recently retired from active business to devote more time to his real estate holdings in West Allis, Wis., and Florida. Mr. Spencer has lived in Milwaukee forty-five years, is well known and highly esteemed. He said:



JOHN C. SPENCER

"I am leaving for Florida in a few days and will take four bottles of Sargon with me. I don't intend to be without this wonderful medicine.

"For the past year I have been in wretched health, suffering from rheumatism and other troubles on account of an inactive liver, principally. I lost weight rapidly and my strength was ebbing away. I was constantly troubled by indigestion and constipation.

"I felt a marked improvement after my first few doses of Sargon. Three bottles put me in wonderful condition. My appetite is splendid now, my digestion is sound. I have gained ten pounds and my strength has returned in proportion. I'm going to continue the treatment, of course, for I wouldn't be without Sargon."

The avalanche of evidence both from druggists and users proves beyond question that Sargon is one of the greatest health-giving remedies of the age. Among the grateful thousands who have given the medicine their unqualified public indorsement are Governors, United States Senators, state legislators, well known state and county officials, leading educators and Ministers of the Gospel.

Never before has a medicine aroused such public interest and the demand for it has reached unprecedented proportions. Hundreds of Los Angeles people are daily consulting the Special Sargon Representative at the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Broadway, to learn first hand about this revolutionary new formula. Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities. — [Advertisement.

Klein Speaks Before National Chamber

Individualism Goal Upheld for Commerce

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Opposition to governmental interference with business was voiced today by Dr. Julius Klein, assistant Secretary of Commerce, in an address before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"The United States," he said, "has set its face definitely toward the goal of business individualism, supplemented by associated and cooperative effort which in turn is supplemented by governmental [illegible]

"We favor industrial self-regulation except where monopoly perils are so apparent or public interest so large that unrestricted private control is not feasible.

"We believe that business, acting on its own initiative, and guided by the standards it makes for itself, should be free of bureaucratic interference."

Dr. Klein said the United States Chamber of Commerce represents the "apex of that association movement which has accomplished so much in keeping this country relatively free from governmental paternalism so that the course of business—its standards of ethics and control—rests in the hands of business men themselves."

He declared the Department of Commerce "is alive to the individualistic philosophy of the American business man and stands shoulder to shoulder with the United States Chamber of Commerce in preventing the encroachment of government on business in any activity with which it is legitimately concerned."

Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee, in opposing a resolution today before the chamber, which advocated repeal of the national origins provision, recommended that all immigration into the United States be suspended indefinitely.

He declared that "the public wants no more immigration," and that 80 per cent of all the present members of the House "were elected with the idea of more restriction of immigration."

BALM SUIT BLACKMAIL, MRS. KENNEDY ASSERTS

SEATTLE, May 2. (AP)—Mrs. Minnie E. Kennedy today answered the $50,000 breach of promise suit brought against her by Rev. H. H. Clark in Superior Court here with the charge that the minister's complaint was "merely one of the instruments used by the plaintiff in carrying out a preconceived plan of blackmail and extortion."

Clark's action was instituted, the answer said, "by serving defendant with false and malicious charges with the purpose of intimidating defendant and her daughter (Aimee Semple McPherson) into paying plaintiff to prevent," filing of the suit.

Clark, and not Mrs. Kennedy, was the aggressor in the acquaintance of the pair, the answer said, and Mrs. Kennedy was motivated entirely by sympathy for the minister's "destitute circumstances." Mrs. Kennedy admitted that she bought opera tickets and meals for the minister, but declared that all "conferences," between the pair were to discuss means of putting Clark on his feet.

IRON FIST GRIPS PRESS OF ITALY

Supreme Commission Named on Discipline

Editors Declared Subject to Control

Newspapers Consecrated to Fascist Regime

ROME, May 2. (Exclusive)—Completing the Fascist organization for disciplining and controlling the press, Minister of Justice Rocco has installed a new control body which is to be called the Supreme Press Commission. This body is composed of a dozen noted Italian journalists who, according to Sig. Rocco, will "comprise a superior court to adjust all that affects the disciplining of the journalistic profession."

This new body is an official organ of the state, explained Sig. Rocco, saying:

"Fascism has purged journalism of its bad elements. Before the advent of Fascism journalism was an irresponsible and outlaw profession. While other professions had some criterion and control, journalism—the most arduous of professions—was open to the most incompetent and irresponsible persons. The directors and editors of newspapers must be subject to the same control as doctors and lawyers," Sig. Cocco recommends the Fascists' reforms to other countries.

Ermanno Amicucci, head of the syndicate of Fascist journalists and member of the new supreme commission, carried Sig. Rocco's thesis on the new Fascist journalism even further, declaring that under Benito Mussolini's guidance Fascism has destroyed the "false idea of the freedom of the press and the equally erroneous idea about the press being the fourth estate, and substituted for it the idea that journalism is consecrated exclusively to the Fascist regime."

PHONE INQUIRY BALLYHOO ENDS

Definite Action by State Forced by Merriam

Move Halts Agitation for Memorial to Congress

Proposed Bill Provides for $150,000 Appropriation

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (Exclusive)—The noisy campaign for an investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company as a publicity stunt for United States Senator Johnson came to an abrupt end today as the result of definite action to inquire into telephone rates taken by Senator Merriam of Long Beach.

Senator Merriam proposes the introduction of a bill creating a commission of nine, with an appropriation of $150,000 from the State treasury, to investigate the companies in California. The commission is to be made up of three Senators, three Assemblymen and three to be appointed by Gov. Young.

RESOLUTION DOWNED

Some weeks ago the San Francisco delegation in the Assembly introduced a resolution calling for the Legislature to memorialize Congress to support Senator Johnson's investigation scheme. The Assembly scented some easy political propaganda for Senator Johnson and turned the resolution down three times.

Next it popped up over in the Senate, sponsored by Senator Inman of Sacramento. At the meeting of the Federal Relations Committee this morning Senator Inman appeared to press his resolution. In his argument he brought out the resolution of the Los Angeles City Council asking for a State appropriation of $150,000 for a State investigation.

RESPONSIBILITY ON STATE

"Your resolution is nothing but an idle gesture, Senator," said Merriam.

"It will accomplish nothing and Congress will ignore it. Now if you are really serious will you support a measure calling for this $150,000 from the State?"

Senator Inman, who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and unofficial floor leader for the Governor, was in a corner and had to agree that he would. The bill, if adopted in both houses, will go to the Governor to sign and if any heads are broken during the investigation the injured parties will hold the State administration responsible.

SOUTHLAND PAYING BAY REGION'S DEFICIT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (Exclusive)—Telephone users in Los Angeles and at other Southern California points are making up for a loss of revenue in San Francisco and the Bay region by paying rates large enough to bring the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company a return of 8 per cent on the sum representing its total investment in the State.

This declaration was made today by Lester S. Ready, in charge of the Railroad Commission's investigation into the telephone company's application for a $7,000,000 local increase in rates. Ready produced a set-up of figures showing the investment and income of the telephone company over the entire State. The figure at which he estimated the total holdings of the company is $264,150,000 computed on the basis of reproduction cost new. Total income for 1928 was $73,011,562 and net revenue $20,603,214.

"In previous exhibits you showed the combined earnings of San Francisco and the East Bay to have been 2.05 per cent in 1928," Commissioner Decoto stated. "You also showed that in order to earn 8 per cent here the revenue would have to be increased $2,579,198. If the Pacific and controlled companies earned 8 per cent in the entire State while San Francisco and the East Bay earned only 2.05 per cent then some part of California is making up the difference."

"It is obvious that if San Francisco and the East Bay failed by $2,579,198 to earn 8 per cent the balance of the State made up the rest," Ready answered.

Ready's figures disagree with those submitted by the telephone company already on file with the commission, in which the company holds that its rate of return for Southern California is between 5 and 6 per cent.

The hearing was adjourned to the 14th inst.

Bishop Denies Lobbying Charge Against Church

LINCOLN (Neb.) May 2. (AP)—Bishop William F. McDowell of Washington issued a denial here today of "lobbying" charges made by Senator Copeland against the Methodist Episcopal board of temperance, prohibition and morals. Bishop McDowell is president of the board.

"The board does not maintain and lobby, doesn't have any lobbying fund and does not spend money for that purpose," he declared.

"We do not actively support any candidate for public office as a Republican or a Democrat. We do keep records of public men on questions of temperance and morals and when asked concerning the position of any individual we show the questioner that person's record.

"We do not attempt to discourage votes for any candidate but confine our activities to exhibiting his record on request."

GIESSEN (Germany) May 2. (AP) Ferdinand Sauerbruch, surgeon, has evolved what is believed to be a successful treatment of tuberculosis of the skin by diet alone.

He has not formally announced the cure, but the results of eighteen months' experimentation with 150 patients has shown a diet excluding meat and table salt and adding certain minerals to be highly successful.

SHIP LINE PLANS FASTER SERVICE

Hamburg-American Moves to Speed Up Vessels

Eight New Fast Carriers on Ways for Company

District Passenger Official Makes Announcement

BY WALDO DRAKE

First steps of the Hamburg-American Line's plan to maintain a fifteen-knot service with its European-Pacific refrigerator-passenger fleet, were announced yesterday by William P. Montague, district passenger agent. Eight new passenger and freight ships now building in Germany for Hamburg-American services will be powered with the eight steam turbines to be removed from the four trans-Atlantic liners of the Albert Ballin type, which are in turn to be higher powered, and two of the ships under construction will be allocated to the Pacific Coast-North Europe run.

These are the 11,000-ton ships Tacoma and Vancouver, larger additions to the four Los Angeles-type motorliners now plying in the trade, it being planned to replace them ultimately with a uniform fifteen-knot fleet. The fifth motorship, the Oakland, to arrive here in November on her maiden voyage, will have a fifteen-knot service speed, as against thirteen and one-half knots for her four sisters now in service.

Of the other six ships to be equipped with the turbines from the Albert Ballins, four, the Harz, Eifel, Spessart and Taunus, will be operated in Dutch East Indian trade; while the remaining two, the Stassfurt and Bitterfeld, will operate to Australia. The Harz and Taunus are of 10,000 tons, the others displacing 11,000 tons.

ARMY CABLE SHIP TO LAY DEFENSE PROJECT

To lay a series of fire-control cables as part of the coast defenses of Los Angeles, the Army cable ship Dellwood arrived last night from Seattle and this morning will begin work on the project, to occupy the Dellwood and her crew for the next ten days between Points Vincente and Fermin.

The work will be under the direction of Maj. C. P. Gross, United States District Engineer. Maj. Gross also announced yesterday that bids on the government's project of deepening and widening the perimeter of the West Basin will be opened in his Los Angeles office on the 25th inst.

The Los Angeles Steamship Company yesterday announced a special low-fare excursion between Los Angeles Harbor and San Francisco aboard the liner Yale on the 10th inst., celebrating the eighth anniversary of Lassco's coastwise express service, which was established in May, 1921, by the Yale, with her sister, the Harvard, following a few weeks later.

The low fare of $10 applies to inside staterooms aboard the Yale northbound, and returning either on the Yale from San Francisco on the 11th inst., or aboard the Harvard, southbound, on the 14th.

Similar low rates have also been announced by the Pacific Steamship Company for the liner H. F. Alexander, effective from San Francisco the 9th inst., and from Los Angeles Harbor, the 10th., with return limit the 15th inst.

Capt. Robert E. Judson, popular skipper of the Panama Mail liner Colombia, who is enjoying a two-months' vacation shoreside, yesterday returned to San Francisco aboard the Lassco liner Harvard after a fortnight spent with friends in Southern California.

Capt. Ralph McKinnon last night took the Luckenbach liner Harry Luckenbach out for the north after having discharged 4200 tons of Gulf cargo here; the big freighter having come out from New Orleans in the record time of thirteen days and fourteen hours.

The Paul Luckenbach is due in this morning to discharge 3200 tons from New York, Philadelphia and Boston. Tomorrow, the K. I. Luckenbach will put in from the north to load out 1500 tons for the North Atlantic.

Judge James A. Ostrand, justice of the Supreme Court of the Philippines, will be among the cabin passengers to arrive next Sunday from the Orient aboard the Dollar trans-Pacific liner President Lincoln. Others include H. E. Rae, executive of the Standard Oil Company of Kongkong, returning here on furlough; Raphael Z. Levi, an official of the Richfield Oil Company's China agencies, coming home on leave, and Charles F. Brown, managing director of the Raymond & Whitcomb Company of New York.

CRAIL TO PUSH BUILDING BILL

Course on Federal Structure for City Explained

Action Will be Sought at Next Congress Session

Treasury Recommendation Declared Inadequate

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Representative Crail, Republican, California, said today he plans to push action at the next regular session of Congress on his bill to authorize an expenditure of $8,000,000 for a new Federal building at Los Angeles. He introduced the measure yesterday.

The Treasury Department recommended that $5,000,000 be appropriated for such a structure, but Crail said $5,000,000 is needed for a building alone, and a site in the proposed municipal center in Los Angeles probably would cost $3,000,000.

"Los Angeles now has a Federal Building that was constructed when the population was 100,000," Crail said. "The population now is 1,500,000 and prospects are for a city of 2,500,000.

"Great facilities are needed for Federal government activities in Los Angeles. The old building should be retained for Federal courts, while the new building should be erected to contain the postoffice, branch offices of the Internal Revenue Bureau, the Veterans' Bureau, Immigration Service and the departments of Agriculture and Commerce."

VOICE FILM SLANG IRKSOME

British Paper Fears Effect on Young England of "Vermont Accent" in American Pictures

[Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times.]

LONDON, May 2. (Exclusive)—A new aspect of the American talking film invasion will be raised shortly in Commons by Sir John Sandeman Allen, Conservative, who intends to ask the president of the Board of Education whether his department will co-operate with film censors in "exercising vigilance over film sound and speech." An Evening News editorial says no more important question has been presented to educational authorities for a long time.

"We never have subscribed to the full doctrines of orthographical purists, believing rather that a language is enriched by the slang of the generation becoming the orthodox English of the next, but it is another when the young of one nation seem on the eve of spending the most impressionable hours on their lives listening to the pronounced accent and often crude colloquialisms of another," says the editorial.

"The newspaper has no complaint against slang introduced in film subtitles.

"American film title slang is frankly and gloriously slang, not slipshod or vulgar, but of vitality and humor. 'Talkies,' however, present a very different problem. Our children will listen to drama after drama wherein the performers, whether impersonating English peers, Russian spies, Roman soldiers or South Sea islanders will deliver themselves in the accents of Vermont or Kansas.

"Americans write English as well as we do. The trouble is they do not talk English as we want our children to talk it. But there is also to be considered the purely American crook film which will in effect become an American play. Can our children listen to two or three of these weekly without taking unto themselves the diction and ultimately, perhaps, the mentality of the Chicago underworld or Charleston water front? Clearly something will have to be done if young England is to remain young England."

According to railroad officials, he was on duty as a flagman to warn motorists that the railroad signal wire was stretched across the street.

WOMEN WAGING PEACE CRUSADE

British Candidates Receive Questionnaire

Full Power of 2,500,000 Votes Back Move

American Groups Support Work of Campaign

LONDON, May 2. (AP)—Strong in the power of a voting majority of 2,500,000 British women are waging a great peace crusade throughout the country to make international peace an election issue.

"Make the Kellogg pact a reality," is their slogan, and their two fold object is to focus the attention of women voters on the question of international peace and to impress on parliamentary candidates of all parties that those who represent women in the law-making body shall also be peace-makers.

Twenty-eight of the important women's organizations in Great Britain are co-operating with the women's peace crusade and a similar group of American women's societies, headed by the conference on the cause and cure of war, and the Young Women's Christian Association is giving the British women support in their campaign.

NATIONAL CRUSADE

A highly efficient organization is spread throughout the country under seventy-five centralized crusade committees representing all the local women's societies at work in Great Britain. More than 600 meetings and public demonstrations already have been held.

Parliamentary meetings, dinner-hour meetings for factory girls and special meetings for the new young women voters are among the special campaign features.

The chief line of action is the presentation of a questionnaire on foreign policy to all parliamentary candidates by women's deputations from their constituencies. Their replies in every case are to be published in the local papers.

QUESTIONS ASKED

The questions are as follows:

(1.) Kellogg Pact: Seeing that in signing the Kellogg Pact we have renounced war as an instrument of national policy, will you urge that this principle should be strictly observed in every dispute with other countries without reservation?

(2.) Optional clause: Will you vote and speak in favor of Great Britain signing the optional clause of the statute establishing the permanent court of international justice, by which she would bind herself to take to the court any justifiable dispute which cannot otherwise be peacefully settled?

(3.) Pacific settlement of international disputes: Will you vote and speak in favor of the British government accepting the obligation to settle all international disputes by peaceful means?

DISARMAMENT URGED

(4.) Disarmament: Will you urge the government to insist at the preparatory disarmament commission that reduction as well as limitation of all armaments is required of all members of the League, and to make definite proposals for this purpose? Will you do all in your power to urge the calling of the international disarmament conference in 1929?

(5.) Evacuation of the Rhine: Are you in favor of the immediate evacuation of the Rhineland, seeing that in Article II of the Pact of Paris we have undertaken not to seek settlement of international dispute except by peaceful means?

LEADERS JOIN

The women's peace crusade is headed by Lady Acland, chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Pethick-Lawrence, honorary treasurer.

Among the well-known women supporting the movement are Lady Astor, M. P., Mrs. Corbett Ashby, Mrs. Curtis Brown, president of the American Women's Club, London, Miss Margaret Bondfield, M.P., Viscountess Cecil, Dame Margaret Lloyd George, Viscountess Gladstone, Miss Ellen Wilkinson, M.P., Mrs. Philip Snowden, Lady Balfour of Burleigh, Lady Clare Assesley and Lady Violet Bonham Carter.

BRITISH CAR MAKERS FRET

Increasing Flood of American Autos Causes Manufacturers to Seek New Tariff

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 2. (Exclusive)—American motor car competition is worrying British manufacturers. The increasing flood of American cars, not only in England, but also in the British dominions, is hitting the British industry hard. Manufacturers here are insistently demanding that the government step in with more protective assistance.

An appeal for a consistent tariff policy regarding British cars in order that the manufacturers here may have a definite period of security to lay down their plans for increased production, was issued tonight in a lengthy manifesto from the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders under the signature of leading automobile industrialists including Sir Herbert Austin and Sir William Morris, the English counterpart of the American Henry Ford.

The signatories ask that they be given the chance to beat the American manufacturers, declaring, "If we could feel security by an increase in duties and some real safeguard against what in many cases amounts indirectly if not directly to the dumping of American production, in particular in the empire market, we believe that we could provide British motor transport for the empire both better and cheaper than any other country not excluding America."

The manifesto draws an unfavorable comparison between British and American production estimating that the American output will reach the colossal figure of 5,000,000 cars a year. "American efforts are being made to find an export market for no less than 1,000,000 cars and trucks—a figure nearly twice the estimated total output of all the other countries of the world put together."

The manifesto demands the removal of the motor vehicle tax, which is regarded as the greatest handicap manufacturers face here, also government road construction and finance, which would tend to relieve unemployment.

Tulare Hens Break Record

VISALIA, May 2.—Instead of the customary two eggs served as part of the popular "ham and" order so common in the United States, those who feed the hungry may, in the not too-far distant future, dare to serve just one "and" without fear of wrath of the eater, if hens of Visalia district continue their production performances.

Apparently the "biddies" of this section have decided to show the world that "bigger and better" is not just a slogan for chambers of commerce and other organizations, but may well apply to their own popular product.

H. H. Cross of 819 West Center street reports that a Rhode Island hen in his flock provided him with an egg measuring 7 3-4 by 6 1-4 inches. This is the sixth extra size egg produced by this hen in the past few months. Mr. Cross is extremely proud of this member of his flock.

But, a hen in the flock of Fred Hunsucker has even a better record. This hen laid an egg measuring 9 3-4 by 8 3-8 inches.

It weighed eight ounces.

BABY BEAR GREETED BY TRAVELERS

Papa and Mama Bear Not So Pleased But Son Finds Human Friends Generous

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK, May 2.—Motorists on the road to Big Fern a few days ago wondered what the traffic jam was all about, yet when they discovered Papa Bear, Mama Bear and Baby Bear holding an informal reception in the middle of the road, they did not mind waiting their turn to greet them.

Baby Bear was considerably pleased with the attention shown him, especially with the titbits proffered by several travelers. In fact, he stayed until he was sure no more were coming.

Mama Bear and Papa Bear, however, were not so much thrilled with the advent of their human visitors, such experiences being a bit passe after seeing several hundred thousand during their residence in this park. With considerable dignity they withdrew to a distance and waited for their unsophisticated son, who may be forgiven for his lack of ceremony with strangers, as he is but a yearling. Many pictures were taken of Baby Bear.

Papa and Mama Bear were not just indifferent, perhaps, but no doubt rather wise, remembering the fate that sometimes befalls bears who become too friendly. It is against park rules for anyone but the keeper to feed the bears, but many visitors cannot resist their appeal as frequently the bears are very tame.

However, when they proceed to sneak the ham or sugar off someone's camp table later in the season, or grab for the beefsteak some brave person offers, making a slip and digging their claws instead into a bit of human anatomy, that's a different story.

County Mutual Fire Insurance Group Convenes

FRESNO, May 2.—With accredited delegates present from twenty-one of the twenty-four counties represented in the association, the twenty-eighth annual convention of the State Association of County Mutual Fire Insurance Companies opened here today. Supervisor Chris Jorgensen of Fresno county is president of the association. The opening session was devoted largely to routine reports, among them those of the secretary and treasurer by Fred C. Cromer of Los Angeles. Mayor Leymel welcomed the group and the response was voiced by Oscar Smith of Santa Barbara.

Jorgensen named the following convention committees: Nominating, A. A. Anderson, Hilmar; N. H. Fugelsang, Fresno, and F. C. Rowland, Orange county; credentials, W. C. Hanawald, Kern county, E. M. Morrow, Stanislaus county, and Cromer, Los Angeles county; resolutions, M. L. Clauson, Humboldt county, E. F. Wolever, Riverside county, Joseph Holes, Sacramento county; publicity, Oscar Smith, Santa Barbara county, Comer, Los Angeles county, and H. O. Nordstrom, Fresno county.

Pastor Denies Asserted Plot to Sell Stock

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—A denial of having had any part in an asserted conspiracy to sell Fremont Grant, Inc., stock, was entered in Supreme Court today by Rev. Dr. Fenwicke Holmes, pastor of the First Church of Divine Science.

Dep. Atty.-Gen. William Millholland had applied for an injunction restraining Dr. Holmes and his brother, William; A. Carr, a broker, and Fremont Grant, Inc., a holding company organized for the development of mines in Mariposa county, California, from selling further stock in the company.

The complaint asserts that Fenwicke Holmes and William Holmes were "teaching metaphysical healing for the mind as well as material prosperity for their followers."

Resignation of Stalin Denied

MOSCOW, May 2. (AP)—Reports published in the United States that Joseph Stalin, general secretary of central committee of the Communist party in Russia, had resigned his post and that he was ill were stated authoritatively today to have no foundation in fact.

LION KILLS SHEEP

CAMP NELSON, May 2.—A mountain lion has been preying upon domestic animals of this section, several sheep being killed near Coffee Camp. N. H. Leggett, big-game hunter, brought his favorite lion-hunting dog and tried to find the animal, but the trail had grown too cold and the lion is still at large.

Greater-than-ever RANCHO SANTA FE

A NEW year has begun at Rancho Santa Fe, 3 hours down the Coast from Los Angeles. It gives greater promise than ever before, to all who would flee the city and live as nature intended.

Air is laden with the scent of orange blossoms. Native shrubbery is abloom on the hillsides. Everywhere flowers are growing as only flowers can grow in San Diego County. The bright green carpet of the new golf course stretches for nearly two miles through the heart of the enlarged project. Bridle paths invite you through natural parks and landscaped country estates to the mountains on one side or the ocean on the other.

There are many new homes since you visited Rancho Santa Fe, crowning majestic hilltops or tucked away in the protective seclusion of swaying eucalyptus groves, or looking down the fairways.

Rancho Santa Fe is going ahead, gloriously fulfilling the vision of the original plan. Never has it offered more to the lover of nature's beauties than now. Never has there been such an alluring prospect of contentment.

Lazy breezes drift in from semi-tropical seas to give climatic comfort. Ocean currents keep the temperature more even than anywhere else in California. Seven mountain ranges defy desert winds.

Millions have been invested in basic improvements, in citrus and avocado groves and in beautiful Spanish homes. At Rancho Santa Fe Village stores, school, hotel, garage, etc., meet all family needs. Wise restrictions adequately protect your investment. Here you can live in absolute freedom from traffic congestion and other vexations of city life. Here you can bring up your children in a wholesome environment, away from the city's sophistication.

A large variety of estates is available at extremely moderate prices. Acreage suitable for planting sub-tropical orchards. Residential sites ranging from less than an acre to several acres in woodland settings and on picturesque ridges with impressive views of mountains, ocean, golf course and colorful mesas. Paved roads and underground electric lines serve a large group of Golf Course Estates.

Visit Rancho Santa Fe. La Morada provides excellent accommodations. Phone Rancho Santa Fe 2531 for reservations. Meanwhile, send coupon for illustrated booklet.

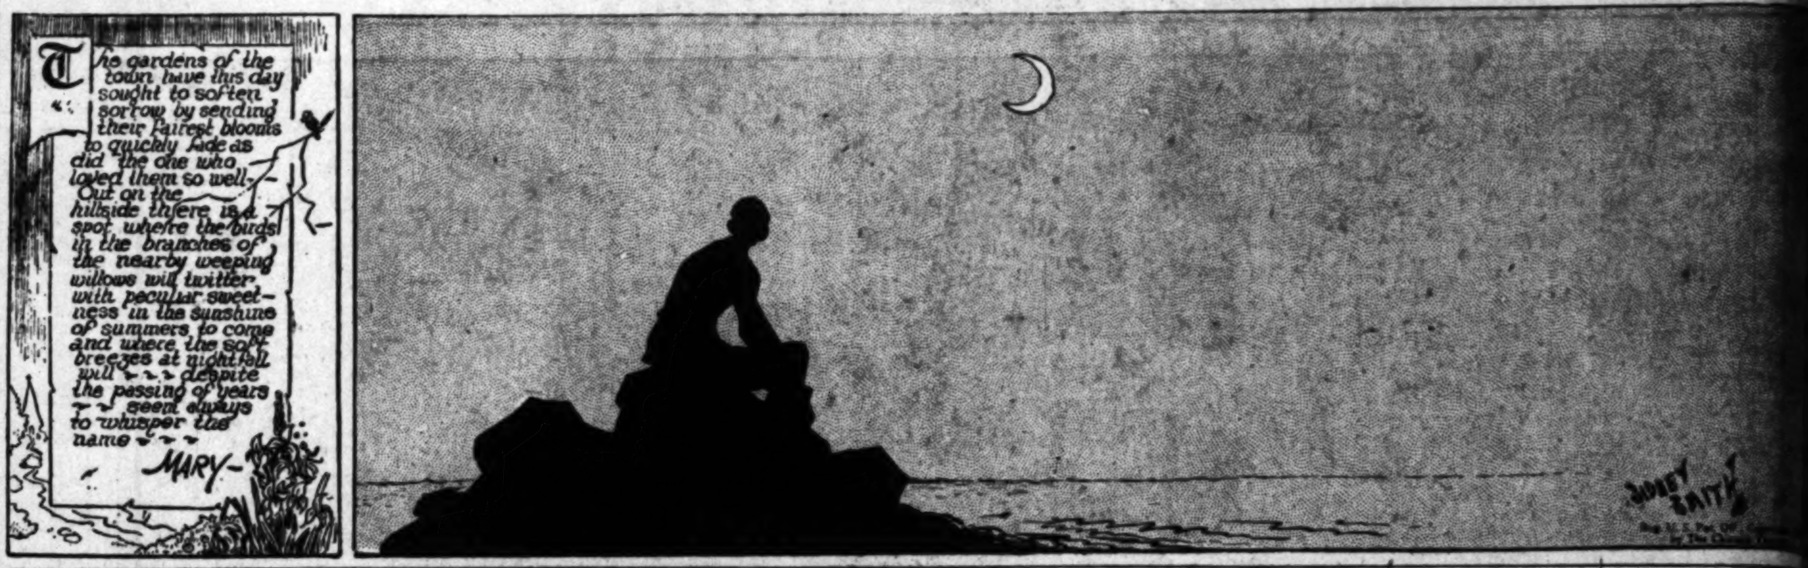
By Sidney S



The gardens of the town have this day sought to soften sorrow by sending their fairest blooms to quickly fade as did the one who loved them so well. Out on the hillside there is a spot where the birds in the branches of the nearby weeping willows will twitter with peculiar sweetness in the sunshine of summers to come and where the soft breezes at nightfall will - - - despite the passing of years - - seem always to whisper the name - - -

Out of Dogs

Two business men were enjoying a spring holiday with a farmer friend. They expressed a desire to go shooting, and the farmer, although he was unable to accompany them, was kind enough to lend them guns and two dogs.

The two sportsmen, who had never fired a shot, set off and were heard blazing away. Within a short time one of them returned.

"Hallo!" cried the farmer. "Run out of ammunition, eh?"

"No," was the sad reply. "We want some more dogs."—[Answers.

POSTAL SURVEY PLEA DENIED

No Consolidation of Offices, Says Department

Los Angeles Ordered to Make Delivery of All Mail

Evans Brands Proposition Tempest in Teapot

GLENDALE, May 2.—Efforts of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to secure a survey of the postal situation in the metropolitan area with the object, as has been said, of bringing about the consolidation of independent offices with the Los Angeles postoffice, have failed, according to word received here today by L. H. Myers, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, from Congressman Evans of the Ninth District.

A delegation from the Los Angeles chamber, Evans states, presented the request for a survey to John F. Bartlett, first assistant Postmaster-General, who told them emphatically that no such survey as was proposed would be made. The Postoffice Department, according to Evans, had issued orders that mail addressed to Los Angeles shall be delivered to the addressee regardless of whether such addressee resides in the city of Los Angeles, or within the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles postoffice, either, or outside the city of Los Angeles.

"The department now orders the postoffice in Los Angeles, in the exercise of a little common sense, to forward these letters to whom they are addressed, instead of returning them to the sender with a notation that they were incorrectly addressed," Evans states, adding that the whole affair is a "tempest in a teapot that should cause no worry to outside communities."

Agent is Not Buying Land for Santa Fe

SOUTH PASADENA, May 2.—Asserting that he had not issued any statement to the press in verification or denial of the rumor that he is buying additional land for the Santa Fe Railroad in this city, J. B. Rogers, local real estate broker, today asked newspapers to correct an article that was printed on the 1st inst.

The article, published in three newspapers, including The Times, stated that Rogers "asserted he is buying for a syndicate, but declined to verify rumors that he is buying for the Santa Fe."

Grass Fires Run Firemen Ragged

VAN NUYS, May 2.—Fire-department officials here, connected with the Van Nuys fire station which serves a large part of San Fernando Valley, already are complaining that careless housewives and gardeners who within the last week have started damaging grass and brush fires. The firemen yesterday answered six such calls and [illegible] out on five.

Most of the fires are started by residents in various parts of the Van Nuys district and in areas adjoining. The blaze, as usual, starts with the burning of backyard rubbish. Winds next blow cinders into dry grass near by and a large blaze starts that only can be extinguished by firemen. In some cases houses or garages are in the path of the flames and are destroyed.

In one of the alarms today firemen were called to extinguish a blaze on a block on which are located the Lutheran, Christian and [illegible] churches. Prompt action averted what might have been a conflagration.

JAPANESE SCHOOL BOY IS ACCIDENT VICTIM

ANAHEIM, May 2.—Choice of a [illegible] swim instead of the sterner duties of classes at the Garden Grove High School resulted today in probably fatal injuries to Sam [illegible], [illegible] years of age, former Anaheim student, who received a skull fracture when the machine in which he was riding with two other students turned over near [illegible].

Bound to the Johnston-Wickett [illegible] at 11 o'clock, the hour his companions and a second carload of his fellows were to have gone for a swim, Saiki was keeping a tryst with death. Robert [illegible], 20, Santa Ana, and Kadjo [illegible], 11, Stanton, received but minor hurts in the accident.

The accident occurred when the speeding car struck a rut, the steering gear locking, according to the driver.

Thus it happened that while [illegible] machine load of boys waited at the appointed place near [illegible] for a swim a humble Japanese father and mother waited patiently at the hospital here for their son to regain consciousness.

[illegible]TAL NURSES ELECT OFFICERS

SANTA BARBARA, May 2.—Margaret [illegible] was elected president of the Santa Barbara County Nurses' Association at the annual meeting at St. Francis Hospital last night. Other officers were elected as follows: Mary Reuter, first vice-president; Susan Chauvel, second vice-president; Vita Greenlief, third vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Krebs, treasurer; Catherine Callahan, assistant secretary; Lucian M. Higgins, [illegible].

[illegible] Christy was elected to the board of directors. Alberta Perkins [illegible] retiring president.

VALENCIA SEASON OPENS

Orange County Packing Houses Make Ready to Handle Season's Record-Breaking Crop

ORANGE, May 2.—With the navel orange crop of the State nearly disposed of, preparations are under way to begin packing and shipping the Valencia crop of this district next week. According to L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, the greater number of houses of the exchange will begin operating Monday.

Houses will open with small forces which will be increased until full forces will be working the latter part of the month, it was said. It is estimated that from seventy-five to 100 cars will be shipped the first week. About a fourth of this number, it is expected, will be packed by the Santiago Orange Growers' Association, which is said to be the largest packing plant in the State handling oranges exclusively. R. E. Gross is manager of the house.

Houses to begin work next week include the Santiago Orange Growers' Association, Tustin Hills, Olive Heights, Villa Park Orchards, Irvine Valencia Growers, Golden West, the Consolidated Orange Growers and the Garden Grove Citrus Association.

The Valencia crop this year is a record one and will give employment to hundreds of workers in the county.

L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, will return this week from a trip through eastern and southern States, where he made an extensive survey of market conditions. He also visited Florida, to study citrus conditions there. Palmer has made no report of the result of his trip as yet, but will make a statement for publication in the near future, it was said at the exchange yesterday.

Colorado River is Life Saver for Imperial

IMPERIAL, May 2.—The extent to which Imperial and Yuma valleys are dependent on the Colorado River for their water supply was emphasized in the April report of Government Meteorologist James H. Gordon of Yuma, whose records show that the total rainfall in this desert region since January 1, 1928, was .63 of an inch. Since January 1 this year the downfall was .16 of an inch.

Gordon's report states that "full reports of snow cover over the Colorado drainage area on April 1 indicated a snow supply 25 to 30 per cent above normal. This same ratio probably is approximately for May 1 also." Discharge in the Colorado at Yuma gauge for the month of April amounted to 1,413,000 acre feet compared with a twenty-seven-year average for the month of 1,340,000 acre feet. This was the highest April discharge since 1917, according to the records kept at Yuma.

The report shows that temperatures during April in this region averaged 2.3 below normal, the highest 95 deg. on April 30. The lowest, 38 deg. on the 8th. Owing to the lack of rain during the past winter, the usual crop of wild flowers to be found along the desert highways in this region at this time of the year is absent this season.

Upland Boy Mayor for Day

UPLAND, May 2.—Wilbur Kauffman, Upland Junior High School student, will take over the duties as Mayor of Upland for one day, Saturday, having been elected to the high office by boys of the schools participating in Boys' Week activities.

Results of the election for juvenile city officials were announced today by William Andrews of the junior high-school faculty.

Other boys elected are: Four City Councilmen—Manley Rose, Norris Bigley, John Coe, Allen Buckwalter; Chief of Police, Everett Robinson; City Clerk, Don Benson; Treasurer, Amos Buckwalter; justice of peace, Carlos Ynostroza.

These officers appointed the following—Fire Chief, John Nicholson; health officer, Bertrant Nichols; City Engineer, Devon Francisco; building inspector, Peter Wilhelm; City Attorney, Dean Benton; traffic officer, Leamon Kearney; constables, Denzel Kearney, John Meek, Marvin Sommerfield.

Tomorrow the officers make an inspection of Upland business enterprises, and Saturday they rule the city.

FISHING POOR ON OPENING DAY

SANTA BARBARA, May 2.—Warm weather, high winds and too many fishermen conspired to make the opening of trout season in the county not exactly what it should have been.

Fishermen who started early or who found secluded nooks brought in fair-sized strings yesterday. Frank J. Pelch, trout fishing authority, explained the poor luck as being the outgrowth of warm weather. "The trout is a leery and wily fish," he said. "They prefer the cool shade of the rocks and overhanging trees and deep water to the tepid water of the surface of most of our streams on hot days.

"Too many fishermen, making noise and making their presence generally known to the trout, interfere with the luck. The high wind which has been blowing the past few days blew considerable food for the fish into the waters. Trout have to be hungry to bite right."

WOMEN SHOW FLOWERS

LA CRESCENTA, May 2.—The annual flower show of La Crescenta Woman's Club in the clubhouse, this year topped the success of the exhibits of last season. An old mission with its cactus garden, a display by Miss Kate Wright, attracted attention and comment. A wildflower display also drew much notice. About fifty women had flowers in the exhibit.

WOMAN REPULSES ATTACKER

Riverside Miss Escapes from Armed Man Who Attempted to Kidnap Her

RIVERSIDE, May 2.—An exhibition of courage and presence of mind last night by Miss A. Emmons, 241 St. Andrews Boulevard, saved her from an attempted kidnaping by a man believed by the police to be the same degenerate who has been active here for a number of weeks.

Miss Emmons was returning to her home, walking easterly on Fourth street, between Main and Orange, when the man confronted her.

Pressing a revolver to her side, he seized her wrist and ordered her to get into his car, a large blue sedan. Miss Emmons, screaming, jerked free and ran. Her assailant got into the automobile, the motor of which he had left running, and drove away.

Miss Emmons's description of her assailant tallies very closely with that given by Miss Grace Gibbs, a telephone operator who was the victim of a similar attack more than a month ago.

Miss Gibbs, returning to her home shortly after 9 o'clock, was forced to enter the man's automobile. In the course of a mad ride which included haphazard circling of the northern section of the city, Miss Gibbs managed to leap from the car and escape with severe bruises and cuts. Since then she has received threatening letters from an unknown person and police have been seeking to discover the identity of the assaulter, who is also believed to be the author of obscene and threatening letters received by a number of other young women and girls of the city. The man described by both Miss Emmons and Miss Gibbs is almost six feet tall and a heavy build. In each instance the man was bareheaded, wore a light shirt and dark trousers. Miss Emmons's assailant wore glasses and had a moustache, while Miss Gibbs's kidnaper was minus both these appurtenances.

The tactics pursued in each instance are very similar. Miss Emmons was asked the location of a certain address, while Miss Gibbs was asked the time of day.

Rancher Killed When Car Dives Into Canyon

SAN DIEGO, May 2. (AP)—Crushed in the wreckage of his automobile, when it rolled down a 300-foot canyon on the Bear Valley grade near Escondido yesterday afternoon, A. B. Dinwiddie, 55 years of age, a pioneer rancher of Bear Valley, was killed almost instantly.

Dinwiddie's machine started backward and hurtled down the steep embankment following a slight collision with another car, when they met at a place in the highway which is only about ten feet wide. The collision caused Dinwiddie's machine to start backward and over the brink. It took several workmen more than an hour to extricate Dinwiddie's body from the wreckage and get it to the top of the incline.

Dinwiddie is survived by his widow and three stepchildren.

Large Verdict is Awarded in Damage Suit

VENTURA, May 2.—One of the largest accident damage verdicts ever brought in the local Superior Court was awarded Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Carty this afternoon by a jury of which A. Louderbach of Oxnard was foreman. Carty and his wife were together awarded $22,500 from the Associated Oil Company and Harry Weldon, company driver, as the result of a collision which occurred between Carty's sedan and an oil company truck on the Wheeler's Hot Springs road a year ago.

Mrs. Doris Carty was awarded $20,000 personal damages. Edwin Carty was awarded $2500. for expenses incurrred and $1000 for the loss of the companionship of his wife. The jury was out an hour and a half.

The trial opened three days ago.

Blame Put on Truck Driver

PASADENA, May 2.—Negligence of a truck driver caused the accident Tuesday, in which a mail box, knocked from its moorings in an automobile crash, struck and fatally injured Mrs. Alzina Eaton of 543 North Raymond avenue, a Coroner's jury decided today.

According to the verdict the accident was due to carelessness of Herman C. Werk of 2012 East Washington street, whose truck collided with a touring car driven by Frank E. Reibold of 1395 Linda Vista avenue.

Struck by the truck at the intersection of Villa street and Raymond avenue, the touring car hit the mail box, hurling it against the elderly woman as she was in the act of mailing a package. Mrs. Eaton died two hours later at the Pasadena Hospital.

SPECIAL PAGEANT ATTRACTION

Fiesta Scene Feature of Ramona Play

Teresita Villegran
Premier Spanish dancer with Jose Arias Musical Group.

HEMET, May 2.—The vanguard of a big delegation of motorists who plan to make the visit to Hemet to view the concluding performances Saturday and Sunday of the seventh annual Ramona pageant the occasion for a week-end outing at famous resorts in the vicinity began to arrive here today from all parts of Southern California.

Hot springs and watering resorts from Temecula to Banning report advance reservations heavier than ever before for the final week-end of the presentation of the colorful play glorifying early California romance.

Since this year's attendance at the pageant has established new records, the cast of 200 players will celebrate by augmenting their presentations. Teresita Villegran, one of Jose Arias's troupe, featured dancer, and others taking part in the spectacular fiesta scenes will elaborate their parts with special numbers.

The play, which is a dramatization of Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal novel, "Ramona," has taken on the character of an open-air extravaganza this year through the introduction of special musical features and dances both in the drama itself and in interludes between the scenes.

The pageant is unique in that 90 per cent of the cast, headed by Dorise Schukow and Herbert Heyes, has appeared in more than three of the seven annual presentations to date.

Pioneer Ojai Woman Passes

OJAI, May 2.—Mrs. Inocencia Lopez Cota, a descendant of the old Lopez family, which once owned a large part of the Ojai Valley, died at the homestead late yesterday and will be buried in the Ojai Catholic Cemetery tomorrow.

Mrs. Cota was the widow of the late Ramon Cota. She was born in Matilija about sixty-five years ago and had spent her life there. The Cota ranch, practically the last remnant of the old estate, was recently sold to George Hantgin of this city.

Deceased leaves one brother, Teodor Lopez.

RESEDA ASKS FOR DEPUTY CITY CLERK

RESEDA, May 2.—A request has been made by the local Chamber of Commerce for a deputy City Clerk to be stationed here for the convenience of business men here and in other parts of San Fernando Valley. It is pointed out that Reseda is centrally located and that the clerk should have his office here. The request has been formally sent to the Los Angeles City Council asking that action be taken.

Two Candidates Seek Office of Postmaster

MONROVIA, May 2.—Announcement was made today of two candidates in the field for the office of Monrovia postmaster, made vacant last week by the death of George L. Baker. A third candidate it is expected will be announced tomorrow, and those already out are Harry L. Kellogg and George T. Blamer.

Despite current reports, Mayor A. J. Little today denied that he would seek the post, but stated that he had been urged to seek the nomination and had declined.

Kellogg, who came to Monrovia nine years ago, is well known in fraternal circles here. He is a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, served as Chief Patriarch of Gem City Encampment and is a past District Deputy Grand Patriarch of this district.

He is also past president and present secretary of the Monrovia Rotary Club and this year was elected Esteemed Loyal Knight of Monrovia Lodge 1427, B.P.O. Elks.

Blamer, well-known lumberman, is an active member of Monrovia Lodge, No. 308, F & A. M., Monrovia Arch Masons, and of Monrovia Elks.

COMMERCE CHAMBER IS REORGANIZED

HERMOSA BEACH, May 2.—Complete reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce, which has been nonoperative for more than a year, was effected in a special meeting of former directors of the chamber yesterday. The reorganization has been made upon a platform of opposition to a plan of consolidation involving Hermosa, Redondo and Manhattan and resolutions to that effect were adopted. Expressions favoring a study of the possibilities of a consolidation if the city of Torrance becomes interested in joining the move were made a part of the meeting, however.

Former President Collamer A. Bridge is chairman of the new board of directors and Mrs. F. P. Grazier was appointed executive secretary. Headquarters have been obtained in the Review Building on Hermosa avenue. Other objectives of the chamber will include a campaign of community advertising and opposition to any action leading toward the consolidation of the postoffices of the district with the Los Angeles postoffice. Directors are C. A. Bridge, T. C. Sheehan, Grange Thatcher, C. A. Williams, C. H. Salinas, Frank Philo, Edd Leonard, L. Harker and Frank Wilson.

MINISTER ORDAINED

Service in San Bernardino Church Where Candidate's Father Preached Many Years

SAN BERNARDINO, May 2.—The Rev. Alvah Grant Fessenden, Jr., who was ordained a Presbyterian minister last night in the church where his late father preached for eighteen years, left today for Fresno to accept the pulpit of the United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. E. Burkhart, moderator of the Riverside Presbytery, presided during the ordination service, which opened with an organ prelude played by George P. Skinner and was followed by the congregation singing "Doxology."

Two San Bernardino pastors who had been friends of the young man entering the ministry and also of his parents, took part. Rev. H. B. Mowbray of the First Congregational Church gave the Scripture reading and Rev. Walter C. Loomis of the First Methodist Episcopal Church spoke in his prayer the wish that lay in the hearts of all. Dr. J. L. Marquis of Redlands delivered the sermon, taking as his text the third chapter of I Corinthians, ninth verse, "We are laborers together with God." His well-expressed sermon carried the message that all are in partnership with God whether by will or not and that no man can live unto himself alone. Neither success nor happiness is in store for him who fails to take God into consideration in planning his life.

Rev. D. L. McQuarrie, pastor of the Magnolia-avenue Presbyterian Church, Riverside, spoke in his capacity of delivery of the charge. He recalled with a simplicity that greatly touched the congregation, small incidents that could now be regarded as high lights in the travels of the young minister toward his goal.

As the nine members of the Riverside Presbytery stood with their hands on the head of the kneeling candidate, Rev. Otis D. Ironmonger gave the prayer of ordination.

BUILDING WORKMEN KILLED

Two Dead, Two Injured as Result of Caving in of Foundation of Building Under Construction

REDLANDS, May 2.—Frank Gustave, 49 years of age, a carpenter, and L. L. Thompson, 40, both married but with no children, are dead, and two men, F. Christian and J. B. Angle, both of Redlands, injured as a result of an early morning accident here when a foundation caved in where the new Bank of America building, at State and Orange streets, is being built.

Gustave was buried under tons of dirt, concrete and mortar and it took almost an hour to dig him out. Thompson almost escaped, but the lower part of his body was caught, his left leg crushed so that it had to be amputated near the hip. He died from the loss of blood and shock. The Coroner's jury this afternoon said the accident was unavoidable.

Workmen have been working in day and night shifts on the excavation. In the pit at the time were the shovel crew and the truck men of the Hunt Company, having the contract for moving the dirt, also half a dozen workmen for McKeefery Brothers, who have the contract for the erection of the building. As it happened all the men hurt were employed by McKeefery Brothers.

The shovel had dug in one place and then the foreman, Odell Anfrinson, had ordered it moved to another. The men were cleaning up and leveling off under the concrete foundation. Suddenly the gravel under it gave way and a great slab of concrete 4 feet square and 30 feet long broke off. The men tried to run but Thompson and Gustave could not get away. Gustave was killed instantly and Thompson lived for about six hours.

Gustave lived at 4019 West Fiftieth street in Los Angeles and leaves a widow.

Thompson lived at the St. Paul rooming-house in Redlands and also leaves a widow. The other two men were only bruised.

BOY'S BODY RECOVERED FROM LAKE

Riverside Student Goes Down to Death When Boat Accidentally Overturns

RIVERSIDE, May 2.—The body of Stephen Pennington, 16 years of age, a student in Central Junior High School, was recovered from Lake Evans shortly after noon today by deputy sheriffs. The youth was drowned last night while boating on the Fairmount Park lake with five other boys. The youngsters, according to their story, attempted to change seats and overturned the boat. Young Pennington sank almost immediately, but the rest of the party managed to reach shore.

Officers last night found the lad's cap floating near the scene of the accident, but were unable to locate the body. Coroner Dickson conducted an inquest this afternoon. The youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Pennington of 233 North Fairmount Boulevard.

He was arrested in Oxnard yesterday while still in bed, by Sheriff Robert Clark, on a warrant sworn out by Joe Levy of the bank.

Big Walnut Crop Seen for Valley

RESEDA, May 2.—Following the announcement that a bumper walnut crop may be expected in San Fernando Valley this season, W. B. Cooper, county-farm extension specialist, and M. H. Kimball, assistant county-farm adviser, will conduct open-air meetings and demonstrations to show ranchers new methods of irrigation and other ways of up-to-date orchard handling. One of these county demonstrations will be conducted on the 10th inst. at the H. H. A. Hastings ranch at 16351 Ventura Boulevard. All walnut growers in the valley will be invited to attend.

"Adequate moisture," Kimball said today, "is the most important single factor in determining the size of nuts. Large nuts are the ones that bring the high prices. At these meetings the question of the right kind of irrigation is thoroughly discussed. It will pay walnut growers to attend these demonstrations when they take place in their community."

Other farm experts state that the present conditions indicate a large walnut crop for the valley this year. Size of nuts and the question of total crop weight can be increased by one-third, they say, if all orchards are handled under scientific methods.

GLOWING PROSPECTS FOR NEW OIL FIELD

Greer of the Coalinga High School declared the field is the richest in high-grade oil in the world. There are, he said, fourteen prospect wells being put in, and preparations for starting sixteen more. These each involve from a quarter to a third of a million dollars expenditure. The Milham discovery well is paying for itself every thirty days. The Ochsner No. 2, six and one-half miles distant, is almost as profitable. He advised the business men of Hanford to be prepared for the prosperity to come from this great field located in Kings county by building roads supplying facilities to share in the business to result from development's success.

ADMIRAL GOES TO WASHINGTON

Aircraft Commander to Report for Special Duty

Capt. Horne of the Saratoga in Temporary Charge

Commerce Chamber Banquet is Abandoned

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—Orders directing Rear-Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, commanding the aircraft squadrons, battle fleet, to proceed at once to Washington for special duty were received today, according to report at the North Island naval air station. Admiral Reeves is to depart for the East at 9 a.m. tomorrow, the report states.

Capt. F. J. Horne, commanding the aircraft carrier Saratoga, will be in temporary charge of the aircraft squadrons for three weeks, command of the battle fleet air forces being scheduled to be assumed on the 22nd inst. by Admiral Henry V. Butler, who at present is chief of staff to Admiral Henry A. Wiley, commander-in-chief, United States fleet, today's report states. Admiral Reeves originally was scheduled to remain in command of the aircraft squadrons until the 22nd inst. Although Capt. Horne is not to be stationed at North Island during the time he is in the temporary command, the Saratoga is to come to the San Diego area next week to take aboard planes, which will take part in general fleet maneuvers planned for mid May. He will administer his duties as acting fleet air head through the members of the staff who have worked with Admiral Reeves here, it is reported.

Owing to the suddenness of the orders detaching Admiral Reeves from command here, plans by the army and navy committee of the Chamber of Commerce to give him a farewell luncheon on the 20th inst. have been abandoned, according to announcement at the chamber. Directors, members of the army and navy committee and prominent citizens will bid the admiral good-by at the train tomorrow morning, according to present plans. Admiral Reeves arrived in San Diego and assumed command of the aircraft squadrons in October, 1925, coming here from duty at Pensacola, Fla., and from work with the War College. He was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1894.

Overexertion Causes Death of Aged Man

VEANTURA, May 2.—Overexertion in fighting a bonfire which he thought was getting away from him caused the death late yesterday of Edgar Lashbrook, aged Piru rancher. He was burning off some weeds on his property when the wind fanned it temporarily out of his control. The man, who was nearly 80 years of age, started carrying water in desperation until the heat and the exertion overcame him and he collapsed and died. The fire was put out by others without difficulty.

Lashbrook had lived for many years in Ventura, removing to Piru about fifteen years ago after his marriage to Mrs. McCarty of this city.

Deceased was a veteran of the Civil war. During his last years he devoted himself to ranching.

North Hollywood Wants City Hall

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, May 2.—Along with the efforts of Van Nuys, San Fernando Valley neighbor town, to obtain a branch city hall building North Hollywood also has plans. A resolution of the local Chamber of Commerce asking the City Council to appropriate funds for a building to be erected on a site to be donated has been forwarded and referred to the finance committee of the Council.

Van Nuys residents have chosen a site on Sylvan street and Sylmar avenue. They will vote on the bond issue to buy the site, in the June election. The City Council already has allocated $275,000 for the erection of the building when the site is purchased.

Certain leading citizens here and in Van Nuys say that if the Van Nuys bonds fail to carry, North Hollywood will stand a fine chance to get the appropriation it now seeks.

Regulation of Mining Stock Sales Pending

More conservative advertising and sales tactics in the marketing of mining stocks are expected to result from a meeting of more than a score of Los Angeles brokers with A. H. Garland, assistant State Commissioner of Corporations; W. D. Abel, chief engineer of the State Corporation department, and Deputy Commissioner I. L. Hiller, according to an announcement by the department yesterday. The brokers also agreed that for the best interests of the mining industry and investors, money received from stock sales should be used for legitimate development purposes.

The corporation department officials called the conference after inquiry into new financing of some of the recently discovered gold ore bodies in Nevada indicated that stock received by promoters for services and other considerations was being disposed of in California, in many instances, as personally owned, the promoters receiving the money while the companies were without funds for operating or developing purposes. Later, the department stated, prices of the stock have been inflated far beyond their actual worth.

"There seems to be a plentiful supply of low-grade ore in new fields that are being promoted and some high-grade ore has been found," Mr. Garland said. "The extent of the rich bodies is not known. They may be large or merely occasional pockets. In any case the future should not continue to be overcapitalized, as it may mean not only great loss to investors, but also a serious set-back to legitimate mining, which is endeavoring to recover from the effects of similar practices in the past."

Expert Heard in Phone Rate Case

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (AP)—The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and its five controlled companies in California earned 8 per cent on historical valuation of $256,000,000 during 1928, Lester S. Ready, special engineer for the State Railroad Commission, testified before that body in a rate hearing here today. San Francisco and the East Bay districts oppose an increase in phone tolls.

Mr. Ready uses the sinking-fund method of depreciation, while the telephone company uses a straight-line method of depreciation, basing its valuation on reproduction costs new, which is higher than the historical basis used by the engineer. Telephone company officials said the Southern California Telephone Company in 1928 yielded the principal part of the 8 per cent return, Ready said.

Columbia Gas Rights Pending

NEW YORK, May 2.—Coincident with the release of the quarterly statement today, directors of the Columbia Gas and Electric Company announced a proposal to offer common stockholders of record June 15, next, one additional common share at $24 a share for each ten shares held, the right to expire on August 15.

Consolidated net income for the March quarter totaled $11,701,107, after all charges, equal after preferred dividends, to $1.22 a share on 8,432,840 common shares outstanding. This compares with $10,629,641 or $1.09 a share on the same common capital in the first three months of 1928. For the twelve months ended March 31 the company earned $30,167,760, or $2.90 a share, on the common, against $25,282,615, or $2.25, for the preceding year.

STOCKS ANALYZED

William Cavalier & Co., has just issued a report on the relative market positions of western and eastern insurance stocks, which it has for distribution.

INDUSTRIAL PRICES IN LINE

Pacific Coast Stocks Selling Around Average of Twelve Times Earnings

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Unlike most industrials listed in the eastern markets the stocks of Pacific Coast manufacturing companies are not, on the whole, overpriced at current levels in comparison with earnings. Whereas eastern industrials as a rule are selling from fifteen to twenty-five times earnings, Pacific Coast industrials are quoted on an average of twelve to fifteen times earnings.

As the subjoined table shows, the stocks of six well-known industrial enterprises operating on the coast are selling at prices varying from 8.3 to 14.3 times earnings. The average of the six is 12,2 times, or considerably under the average for industrials listed in New York:

RATIOS LISTED

	1928 Share Earnings.	Current Price Times Earnings.	Current Price.
Caterpillar	$5.72	14.3	82
Byron Jackson ..	2.85	13.3	38
Emsco Derrick ..	4.81	8.3	40
John Bean Mfg. ..	*3.94	13.4	53
Paraffine	5.92	13.7	81
Samson Tire	2.51	10.4	26

*—Fiscal year ended June 30, last.

These companies represent a diversity of industrial activities on the Pacific Coast. Caterpillar Tractor manufactures farm tractors and combined harvesters; Byron Jackson and Emsco Derrick, oil-well supplies; John Bean, sprays for orchard and automobile use, and other orchard machinery; Paraffine, roofing, building paper, paper boxes, etc., and Samson Tire, automobile tires.

On the Pacific Coast, however, are examples of inflation in market price compared with earnings, but there has not been anything like the general inflation that has taken place in the East. Kolster Radio is the outstanding Coast stock in this category, selling currently at around 221 times earnings of 19 cents a share in 1928. Kolster is a company, nevertheless, that has been more interested in development than in current earnings, and is expected by its sponsors to justify in future earnings the predictions so confidently advanced in market price.

BOOK VALUE COMPARED

While earnings and not book value are the basis of market price, it is interesting to note how these companies fare in a comparison of book value with market price:

	Book Value.	Price Times Book Value.
Caterpillar	$17.00	4.8
Byron Jackson	7.45	5.1
Emsco Derrick	16.08	2.5
John Bean Mfg.	*9.18	5.8
Paraffine	34.65	2.3
Samson Tire	17.35	1.5

*—Fiscal year ended June 30, last.

From this point of view it is evident that the Coast stocks are not selling out of line. The highest is five times the book value of assets, and this is conservative in comparison with a host of other industrial companies.

Whether the foregoing industrial stocks, or any other of the same character, are entitled to sell higher, or from fifteen to twenty-five times earnings, is a question that the tipster bureaus will have to answer. The important point is that Pacific Coast industrials, as a group, are not overpriced in relation to earnings.

This increase, company officials state, is due entirely to internal growth. BARUCH SEES CURE FOR WAR

New York Financier Would Eliminate Profiteering by Necessary Peace-Time Legislation

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, May 2.—B. M. Baruch, New York financier, who was chairman of the all-powerful United States War Industries Board during the war, has been studying for ten years the problem of a practical way to eliminate industrial profits in time of war.

Mr. Baruch realizes that if war profiteers can be eliminated by arrangements that are worked out during peacetimes, the great drive of the profiteer to get the nation into war will be largely dissipated.

During the war Mr. Baruch was a member of the committee in charge of the purchase for all the Allies. He saw the tragic shortage of supplies urgently needed. He saw, as he says, "the almost vertical rise of all prices to dizzy heights, inflation, stagnation at the close of the war, deflation and economic collapse, sometimes requiring years of hard times to induce a cure."

All this Mr. Baruch wants changed. He says the time to change it is during peace, when careful thought can be given. It is a stupid policy; worse, it is criminal, not to arrange in the most effective way to eliminate profiteers of war. How can it be done?

Here is Mr. Baruch's suggestion: Give the President power "whenever Congress determines that the emergency exists or is threatened to proclaim that the price of every thing and service shall be the same as of the latest day previous to the emergency."

To draft everything, dollars, labor property and men, Mr. Baruch believes, would not hold in the courts under the present Constitution which provides that just compensation must be given. Furthermore the Constitution also says there shall be no slavery, and the enforced labor of any man for any private master has repeatedly been defined as slavery.

Mr. Baruch's contention is that the subject should be handled in the most effective legal way to squeeze out every dollar of profits that can possibly be squeezed out, and to have the machinery all ready and oiled to squeeze them out the minute war is declared.

This subject has had much study and attention in the last few years. It should have much more, until the elimination of the war profiteer is accomplished.

China is looking for money in large amounts to begin the orderly development of her enormous resources. But she is making her plans for obtaining this money very carefully, according to Frank S. Williams, United States Trade Commissioner at Shanghai.

Already the Central Political Council of China has received a proposal for the investment of foreign capital in government enterprise. There are several conditions which should be known at this time. First, in contracting foreign loans for reconstruction all loans must work out in such a way that they do not infringe upon the sovereignty of the country.

The Chinese government itself may solicit the co-operation of foreign merchants in undertaking any construction work which will be operated in the name of a corporation in which, first—Chinese shareholders should hold over 51 per cent of the entire stock of the corporation; second—board of directors should consist predominantly of Chinese; third— chairman of the board of directors, and the manager should be of Chinese nationality, and, fourth—any commercial corporation thus formed should be subject to the Chinese corporation law.

DOTY BEGINS BATTLE FOR INDUSTRIAL

Former Head Seeks to Recover Leadership in Foundation Company

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive) A desperate struggle for control of the Foundation Company, largest construction company of its kind in the world, was precipitated today by a determined effort on the part of John W. Doty, former president and chairman of the concern, to regain his position lost in 1927.

It had been planned to keep the news of this struggle from becoming public property, but this morning it leaked out through a letter mailed to stockholders last night.

The letter said:

"A campaign is now under way by certain interests to acquire control of the Foundation Company at the annual stockholders' meeting on Monday, May 6, 1929. We believe that it is the purpose of these interests to replace the present board of directors consisting of Mr. Willis H. Booth, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York; Mr. George Murnane, partner in Lee, Higginson & Co.; H. P. Nelson, former president of the Western Power Company; Louis E. Stoddard, capitalist and certain executive officers of the company, by a new board consisting of individuals who are not now connected with the management of the company either as directors or officers.

"The Foundation Company is in a strong financial and business position with excellent prospects for a successful year in 1929 and for the future due to the experience, ability and loyalty of the present management and the close co-operation which exists between the management and the present board of directors. With the advent of a new board of directors, the present management of the company will be seriously disrupted."

The letter was signed by Franklin Remington, chairman, and H. J. Deustchbein, president.

John W. Doty immediately replied to this stockholders' letter. He issued the following statement:

"The contest for control will come to a head at the annual meeting May 6. The recent trend of the company's net earnings being downward stockholders of the company owning very large amounts of stock determined to make me again the executive head of the company with a board of directors satisfactory to me."

GRAIN RATE CUT BY RAIL GROUP

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Reduction in grain rates of 2 cents per bushel between Buffalo and North Atlantic points was decided upon today at a meeting of representatives of eastern trunk line railroads. The reduced rate will expire on September 30. This action was taken, a statement issued at the close of the meeting said, because the railroads recognized that an "emergency of national proportions in agriculture exists necessitating every possible aid to the immediate removal of a grain surplus out of the country."

Foreign Credit Total Reported Sharply Lower

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive) The credits held in the United States by all classes of foreign investors during the calendar year 1928 were reduced $100,000,000 to the still impressive figure of $2,912,000,000, according to an estimate made by the Department of Commerce.

This was explained in the monthly review just issued by the New York Federal Reserve Bank which stated that the large movement of foreign funds to this market owing to the high money rates in New York had made it necessary for some of the foreign banks of issue to liquidate some of their deposits and holdings of short-term securities in the American market in order to take the pressure off their own exchanges.

It is believed that the withdrawal of foreign funds is continuing and probably increasing. This belief is based on the fact that foreign central banks have been compelled to raise their discount rates to protect their reserves from depletion by the pull of high money rates in New York.

A Word To Bond Buyers About South Gate

Drive through South Gate on your next trip to Long Beach or the Harbor. You will be amazed at the rapid industrial and residential development now in progress. Situated only six miles south of Los Angeles on the Long Beach Boulevard, this progressive City is rapidly becoming the industrial center of the Los Angeles area.

Numbered among its industries are the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, now in full operation; the National Paper Products Company; and many others. In 1928, the City ranked fourteenth in the State in value of building permits. Its population now exceeds 27,000 and approximately 95% of its homes are occupied by their owners.

The improvement district bonds of a city which is enjoying this solid growth offer, we believe, a particular opportunity for conservative investment. We are offering such an issue which is payable from an ad valorem tax collected with and as a part of the general county taxes and ranks ahead of first mortgages.

Bonds are priced to yield 5.50%, exempt from Federal Income Tax and California Personal Property Tax.

Detailed circular descriptive of these bonds and the City of South Gate will be gladly mailed on request. Just send name and address below.

MAGIC names—now linked together in one company

SANTA BARBARA has long been acknowledged as a rendezvous for the social elite—as a mecca for wealthy Eastern tourists. Likewise, the name of Biltmore has always stood for the best in hotels—for the highest type of service.

These two famous names are now united in one company, the Santa Barbara Biltmore Corporation, which owns and operates the magnificent Santa Barbara Biltmore Hotel, located on a 21-acre tract owned in fee at Montecito Park, California. This hotel has been successful from the start, as shown by the fact that original accommodations soon proved insufficient and extra rooms were added last February.

Reflecting these increased facilities, net earnings for the first quarter of this year increased more than 300% for the same period of last year. Bonds secured by this property have been certified as a legal investment for California Savings Banks. We offer

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Industrial Issues Dominate Trading Interest to Reach New High Prices

Byron Jackson and Douglas Aircraft crashed through the record prices set up in the previous session and with John Bean, Emsco Derrick and Transamerica, featured a slightly increased trading volume yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The balance of the market held firm for the most part and no changes of consequence were recorded. The oils, closed irregular.

Byron Jackson jumped at the opening to the new top of 41 3-4 and under subsequent liquidation, finished the day at 41, unchanged from Wednesday's close. Douglas Aircraft, under the stimulus of a continued strong demand, shot up to a new peak at 39 1-4, where it closed for a net gain of 1 1-4 points. Emsco, shortly after the opening, advanced 1-4 to 42 1-4, a new recent high, and following a brisk turnover throughout the full session, ended at 41, off 1 point net. John Bean struck a new record at 54½, up ½ point on a transfer of 100 shares.

Transamerica Corporation was one of the bright spots of the day, and on a rapid turnover advanced 3 3-8 points to 138½. I. Magnin recorded a new high at 37, up 1½ points. Pacific Finance firmed up ½ to 117. Security-First National Bank reacted 3-4 to 136 1-4.

The activity on the petroleum board reflected the stand-off attitude manifested by traders since the beginning of the week. Standard dropping 5-8 to 77 and Richfield advancing 1-4 to 45 3-8, were the only changes of importance.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Fokker Aircraft was a spectacular performer in an unsettled market yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. This issue, on a rapid turnover, shot up 4 7-8 points to a new high for all time at 47½, reaching the peak on the last few sales. Rumors linking several companies as seeking control accompanied the action of the stock.

The balance of the market was generally firm, excepting oils, which displayed a softer tendency. Aviation Corporation was a strong spot, reached a top at 23 and closing at 22 3-8, up 1 7-8. Maddux was active, achieving a high at 14 1-8 and closing at 13 7-8, unchanged. Western Air Express made a top at 69½ and ended at 68, up 3-4 net.

Oil issues were traded in a much lesser volume than usual and closed the day fractionally lower. Atlantic Refining reacted 1 1-8 points to 65 3-8, and Mexican Seaboard, 7-8 to 55. Continental gained 1-4 to 23 1-4.

Sales totaled 147,872 shares, valued at $1,176,085.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive)—Futures on the local rubber exchange continued in a downward trend throughout today's market on comparatively brisk trading. Opening steady, with gains of 10 points in some positions, values began to weaken in the early trading, resulting in 10 and 20-point losses from Wednesday's closing prices. In the last few minutes of business several trade brokers were sending in bids, but closing prices were 30 to 40 points lower for the day. Sales for the day aggregated 503 contracts, or 1257½ long tons, the majority of which changed hands in the first and final hours.

London advanced 1-16d to 9 15-16d in a steady market, with Singapore showing a gain of a like amount at 9 7-16d, with the market stagnant. Outside spot declined ⅛c to 19⅝c.

AUBURN
GOODWILL is carried on the balance sheet of Auburn Automobile Company at only one dollar. Nevertheless, the growing demand for Auburn cars reveals this item as one of the Company's most valuable assets. Even with greatly increased plant facilities, production has not been able to keep pace with demand. Sales continue to make new high records. Such a condition of strength reflects the valuable goodwill which, although not capitalized in the balance sheet must be recognized as an important factor in Auburn's continuing growth.
We have accumulated many facts of interest concerning Auburn Automobile Company. This information may be had on request.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Prices on the New York Curb market pointed upward today, with at least a score of issues pushed into new high ground, but waves of profit-taking swept through the list at intervals because of uneasiness over the brokers' loan figures. The weekly Federal Reserve statement, issued after the close, showed an increase of $40,000,000, as against earlier estimates of $50,000,000 or more, while the monthly stock exchange figures showed a drop of slightly more than $29,500,000 last month.

Trading was particularly heavy in the public utility group. United Corporation, which is expected to go on the "big board" shortly, changed hands in enormous volume, crossing 38 to a new high record. United Gas Improvement showed a net gain of more than 2 points and Electric Bond and Share 1⅛, but Northern States Power "A," which was strong yesterday, ran into some profit-taking.

Guardian Fire Insurance ran up about 5 points to a new high record at 70½ and retained most of its gain, on buying influenced by publication of annual report showing more than $10 a share earned on the common stock last year. International Projector (old) soared 9 points to a new peak at 116, and the new advanced in sympathy.

Aluminum Company of America continued its sensational advance by soaring 17 points to a new high record at 265. Proctor & Gamble ran up nearly 20 points to 369, or 1 point below the record top. Monsanto climbed 20 points to a new peak at 150, and Gold Seal Electric was pushed up more than 20 points to a new top at 101, but lost part of its gain.

Resumption of speculation in the aviation group resulted in the establishment of new highs by Bellanca and Fokker, the former climbing more than 4 points, but Alexander Industries and Curtiss Aero Express each dropped more than a point and Aviation Corporation of America fell back 5⅛. A flurry of buying in Louisiana Land and Exploration, which ran up above 14 and then lost most of its gain, was the only development of consequence in the oil group.

Merchandising shares were mixed, although Interstate Hosiery was again in demand at rising prices. Sheaffer Pen broke nearly 9 points to within a point of the year's low and American Cynamid "B" fell back 8 points. Grigsby Grunow and Firestone Tire also were conspicuously heavy.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

California oranges found markets at eastern and middle western auction centers generally ranging from lower to steady and firm yesterday. There were some reports of spotted conditions. Lemons were reported lower mostly with some markets spotted to firm.

Wire trouble, due to inclement middle western weather, delayed reports on markets from Detroit and St. Louis. More than three inches of snow fell at the latter city.

Analysis of trading developed the following price range per box:

MAXIMUM SAFETY AIRPLANE COMPANY

Manufacturing an Airplane of Unparalleled Safety and Dependability

The Maximum Safety Airplane Company, in its factory at 5111 Santa Fe Avenue, Los Angeles, is today engaged in the production of aircraft which, experts believe, will revolutionize aviation, bringing new dependability and safety to the business and pleasure of flying.

The Maximum Safety Airplane, due to exclusive engineering principles employed in the construction of its wings and fuselage, takes off, flies and lands with utmost ease and safety.

This is an airplane that flies primarily on its wings instead of on the power and speed of its motor!

That is why a Maximum Safety Airplane, with a top speed of 130 miles per hour can fly as slowly as 40 miles per hour and can be landed at 20 miles per hour! That is why one of these planes last week, piloted by Jack Reid, broke the world's airplane gliding record, remaining aloft 9 minutes and 20 seconds after the engine was shut off . . . a gliding ability that is an inestimable safety factor. The previous record was about 5 minutes. Lieutenant Victor Clark, famous army pilot and authority on aircraft construction, after flying a Maximum Safety plane, stated, "This plane is fool proof and stunt proof . . . It will not go into a tail spin accidentally, and is not subject to nose dives, spins, side-slips and other hazards." It is all that the name implies . . . an aircraft of MAXIMUM SAFETY.

Company is concentrating production on a 4-place cabin monoplane, powered by a 170 h.p. Curtiss Challenger motor, but will also build custom models, adaptable to the needs of individual purchasers. As power is less a factor in this plane than in others, the cost of the power unit is appreciably reduced, permitting of lower initial cost and upkeep, and allowing the Maximum Safety plane to be manufactured to compete most profitably with other commercial aircraft in its price class.

This plane is being demonstrated every day at the Grand Central Airport, Glendale. Go and see it.

We recommend that air-minded investors investigate the profit possibilities presented by ownership of the stock of this Los Angeles corporation. In our opinion it is a speculative opportunity of exceptional merit.

As soon as necessary distribution is completed, application will be made to list stock of the Maximum Safety Airplane Company. Immediately thereafter, directors of the company state, it is the intention to split the present shares on a basis of ten shares of new stock for each old share.

We offer, subject to prior sale, 2000 shares of fully participating (no par value) Common Stock of the Maximum Safety Airplane Company at the pre-listing price of $35 per share.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

A plan that will lessen drilling operations at Kettleman Hills and at the same time protect the permittees and lessees in that promising field, is nearing completion.

Early next week the committee of Deines will meet to discuss the plan appointed by Umpire F. C. [illegible]. The following week a general meeting will be called to consider adoption of the plan.

One plan, it is reported, has already been agreed upon by more than a dozen operators at Kettleman Hills. A score of others, suggested as feasible, but along the same lines as the first, will be discussed for the purpose of selecting the most important ideas that may be embodied in the plan to be eventually selected.

Reports state that within three weeks the plan, if it meets with the approval of the committee, permittees and lessees, will be dispatched to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur for his examination. It is asserted that he will discuss the adopted plan with representatives of the various interests of Kettleman Hills, in Washington, when the time is ripe for such a gathering.

Quits Wildcat

Seven hundred feet of volcanic ash is said to have been the reason why the Texas Company has filed notice of abandonment of its Eastwood No. 1 wildcat well which was drilled on the H. H. Eastwood ranch in the Oceanview district at the southwest corner of Ventura county. The hole was stopped at [illegible] feet. It is said to have had some promising showings before the ashy formation was encountered.

Texaco held about 100 parcels of property in that region, embracing nearly 4000 acres, and is said to have quitclaimed considerable, but it is unofficially reported that further geological study of some of the leased parcels is to be made. It is reported that before Texaco decided to abandon the Eastwood No. 1 the Texas organization paid $8000 for a lease on the Roy Williams ranch in that vicinity.

Blowing Again

A strong flow of gas yesterday was reported encountered in the General Petroleum Corporation's Kettleman No. 2 well at Kettleman Hills. High-pressure pumps were reported to be required to keep the well under control.

Field reports stated that a four-day bit was run into the hole within 120 feet of the bottom, and at that point the drill pipe froze. Circulation was established under 1000 pounds pressure to hold the well in and for a time reports indicated that the well was nearly out of control. It is down 6866 feet.

General's well was killed nearly a month ago to deepen.

New Test Progressing

The Petroleum Securities Company's Bishop No. 1 is drilling ahead near the ocean at Elwood, about [illegible] miles southeast of the proven area. It is south of the old Storke No. 1 well, recently abandoned when no oil formation was picked up.

In Shale

The Western Oil and Refining Company's Liebert-Community No. [illegible] well, at Signal Hill, is drilling at [illegible] feet in sand and shale.

The Foster-Community No. 1 well, in the same area, is down about [illegible] feet in brown shale.

The Western Drilling and Producing Company's Day No. 1 well has been drilled into the upper Pico formation at about 2700 feet.

To Drill Test

W. H. Bell of Taft has contracted to drill a test well on a 680-acre tract owned by the Anaheim Union Water Company in Santa Ana Canyon. The property is situated on the north side of the canyon west of Rancho Santa Ana.

Deepening

The Ring No. 1 well of the Ring Petroleum Company at Santa Fe Springs, recently killed to deepen, is drilling ahead at 5760 feet toward the O'Connell sand.

Ring's No. 1 well is between two producers of the Universal Consolidated Oil Company, the Blanchard No. 7 and Blanchard No. 10, both of which are producing from the O'Connell sand at about 6500 feet.

Pipe Lines Completed

The Rio Grande Oil Company has just completed laying three-inch pipe lines from its new marine terminal at Long Beach Harbor to the refinery at Vinvale. An eight-inch line for crude going to the refinery, a six-inch line to carry gas, and a four-inch line for gasoline from the refinery to the terminal are 80 per cent completed. Enlargement of the Vinvale refinery will give it a capacity of 15,000 barrels a day.

Drilling Ahead

The DeKoch No. 1 well of the Cypress Petroleum Company, at [illegible], situated on property owned by Paul Willis, is drilling ahead at [illegible] 2060 feet.

Cypress' well is situated just east of the original Cypress No. 1 well of the Associated Oil Company, drilled to about 5400 feet, but without being placed on production except as a gas well.

Swabbing

The Associated Oil Company's [illegible] No. 2 well at Santa Fe Springs, down 7802 feet, is swabbing for production.

At Potrero, Associated's Potrero No. 1 is drilling ahead at 3501 feet, following a successful water shut-off test.

Abandoned

The [illegible] No. 1 well of Graham & Loftus at Potrero yesterday was abandoned at 4180 feet. Placed on production a few days ago, water developed in the hole, which resulted in it being killed.

Good Producer

Since being placed on production January 9, last, the Dabney No. 1 well of the California Western Oil Company at Signal Hill has produced 380,000 barrels of oil, according to official reports. It is [illegible] feet.

California Western's No. 3 well, [illegible] feet north of the Dabney No. 1 well, is drilling ahead at 4400 feet. It was plugged back to about 4000 feet after it had drilled to 5200 feet.

The Dabney No. 3 well is a short distance north of the No. 17 well of the Mohawk Oil Company, which was placed on production a few days ago.

In Oil Sand

The Winnann Oil Company's Winnann No. 2 well at Richfield has just penetrated about 470 feet of oil sand, and is drilling ahead at 4720 feet. Eight-inch casing has been set at 4300 feet.

Winnann's Fleisher No. 3 well in Cat Canyon is drilling ahead at 3700 feet, and will be taken to at least 4000 feet for a deep test.

Nearing O'Connell

Nine active projects of the Bandini Petroleum Company at Santa Fe Springs that originally were scheduled to be completed in the Buckbee sand, are deepening and soon should penetrate the O'Connell sand.

The Bandini No. 10 well, standing cemented at 6120 feet, will be drilled out in a day or two. It is the deepest of nine now drilling. The Bandini No. 8 well is nearing 6000-foot depth, and Bandini Nos. 12 to 14, inclusive, are drilling below 5500 feet.

Good Well Completed

The Delaney Petroleum Corporation's Wellington No. 3 well at Signal Hill was completed early yesterday morning for a reported production amounting to 3500 barrels a day under beaned down conditions. One gas trap was insufficient to handle the flow of gas, so two other traps are being installed, it is asserted. The well was finished at 7062 feet. The Wellington Oil Company is reported to have a 25 per cent overriding royalty in the production.

LONDON, May 2. (Exclusive)—The Bank of England minimum rate of discount is unchanged at 5½ per cent.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Speculative trading in the convertible group provided the bond market with some real action today to compensate for the apathy that continued to prevail in the standard investment securities.

As in previous sessions, the outstanding performers were the recently offered American I. G. Chemical 5½s. In the belief that the stock of this German-American chemical combination would soon have a market, investors and speculators continued to clamor for the convertible debentures and prices in the early trading moved up rapidly to 110⅛, a rise of more than 8 points and 15 above the subscription price. At that level, offerings increased and prices dropped back to 105, finishing with a net gain of 3½ points. Short covering was believed to have had something to do with the early run-up. Sales of the chemical bonds, one of the fastest movers that has been listed on the stock exchange in a long time, totaled $1,112,000 par value.

In response to an advance in the stock, American International 5½s, an investment trust issue, snapped into activity with a rise of more than 2 points on a turnover second only to that of the chemicals. Heavy sales volume at higher prices also was contributed by the new American Telephone 4½s and these three issues together furnished more than a fifth of the day's sales, which approximated $10,000,000.

As a group, the convertibles closed irregular, but activity extended to Alleghany Corporation 5s, Atchison 4½s, Dodge Brothers 6s, International Telephone 4½s, Commercial Investment Trust 5½s and Public Service of New Jersey 4½s, the last making a gain of 3½ points. Traders in the convertibles took their cues from stocks. Colon Oil 6s sagged more than a point.

As indicated by activity in the stock privilege issues with speculative possibilities, the public still side-stepped the fixed-income securities. Some support, however, came from institutional buying and the general investment list remained steady, favored by seasonal tendencies toward credit easement. This was in evidence in the United States government obligations, which moved irregularly higher on light buying.

Demand for Costa Rica Republic 7s, which moved up 2½ points to a new high at 96, featured the foreign division. Reports that a London banking house had granted a $25,000,000 stabilization credit to Brazil circulated too late to influence the Brazilian issues.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Frost Reports Bring Upturn in Wheat Futures

CHICAGO, May 2. (Exclusive)—Adverse weather conditions over the winter wheat belt, with frost reported as far south as the Texas Panhandle, and temperatures dropping below freezing in Nebraska led to apprehension of damage to the new crop, more than offset the effect of the private estimates which suggested a yield of 619,000,000 bushels, or 40,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's harvest. Prices advanced 1@1½c from the early low and closed at the top, with net gains of ⅛@⅜c. May showed the least strength and finished at 1.13@1.13⅛, or 5⅛c under July, while September was 1.22¼ and December 1.27⅛@1.27¼.

Scattered liquidation was on in May corn and it went to around 4½c under the July, closing ⅞c lower at 89¼@89⅜, while July was 93¾, September 95⅞@96 and December 89¾, the deferred deliveries being ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher for the day, with December showing the most strength. Oats gained ⅛@⅜c, with May 49⅛@49⅜, July 46⅝ and September 45⅝. Rye advanced ⅛@⅜c, with May 94⅛, July 95⅝ and September 97⅛.

Messages from the Southwest were apprehensive as to the outcome of the winter wheat crop as the result of the frost. On May 10, 1927, the crop in Kansas was caught in the jointing stage, and the final returns showed a very disappointing yield per acre, although a good part of the damage was not apparent until harvest. The forecast was for frost over the entire country overnight. Spring wheat seeding is making rapid progress in both the American and Canadian Northwest, with an increase of 3.6 per cent in the acreage in the prairie provinces suggested by Murray's report.

Longs in May wheat sold that delivery freely and bought the deferred deliveries, with cash and elevator interests doing the reverse at 5⅛c difference. The effect of the deliveries of nearly 10,000,000 bushels on May contracts Monday was shown in a reduction in the open interest in the near-by future of 9,909,000 bushels. Liverpool lost ⅝@1⅛d for the day, while Winnipeg was strong and ⅞c higher. No export demand of consequence was reported at the seaboard and messages from the East indicated that there were many boats unable to unload owing to the large stock already in elevators and the limited demand from abroad.

Outside interest in corn was light, and while the market showed fair strength early on local buying, it eased quickly toward the last when a leading professional took the selling side. Little attention was paid to the unfavorable weather over the belt for field work. Shipping demand here was fair, with sales of 145,000 bushels.

There was a moderate trade in rye, with the action of wheat the dominating influence. Private reports suggested a crop of 43,000,000 bushels, against 42,000,000 bushels harvested in 1928.

A feature of the provision trade was the light offerings and an advance of 25@35c in hogs. Commission-house buying of lard was better, although the trade was not heavy. The close was at net gains of 12½@17½c on lard, with prices at the top. Ribs were unchanged and bellies unchanged to 2½c lower, the latter on September, with trading light.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The small fresh supply was cleaned up readily. Several loads of plain half-fat cows held over from Wednesday were still unsold, with practically no demand for these kinds. Steers, especially light weight kinds, heifers and the better grades of cows were in fair demand.

A car of mixed medium and good 987-pound Santa Rosa Island steers topped at 11.85, while two cars of 1126-pound island steers brought 11.65. A car of 1165-pound near-by feed lot bullocks realized 11.60, with a car of medium 1003-pound grassers at 11.25. Late Wednesday a car of good 867-pound steers sold for 12.25.

A car of good 836-pound island cows realized 9.25, while only odd head sold higher. Other she stock sales, mostly odd head and small lots of common and medium cows, were noted from 7.50@8.75. Cutters and low cutters were in small supply from 3.50@7.00. Bulls were scarce, a few common and medium kinds selling from 7.50@8.50.

CALVES—The small supply was cleaned up at generally steady prices. Odd head of milk vealers sold up to 14.00, while a car of good 190-pound island vealers made 13.50. Two part loads of good 186 and 225-pound vealers realized 13.00. Several lots of plain vealers and calves sold from 9.00@12.00.

HOGS—The hot weather of the past few days has had a bearish effect on the dressed pork trade. This condition was reflected in the live trade and no sales of butchers had been made at a late hour. The undertone to the market was weak with bids generally 10@15c lower. Active demand existed for packing sows and these sold readily at mostly 25@50c higher prices. Half a load of good 225-pound California butcher sows realized 10.50, with the balance of the load averaging 347 pounds at 10.25. Odd head of other sows made 10.00.

SHEEP—Lamb offerings consisted of a load of common 68-pound truck-in springers at 13.00, with ten culls at 10.00. Medium to choice shorn ewes were quoted from 3.25@7.00.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (AP)—Pronounced activity and in some stocks a conspicuous spread of prices as part of the general upswing featured the trading on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today. Virtually all sections of the list shared in the animation. Large turnovers in individual stocks were common and the market closed strong.

Transamerica, which for several weeks remained practically unchanged, leaped forward at the opening with an overnight gain of 2½ points at 137. From that quotation it climbed to 139 and gradually eased off to close at 138¼, up ⅞.

New highs were registered by four of the industrials. John Bean climbed to a new all-time top at 30⅞, closing strong at this price, up ⅝. Both of the aviation issues registered new peaks, Douglas Aircraft at 39½, up 1⅛, and Aviation Corporation of California at 27¾, from which it later settled to 27. Consolidated Chemical moved up 1⅛ to find a new high at 29½.

Caterpillar Tractor, with a turnover of more than 7000 shares, opened at 84⅜, sagged to 83⅛ and came back with renewed vigor to close at 85⅛, up ⅝. Byron Jackson continued its advance to touch 41 before easing to 40⅞, a gain of ½.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Cotton showed considerable irregularity today, following early advances on relatively firm cables, reports of low temperatures in the South and further rains in eastern and central belts. Advances met selling on indications for clearing weather in the belt, but these were coupled with prospects for frost in eastern and central belt sections which seemed to bring in a little buying during the middle of the day. The mid-afternoon market was comparatively quiet, but fairly steady at net advances of about 10 to 15 points.

STANG!

The guy with the red hair and grizzled mustache who had a little way of using low-brow grammar just for fun, addressed the professorly looking man on the next stool at the way-station lunch counter.

"Mind passing me the horse-radish?" he asked. "Oh, ain't none, heh?"

The professorly looking man kept his faraway gaze studiously on his plate and merely made his heavy eyebrows rustle. The guy, giving him a sideways, anxious look, wondered whether he really thought the slip a real one, and not just made purposely for fun. So the guy decided he had better repeat it, this time with unmistakable joviality.

"Ain't none heh?" he said meaningly, his grizzled mustache wreathed in smiles. His neighbor, masticating earnestly, plopped another lump of sugar into his coffee.

He was hatted, but his hat did not rise and fall as he ate, and the guy, noticing the hallmark of intellectuality, was more than ever determined not to be misjudged.

"Ain't none, heh?" he pursued, this time with quite a loud, worried laugh. "Ain't none! Ain't none! ha, ha!"

"Well!" he said slowly, "they hain't none! watcha gettin' funny about?"—[Detroit Free Press.

A MEASURE OF SPEECH

London newspapers have a way of turning up out-of-the-way "Americana," which even the American Mercury cannot beat. Little or nothing has been printed here about figures on our rate of speech as discussed at the annual convention of the Association of Shorthand Reporters of New York. In London the fact that we are talking much faster than people did a generation ago has led to comment.

Comparison of records made by shorthand experts appeared to prove that Americans gain ten words a minute every twenty years. They may not express any more or better thoughts in the same length of time but they get more words out. The Behaviorists should be able to make use of this information to prove something or other.

Londoners consider the news from a commercial point of view. They fancy American salesmen telling two anecdotes in the time that used to be required for one, and business letters being dictated at breakneck speed. Ordinary conversation of course cannot be measured so easily. Stenographers in their hours of ease do not take down the rapid exchange of remarks that pass for polite talk nowadays. It is safe to conclude that if dictated sentences go faster than they used to, casual conversation flows at a still speedier rate. We employ a kind of shorthand in speech that gives a staccato effect of great rapidity, but our letters at least retain the courteous phrases of commerce.—[New York Times.

HOOVER WEARS A FEDORA

From those reporters whose duty it is to furnish us with interesting if not always important information, we learn that President Hoover wore a fedora to church last Sunday. The significance of this may not leap at once into the sensibilities of the reader unless he recalls, as probably he does not, that it is traditional for the President, when he goes to worship, to wear a top hat. When, therefore, Mr. Hoover appeared at the door of the church with a soft hat, he tore into shreds the custom of generations.

In the greater informality that has come of late, the silk hat, like the spiketail coat and the wing collar, has fallen into disuse and is seldom seen except along New York's Park avenue and in and about the White House. But President Coolidge, although he looked as if he were not entirely happy so attired, was not going to be the one to break precedent, and nearly always wore a topper in public. The new President has struck a blow at this vestige of the old order, doubtless because a soft hat is more comfortable. Or possibly he had heard about William Allen White saying that a dynamic idea never was born beneath a plug hat.—[Kansas City Star.

MARBLE MOVER

Not all men are stereotyped doctors, lawyers, Indian chiefs. In Georgia recently death came to a terrapin hatcher, and in Georgia fifty-five years ago was born a man destined to be an expert marble mover. This man, too, died recently.

Marble is the aristocrat of sculptural materials. Like an aristocrat, it is sumptuous but brittle. Subjected to undue stresses, it splits and cracks. Thus the transportation of marble is ticklish and cannot be done with casual maneuvering as can steel girders. Sculptors exercise prodigious care in moving marble statuary from studios to sites. One fisure will run the labor of years and one fissure may be produced by the slip of one gawkish moving man.

Emmett Lawrence of Georgia could move marble stutuary. And many a sculptor found it out. Frederick MacMonnies, Daniel Chester French, Augustus Saint - Gaudens, George Grey Barnard—all employed Emmet Lawrence. They knew little about him, but it was enough. A tall, powerfully muscled negro, his reputation spread slowly and mysteriously. He knew just what joists to build, what pressures to apply. With perhaps five or six assistants he would work for hours over slow shifts and perilous easements. Emmett Lawrence eyed and estimated, gave the commands. Often night fell or rains came, but there was no stopping. The placing of a marble statue is one task that must be completed without pause.

Emmett Lawrence was always on call, a rare and curious technician. He went to perform his unadvertised handiwork in most of the large eastern cities. Among his placements were the two lions which crouch before the entrance of the New York Public Library. During thirty years of work he never broke or marred a statue.—[Time.

HEIRSHIP TO M'CLINTOCK RECOGNIZED

California, Iowa Groups Establish Relationship in Chicago Will Contest

CHICAGO, May 2. (AP) — The first step toward breaking the will of William P. (Billy) McClintock was accomplished today, favorable to Iowa and California claimants.

John Phillip L. Sullivan decided in Circuit Court who the heirs of the young millionaire are, and the next step is a suit charging undue influence was brought to bear on McClintock by William Darling Shepherd, principal beneficiary. Miss Isabelle Pope, fiancee of McClintock, who under the will is to receive an $8000 annuity, was in court with Shepherd.

Two groups are engaged in the fight to break the will, one known as the California and the other the Iowa group. Both factions were declared today to be heirs.

The case was appealed to Judge Sullivan from Judge Henry Horner of the Probate Court, who found that Bertram Eaton and William Eaton of California are heirs, as well as the following from Iowa: Luella Yokum, Minnie Eaton Kersten, William J. Eaton, Viola Eaton, Charles D. Eaton, Archie A. Eaton and Maude Eaton Walker.

The appeal was taken by the California group which held the Iowa group were not heirs. The suit to break the will probably will not be heard until fall. Heirship of Bertram and William Eaton was established as cousins.

Shepherd in a sensational trial after young McClintock's death was acquitted of charges of killing him by administering typhoid germs.

GHOST SURVIVES INJUNCTION SUIT

Rival Political Pamphlet Permitted to Exist

Emergency Action Develops Strange Circumstances

Court Criticises Affair as Poor Politics

Efforts of the editor of a street-circulated political pamphlet known as the Coast Reporter to enjoin circulation of a rival organ entitled the Ghost Reporter failed yesterday when Superior Judge Gates refused an order restraining circulation of the defendant publication.

Fred H. Girnau, plaintiff publisher of the Coast Reporter, which has indulged in vituperative abuse of several Mayoralty candidates, got Superior Judge Edmonds out of bed at 1 a.m. yesterday to issue a temporary order forbidding distribution of the Ghost Reporter, asserting that such distribution would cause a loss of more than $5000 to the plaintiff.

When the case was called in the court of Judge Gates, Girnau was not present. His attorney, Morris B. McLaughlin, also was otherwise employed. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney Gesller Williams.

DEFENDANTS

Those named as defendants included William G. Bonelli, Mayoralty candidate; J. W. Sutphen, member of the Bonelli campaign committee; the printing firm of Rogers & McDonald, and others. The defendants were represented by Jennings & Belcher and Faries & Williamson.

As the hearing began, Attorney Williams sought to have Attorney Faries held in contempt of court, asserting when Williams greeted Faries in the outer corridor and offered to shake hands that Faries had struck his hand aside and made some uncomplimentary remarks in which the words "infamous suit" and "blackmail" occurred.

Judge Gates assured the irritated counsel that his legal rival undoubtedly had had no personal reference to Williams in his remarks.

As the testimony of witnesses proceeded there was brought to light an extremely involved set of circumstances, including the suppositious loss of a plaintiff who was not present to press his suit and the rights of a defendant who was not identified, either as person, corporation or physical entity.

COPIES OBTAINED

Despite the purported friendliness of the Ghost Reporter to the Bonelli candidacy, his representatives in court denied with great emphasis any knowledge of the publication, its editors or backers. Court was recessed for almost an hour while a messenger obtained copies of the disputed publication for judicial perusal.

When eventually produced, it proved to be more or less good-humored approval of Bonelli's candidacy, strangely enough having one predominant characteristic in common with Girnau's pamphlet—pronounced disapproval of Rev. Bob Shuler.

Girnau, in his complaint, asserted that the rival publication chose the name, Ghost Reporter, in order to mislead the public into believing that his own "dodger," the Coast Reporter, had switched its indorsement from John C. Porter, whom it originally attacked as a "junk dealer," to Bonelli—with a consequent loss, not explained by Girnau, "of more than $5000."

COURT'S ATTITUDE

Called as witnesses for the defense, O. C. Wyman, manager of the Bonelli campaign, and Col. Sutphen, denied knowledge of the purposes or identity of the publishers of the Ghost Reporter, asserting, however, that Girnau himself had offered to support Bonelli, first for a consideration of $1250 and later for $2500.

The testimony of the two witnesses on the subject of Girnau's changeable political allegiance was objected to by Attorney Williams, who said he did not believe it, and without a motion of counsel, Judge Gates ordered it stricken from the record as not pertinent to the case.

In dismissing Girnau's petition, Judge Gates said he could see no similarity between the two pamphlets, that the whole affair impressed him as an affair of "poor politics." The court admonished all of those present to forget such tactics "and get out next Tuesday and elect a good Mayor."

FOR THE COUNCIL

Just as it is good sense to choose a capable, honest board of directors to administer the affairs of a private business enterprise, it is good sense to choose capable, honest men for a public enterprise.

The City Council of Los Angeles is a public enterprise, composed of fifteen members serving in the capacity and in large measure performing the duties of a board of directors.

A man may be a good Councilman and fall short of being a great genius. Common sense, good business judgment, scrupulous honesty and an ability to weigh the relative merits of specific and general civic needs are the principal requirements. In each of the city's fifteen Councilmanic districts there are hundreds of citizens capable of meeting the requirements of the place. It is regrettable that so few of them are willing to seek the office.

However, there are qualified candidates in each of the various districts. In each case the list should be carefully scanned. In some districts the incumbents are seeking re-election. In others all contenders are without experience in the particular work they would undertake. Inexperience is not, necessarily, a serious drawback, as the records of some of those now in office shows that experience does not of itself constitute a recommendation.

In the main the present City Council has been an improvement over its predecessor, but it has by no means accomplished all that was hoped for—or promised. Now, the voters have an opportunity to retain those deemed qualified, and to replace the unsuccessful with more promising material.

Selection of the best equipped men is made difficult in several districts by the large number of candidates and this condition likewise decreases the likelihood of an election at the primary. If voters exercise proper discrimination, however, the more desirable candidates will be given place on the final election ticket, thus making a wise choice possible in June.

Whether the next Council is an improvement over the present one, or is permitted to slip backward lies entirely in the hands of those who mark their ballots in next Tuesday's primary election.

Considerable improvement in Councilmanic service is not only possible, but is highly desirable.

The present Council neither solved the problem of heavy taxation nor that of overlapping and oppressive assessments during its term in office, but lack of aggressive leadership in the Mayor's office probably had much tc do with these failures. There is an excellent prospect that this fault will be remedied in the selection of John Quinn as Mayor. But whoever is chosen for the executive post must have either the support or the restraint of a first-class City Council if the new administration is to function well, and the election of a Council free from boss domination is a genuine requirement.

With a strong, courageous Mayor as president of the municipal corporation, and a qualified, energetic Council as its board of directors, the public business of Los Angeles will prosper.

Because Councilmen are elected by districts there should be no disposition upon the part of any local voting unit to support a candidate devoting exclusive attention to the demands of his immediate constituency. City Councilmen must represent the interests of the entire community and in so doing they will serve with greater vision and with greater effectiveness the real needs of their districts.

It should be a self-evident fact that a member of Council capable of properly representing the community as a whole would be doubly valuable to his own district.

Furthermore, just as it is important to vote for the right man for Mayor in the primary election, it is essential that intelligent selections be made in the Councilmanic primary race. The individual and collective ability of the next Council is a matter of personal moment to every citizen of Los Angeles.

Each voter not only will serve his community, but will himself be repaid by giving this matter serious attention and by exercising care and discrimination in the marking of his ballot next Tuesday.

IMMANUEL TO BE DEDICATED

Elaborate Ceremony on Sunday to Commemorate Completion of New Presbyterian Edifice

Dedication of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, recently completed at Wilshire Boulevard and Berendo street at a total cost of $1,300,000, will be conducted at 4:30 p.m. Sunday with Dr. Hugh K. Walker, Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, preaching the dedicatory sermon. Dr. Walker, who now is pastor of First Presbyterian Church, was pastor of Immanuel Church for fourteen years.

Rev Herbert Booth Smith

Assisting Dr. Walker at the dedicatory exercises will be Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, who has been pastor of Immanuel for the last twelve years and who has been largely responsible for the increase in the financial and membership status of the church which now is the second largest of the denomination in the United States. It has 3800 members.

The services Sunday will begin at 4 p.m. with an organ recital by Clarence Mader. Double processionals of the choir and church officials will be conducted at 4:30 p.m., following which brief messages will be given by Dr. W. E. Edmunds of Glendale, Moderator of the Synod of California; Dr. Graham C. Hunter of Fullerton, Moderator of the Presbytery of Los Angeles, and other churchmen. Special seats will be reserved for the pastors and members of the three colony churches which have gone out from Immanuel Church, namely, Vermont Avenue Presbyterian Church, Wilshire Crest Presbyterian Church and Trinity Presbyterian Church of Belvedere Gardens.

At the new Immanuel church, which is Gothic in style and one of the most beautiful edifices of its kind in California, the Sunday-morning service will be in charge of Dr. Smith, who will preach on "Macedonian Christians." Because of the elaborate and lengthy dedication services in the afternoon the evening service will be omitted.

ASSESSMENT CONFIRMED

In the absence of any appeals, the City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the installation of lights on One Hundred and Eighth street, between Figueroa street and Vermont avenue.

BOYS TODAY WILL REIGN IN SCHOOLS

Youths to Take Places of Principals and Teachers; Recreation Due Tomorrow

Celebration of Boys' Week centers today in the schools where special programs and activities of Boys' Day in the Schools will be observed. While most of the events of the past few days have involved only boys of junior and senior high schools, many of the elementary grades will take part in today's programs.

The various programs differ at each school, but in general boys will take the place of principals, vice-principals and teachers. Some schools have arranged athletic carnivals.

Parochial schools and most of the private schools also will take part in today's events. Joseph M. Sniffen, vice-principal of Franklin High School, is chairman of the committee for today.

In various sections of the city this evening there will be more than fifty father and son banquets given by churches, lodges, Boy Scout troops and community associations.

Tomorrow will bring the end of Boys' Week celebration with "Boys' Day in Recreation." Extensive programs have been arranged to bring fathers and sons together for special outings at the municipal playgrounds and the public school playgrounds. Many of the athletic clubs will give special attention to the day and fathers and sons will be featured at contests. Golf clubs, beach clubs and riding clubs also will have father and son programs.

Yesterday was "Boys' Day in Industry" and more than 5000 were guests at 350 business houses, factories and banks.

APPRAISAL OF CAMPUS TO BE MADE

Education Board Takes Steps to Acquire U.C.L.A. Land for Junior College

In the interest of the proposed Junior College of Los Angeles a survey and valuation of five parcels of land of the Vermont-avenue campus of the University of California at Los Angeles was ordered by the Board of Education yesterday afternoon. The work will be done under the direction of William E. Record, business manager for the board.

When the work has been completed it is understood that an arrangement will be entered into between the Board of Education and the Board of Regents of the university for the purchase of one and the leasing, with option to purchase, of the other four parcels.

Formal notice from the County Counsel was given to the board that the judgment of the Superior Court in the case of Lois S. Saxton vs. the Board of Education had been affirmed by the Supreme Court. Reinstatement of Miss Saxton as a permanent teacher and the payment of $286 was included in the notice.

Oldest-Known Resident Dies at 110 Years

Los Angeles' oldest known resident is dead. She was Senora Gomesinda Lascano, 110 years of age, a Mexican woman of humble station. Death came Wednesday when the sturdy little heart that had powered her through a century and a decade faintly throbbed its last beat and convulsed into eternal stillness.

Senora Lascano was born February 18, 1819, in Mexico. She came here sixteen years ago and made her home with her daughter, Senora Epimenia Sains, 4225 Eugene street, Belvedere.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. today at Henry Crollett's mortuary, 3829 East First street. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery

JINX VESSEL RESURRECTED

Sea-Battered Washtenaw Raised from Bottom for New Chapter in Long, Adventurous Life

Forty-two years to a day from the moment she first entered her element at West Hartlepool as the proud tin-plater, Oxford, the noble old oil tanker Washtenaw yesterday was resurrected from the channel bottom alongside the Banning Wharf at Los Angeles Harbor. Capt. A. A. Morris and Capt. Fred Henderson, salvagers who refloated the famous campaigner in record time, declare they will again make a good ship of her; ready to begin a new chapter of an adventurous, sea-battered life that rivals in romance the thrilling story of the Navy's "Old Ironsides."

"—and so ends the history of a noble and useful, if sea-battered life," said a San Francisco newspaper when, on September 21, 1928, the Washtenaw, as if ashamed of her degradation, broke her mooring lines, turned over and sank in thirty feet of water just on the eve of her departure to become a whaling and fertilizer hulk. Seven times before that had the Washtenaw been in an apparently losing battle with the elements, only to come back for more.

Torn by explosion, hurricanes and battered by the reefs of the Seven Seas, she has always survived. She was launched in 1887, the year of the Queen Victoria jubilee, and was one of the first vessels built of steel and powered with Sir William Armstrong's triple-expansion engines—which, by the way, still will drive her when she is again in commission.

BOILERS EXPLODE

Then the Oxford, she first ran in the New York-Avonmouth tinplate trade, transferred to the South African run and was on hand at the Laurenco Marques uprising. Next, while hauling Chinese coolies from Java she survived a hurricane-engendered mutiny that caused her white crew to desert. A few months later, while she was lying in Boston Harbor, her boilers exploded and killed twenty-one members of her crew.

Repaired, she was hauling ore from Cuba to Baltimore when she ran aground on notorious Molasses Reef, off the Florida coast. She was refloated, repaired, made one trip back to England and then was bought by James Jerome, San Francisco coal operator.

On her way to the Coast she ran afoul of the rocks of the Straits of Magellan and tore out her bottom, but managed to reach San Francisco to enter the Bay City-Nanaimo (B. C.) run, only to go ashore again on Red Rock. Taken to Oakland and patched up, she plied up and down the Coast for many years as a Union Oil tanker. The advent of larger, speedier tankers finally forced her into the discard and she had just been remodeled as a whaling-fertilizer factory and was on the point of sailing for this ignominious business when she decided to give up the ghost and sank of her own accord.

It was in 1906 that the Wash-

NOT GUILTY PLEA MADE BY MACKAY

Continuance of Bribe Case Till 31st Inst. Granted; Davis in Court Monday

After entering a plea of not guilty to asking, agreeing to receive and receiving a bribe, Donald MacKay, former chief trial deputy in the District Attorney's office under Asa Keyes, yesterday obtained a continuance of the case until the 31st inst.

MacKay, now in private law practice, is busy in court trials, and his counsel, Attorney Schenck, likewise is employed, so Superior Judge Shaw granted the continuance. It is probable that it will be continued again when it appears on the calendar.

Monday in Judge Shaw's court Harold L. (Buddy) Davis, former chief deputy to Keyes, will appear to enter a plea to an indictment similar to that of MacKay.

The former chief trial deputy is charged with the felony in connection with the dismissal of several charges against A. I. Lasker, a broker, while Davis is accused of accepting $7500 to "control and direct" the prosecution in favor of E. H. Rosenberg at the Julian stock fraud trial.

The charges are an outgrowth of the confession of Ben Getzoff, convicted "pay-off" man in the Keyes-Julian bribe ring. Shortly after conviction with Keyes and Rosenberg the Spring-street tailor made the confession and received probation from a penitentiary sentehce.

CLIMATE COUNTS WITH COUNT DE CASTELLANE

"Count B. De Castellane."

That signature, written in a bold, yet graceful hand on the register of the Biltmore yesterday, caused reporters who glanced thereat to jump. To the older ones there came hazy memories of that now historical international marriage match back in 1895, that united Anna Gould, of the Gould millions, to Count Boni de Castellane, eccentric young scion of an old French house. The name recalled columns of news growing therefrom and from the subsequent divorce of the American heiress and her later marriage to the Marquis C. Talleyrand De Perigord.

"H-m-m. Let's see. The Count must be quite an old man now. Let's talk to him," mused one of the reporters, and he reached for a telephone to seek an interview.

"Yes, this is Count De Castellane," said a voice from the wilderness of rooms on the upper floors. "I will be delighted to see reporters," the voice added. And so the reporters saw Count De Castellane.

But, newspaper men discovered, while De Castellane is not, as a name, as common in France as is Smith in America, still, there are other Castellanes, and of the nobility, too. The Biltmore guest turned out to be Count Bohdan De Castellane of Paris, world traveler, with a charming manner.

"Oh, yes. Eleven generations ago Count Boni De Castellane and I had the same ancestors. We are of the same original stock. But Count Boni, who, by the way, is now Marquis De Castellane, his father having died, comes from the older line of De Castellanes. I come from the younger, the newer line. But why talk of France and Frenchmen at a time when I am enraptured with this wonderful California," the visitor ex-

STATE'S ORATOR PICKED TONIGHT

'Times' Grand Finals Will be at Bovard Auditorium

Six District Winners to Vie for Contest Honors

Victor to be in Pacific Coast Clash Week Later

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

California's champion orator of the Sixth National and Fourth International Oratorical Contest on the Constitution will be selected at Bovard Auditorium, University of Southern California, at 8 o'clock tonight, when The Times grand finals will be held before an audience representing the leading secondary schools from San Benito and Fresno counties south to San Diego.

The event will be the culmination of the most successful year in the history of the contest in California and will be attended by prominent jurists, educators, business executives, club women and representatives of patriotic organizations and service clubs.

The auditorium will be opened at 7 p.m. and the public is invited. High school students are urged to be there not later than 7:30 p.m. as six rally sections have been roped off for the standard bearers of the six schools whose district finalists are to compete. These sections will be released at 7:50 and no one will be seated after the orations begin.

McGROARTY TO INTRODUCE

Preceding the introduction of John Steven McGroarty as presiding officer, music will be furnished by the Los Angeles High School orchestra under the leadership of Thomas Toolan and the songs and school yells of the rally groups will enliven the setting.

At exactly 8 the remote control from the auditorium to the input panel of KHJ, the Don Lee broadcast station, will be turned on and proceedings of the program will be on the air for one hour. The decision of the judges will be broadcast through KHJ as soon as possible after the announcement from the stage, either at 9:30 or 10.

ORATIONS AND SPEAKERS

Orations will be delivered in the following order:

1.—The Constitution and Our Attitude Towards It, William B. Broderick.

2.—Is the Constitution Serving Modern America? William A. McCoy.

3.—The Constitution—The Supreme Expression of Democracy. Marjorie Forsyth.

Works, presiding justice, Division Two, California District Court of Appeals.

Judges are to consider three points in making their selections: The fitness of the contestant to make a worthy showing in the highest states of the contest—character, poise and personality to be the criterions. The composition of the oration, with particular emphasis on historical accuracy, logic and general literary effectiveness. Moving power—the extent to which the speaker can thrill, quicken and compel.

METHOD OF JUDGING

The judges will ballot secretly and without consultation, using the standard ballot form. If any contestant procures the lowest point total and also first place from a majority of the judges, then that contestant shall be declared the winner. If, however, no contestant procures both the lowest point total and first place from the majority of the judges, then the judges shall be

KEYES AGAIN DENIED BAIL

Convicted Man Plans to Ask High Court for Writ; Doctors Disagree on His Illness

The fight to obtain the release of Asa Keyes, convicted former District Attorney, fro mjail on bond pending decision of his appeal to the higher court will be taken to the District Cour of Appeals at once on a writ of habeas corpus, his attorney announced yesterday following refusal of Superior Judge Shaw to permit bail for Keyes.

Attorney Schenck yesterday renewed his motion for the former District Attorney's release on bond on the grounds that Keyes's health is being seriously impaired by incarceration and that he is suffering from several physical disorders.

RELIES ON PHYSICIANS

Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart did not vigorously oppose the motion, but rather permitted the testimony of physicians to the court to sustain the State's objections.

Schenck placed on the witness stand Dr. Benjamin Blank, County Jail physician; Dr. H. A. Rosencrans and Dr. W. B. Dakin, who testified generally that Keyes has lost twenty pounds in weight since his conviction and is suffering from high blood pressure, kidney trouble and chronic fistula. The attorney also read an affidavit to that effect from Dr. C. W. Cook.

Stewart called Dr. Francis L. Anton and Dr. E. M. Pallette, who asserted they found nothing in Keyes's present physical condition to indicate imminent danger of death or permanent impairment of health.

Dr. Anton said Keyes has the general appearance of a healthy man and, although having lost twenty pounds, now is of about normal weight for a man of his build and age. He said he believes Keyes will "improve from now on" under treatment in the jail infirmary, where he has been confined since Aprill 23.

ADVERSE OPINION

Dr. Blank and the other physicians called by Schenck found Keyes to have an abnormal blood pressure of from 180 to 188, indicating, they said, the presence of serious ailments. Dr. Blank said it is his opinion that Keyes is rapidly deteriorating physically.

"It is not the position of the District Attorney's office to keep Mr. Keyes in custody," Chief Deputy Stewart said to Judge Shaw, "if there is imminent danger to his health or life, but we wish to develop all the facts as to his condition." Shortly afterward Judge Shaw denied Schenck's motion for the bond.

"I have ordered a copy of the transcript of the hearing, Schenck said, "and I shall take the matter to

by Harry Carr

THE end of the Mexican revolution is not entirely farce comedy. There is tragedy, too.

The loss and destruction of property has been ghastly. The railroads which meant so much to the future of Mexico have been wrecked. Farms have been destroyed. Tractors which were displacing crooked sticks drawn by oxen have been stolen to make war tanks that didn't work. The best cattle in Northern Mexico have been driven off and many of them slaughtered.

Worst of all, the Yaqui Indians, who had been subdued after three centuries of fighting, have taken to the hills—with plenty of ammunition, supplies and with a new contempt for the fighting qualities of white men in their hearts.

LONG SUFFERING

The pity of it is that this appalling destruction has been wrought by a small bunch of peewee politicians—seeking graft.

The peasantry of Mexico have sterling qualities. It is amazing that a people who have suffered so from centuries of misgovernment, of neglect, cruelty and oppression, could still retain so much that is fine and kind and willing.

Don't fool yourself about the Mexican soldier. His battles are a joke because his generals are freight brakemen and hack drivers, disguised by high elegance; but he will suffer and fight under conditions under which other soldiers would quit cold.

PRINCE GOES TO WORK

Come right on in, Prince Louis Ferdinand of Germany.

There is something vastly appealing in the determination of this royal sprig to come to Los Angeles and sell Ford cars—meanwhile fortified by a degree as a doctor of philosophy.

No family that ever lived in the world has been so bitterly attacked as the Hohenzollerns. Heaven has compensated them, however. It allowed them to suffer a savage bump in fortune; but it made them smart. With the exception of one dumbbell fat princeling, they are all smart.

A BITTER JEST

The resentment of the Germans against the atrocity stories of the war's early period sometimes took the form of sarcasm.

I remember being invited by a German cavalry captain to his mess. "You will have to take pot luck with us," he said. "The hussar regiment next to us was able to kill several fat French babies for luncheon; but the best we could do was a somewhat stringy old woman. She is to be served boiled."

MUD SLINGING

It would be to the honor of Los Angeles if we could get through this political campaign without mud slinging. There are a lot of candidates for Mayor and none of them is a villain. They are all good people with good intentions. One seems more fitted to the job than the others. A fact over which there is no reason to get nasty.

PHILOSOPHER TO SPEAK

Burr McIntosh, known as the cheerful philosopher, is announced as the principal speaker at the annual Memorial Day exercises of the Southern California subchapter, Rainbow Division Veterans, at Exposition Park. The ceremonies will take place on the lawn near the north entrance on University avenue, beginning at 10 a.m. Arthur C. Davis, chairman of the committee, yesterday announced the local chapter of the French Veterans' Society will be present at the ceremonies.

Jury in Shuler Libel Suit May be Given Case at Special Court Session Tomorrow

DEFENSE TO BE THROUGH TODAY

Stipulations Cut Testimony of Prosecution

Extra Meeting Depending on Length of Arguments

Al Smith Pamphlet Read on Witness Stand

The case of Rev. Bob Shuler, charged with criminal libel, probably will go to the jury of four men and eight women at a special session of Municipal Judge Pope's court to be held tomorrow morning.

This was indicated yesterday when Prosecutors Cannon and Hornaday completed their case in the record time of thirty minutes, and Defense Attorney D'Orr later announced that he expected to complete his case by noon today. Arguments on the issues will then begin and Judge Pope announced that a Saturday-morning session will be held if it is indicated that the case can go to the jury by noon.

TRIAL SPEEDED UP

The trial was considerably speeded up by the process of stipulating to various things that were established by the lengthy method of personal testimony at Shuler's first trial.

To begin with, Attorney D'Orr stipulated that the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, against whom the asserted libel was asserted to have been committed, never took the false oath once attributed to the Catholic fraternal body and which Shuler reprinted in a political pamphlet, "either in or out of their lodge rooms."

Grant V. Jenkins, complaining witness and member of the local Knights of Columbus, then took the stand and testified briefly that he had not taken or administered such an oath. Attorney D'Orr reiterated that he had stipulated to the point.

William J. McGinley, Supreme Secretary of the Knights of Columbus of New Haven, Ct., then took the stand and D'Orr promptly stipulated that the oath was not a part of any Knights of Columbus ritual.

PAMPHLET READ

Having established the falsity of the oath that appeared in Shuler's political periodical, Special Prosecutor Cannon announced his case complete.

The prosecution finished shortly after 10:30 and the remainder of the court day was devoted to the defense reading from the stand the entire pamphlet, "Al Smith by Bob Shuler," in which the false oath appeared. This was in support of the minister's contention that perusal of the whole volume proves that his purpose was a political attack on Al Smith, an indirect thrust at the Catholic church, but no attempt to libel the Knights of Columbus.

Reading of the tract was finished shortly before 5 p.m. and court adjourned until 10 a.m. today, after Judge Pope stated he believed more time would be gained in allowing opposing attorneys to confer in the hope of agreeing on further stipulations that would materially shorten the remaining evidence.

MUCH TIME SAVED BY NEW RAIL-PLANE LINE

Saving of practically an entire business day is claimed by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway through the inauguration, announced yesterday, of daily rail-plane service between Chicago and South Dakota points such as Pierre and Rapid City, with the junction point at Huron. The service is by arrangement with Rapid Air Lines, Inc.

PARENTS SAY DAUGHTER MISLED INTO MARRIAGE

James W. Oliger, artist and decorator, preyed on the sympathies of the woman who became his wife in order to induce her to marry him, according to an answer filed yesterday in Superior Court by Mr. and Mrs. Lon J. Haddock, the wife's parents, to the suit for $250,000 damages for asserted alienation of affections filed by Oliger.

In his complaint, Oliger asserted that while he was paying his court her parents suddenly accumulated about $2,000,000 and thereafter acquired a dislike for him as a son-in-law. After he was married, the complaint states, the defendants induced his wife to leave him and finally to file divorce proceedings.

In their answer, the Haddocks declare Oliger falsely represented to their daughter that he had to wear a silver plate in his chest because of injuries he received when the Lusitania was sunk by a German submarine. When Mrs. Oliger learned of the asserted falsity of her husband's representations she lost her faith in him, the answer concludes.

With the filing of the answer the case now is in a position to be set for trial.

the District Court of Appeals on a writ of habeas corpus at once."

During the hearing Mrs. Keyes and her daughter Elizabeth sat in the courtroom listening intently to the proceedings. Throughout the room there were many other persons who formerly served in the District Attorney's office with Keyes as their chief.

Marriage With Girl Wife Fails

One year of married life with a child wife, 15 years of age when he married her, was enough for Charles W. Wagner, who appeared before Superior Judge Tappaan yesterday seeking a divorce from Verna C. Wagner.

Wagner testified that during the year they were married his young wife accused him of flirting with every other woman with whom he talked. He also said his wife threw a butcher knife at him and pulled his hair.

A decree was granted.

Karin Hiort of Hollywood will be hostess. The committee in charge consists of Umberto Pedretti, sculptor, John Musti, Maverick Terrell, Jeff Holt, O. VIRGIL READING GROUP WILL MEET TONIGHT

In preparation for the Virgil bimillennium, which is to be internationally celebrated next spring, the classical center of the Board of Education is sponsoring a Virgil reading group under the leadership of Neeta Marquis. The group will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at 217 Music Art Building, 232 South Hill street. Comparison of the spirit and expression of Virgil with poets of the Elizabethan, the Victorian and the present-day periods will be made. This will be the first of six meetings.

MINNESOTANS TO MEET

Minnesotans were notified yesterday to attend their May reunion tonight in Music-Art Hall, 233 South Broadway. Announced on the program are Ralph Fisher and Conwell Swenson, "the harmony boys," community singing, led by H. Brubaker, and Miss Reba Terry in solos. Refreshments and dancing are promised to round out the evening for the folks from Minnesota.

PIONEER'S LAST RITES CONDUCTED

J. C. Wilson, Resident of City Since 1874, Laid to Rest at Ventura

A resident of Los Angeles since 1874, during which period he had seen the present city develop from a pueblo, Joseph Chester Wilson, 69 years of age, was buried yesterday at Ventura. He died on Monday at his home, 4327 Kingswell avenue, following a brief illness.

Mr. Wilson was born in New Jersey but came to California at the age of 14 years with his parents. With his father, Joseph Wilson, he operated a vineyard for many years on the present site of the Arcade station. Later the family moved to Duarte and from there he hauled the lumber for the first house to be built in Monrovia.

He was married in 1886 to Augusta Philbrook. He leaves his widow and a daughter, Mrs. B. B. Martin of Gustine, Merced county.

Mr. Wilson was widely known among pioneer residents of Southern California.

Parking-War Peace Terms Subscribed To

Armistice was declared yesterday on the New High-street traffic battle front, back of the Federal Building. While there was a lull in activities, the police department, represented by Capt. Gifford of the traffic division, was in charge of the situation.

In spite of the armistice, ten uniformed officers yesterday made their appearance promptly at 4:30 p.m. and proceeded to look for the numerous cars of Federal employees, which previously had been parked closely together during the working hours of the day as courtesy parking, but there were no cars.

It was learned that a tentative agreement had been reached by the police and Federal officials by which emergency cars of the government may be parked for official business but the young woman of the Internal Revenue Bureau who "sassed" a traffic officer has been parking her flivver in a parking lot.

It was shown that 2269 passports have been issued from January 1, to the 1st inst. In addition to the European passports, a large number were isued for the Orient and South America.

Prominent Men Named Judges

JURY AGAIN FINDS GUILT OF PALMER

Five Statutory-Offense Charges Declared True; Sentence Set for Monday

Henry Palmer, 44-year-old painter who last Wednesday was convicted of abducting Richard Grant, 11, yesterday was found guilty in Judge Wilson's court of five additional accounts accusing him of statutory offenses against the Grant boy, Morris Chapman and Howard Allred.

Palmer will appear before Judge Wilson Monday for sentence on the child-stealing charge and the other counts as well, with his probable total sentence running from six to seventy years in the State penitentiary. It required a jury of twelve men but thirty minutes yesterday to convict Palmer on all five of the statutory charges in connection with his asserted mistreatment of the three boys.

Palmer's activities came to the attention of the police December 22, last, when Richard Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Grant, reported their son had disappeared with him. He was arrested in Roswell, N. M., two months later.

Love for Mother Newest Grounds in Divorce Action

Ella Hall Johnson, known on the screen as Ella Hall, yesterday sued to divorce Alfred Emery Johnson, motion-picture director, asserting that Johnson loves his mother better than he does his wife.

Mrs. Johnson's technical grounds for complaint are cruelty and nonsupport. She says in her petition that her husband did not buy her sufficient clothes and food, and that he permitted his mother to interfere in domestic affairs.

"Everything I have and I am I owe to my mother," Mrs. Johnson quoted her husband as saying. "I owe you nothing," she declared he added to her.

The couple was married September 6, 1917, and separated April 26, 1929. A property settlement was made for the benefit of the two children, it is stated.

called into consultation to select by a majority vote the winner out of the three contestants having the lowest total of places.

Tonight's winner will represent California in the Pacific Coast grand finals at Shrine Civic Auditorium the following Friday night, competing against State champions from Arizona, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Territory of Hawaii. The victorious orator will proceed to Washington, D. C., as one of the eight national finalists to struggle for the United States championship on the 25th inst. All eight will be taken on a six-weeks tour of South America and upon their return the national champion will compete against the winning speakers from twenty-six other nations in a series of eliminations, culminating in the international grand climax at Washington, October 26, at which time will be selected the champion high school orator of the world.

tenaw was converted at the Fulton Iron Works, San Francisco, as a Union Oil tanker and of her sisters of those early petroleum days only the old Argyll, now flying the tricolor of France and running out of Los Angeles to the Compagnie de Boleo mines at Santa Rosalia, is still in service.

The Progresso blew up at the Fulton Iron Works just as she was being converted; the Leelanaw was torpedoed during the World War; while the Santa Maria sailed out of this port with a cargo of oil and never was heard from. But like the ghostly "Flying Dutchman," the Washtenaw, through reefs, founderings, explosion and hurricanes, keeps sailing on.

Capt. Morris and Capt. Henderson, who gained the salvage job from the government, with a bid of $42,500 and 140 days for completion, have been at work for only a month. Controverting theories of all other salvage experts that the hulk of the Washtenaw must first be cut up below water and then removed piecemeal, they sent divers down to close all openings, blew all water out of her hull with air hose and then raised her yesterday with four derrick barges. She will be tied up temporarily at Berth 94 until the six-and-a-half-foot tide next Thursday, when she will be towed to the beach at the Outer Harbor, there repaired and placed in commission.

"Myself, I care not for cities. I spend but little time in them. Give me the desert, the mountain fastness or the country. In every land these are different. Cities, the world over, are alike. You find similar hotels, similar street cars, similar noises and similar people. But country districts and people are different."

Having completed a second tour of the United States within slightly more than a year, Count De Castellane will sail from New York for Paris on the 15th inst. And next year, he said, he plans to visit the countries of South America.

CITIZENS AID ARREST OF BANDIT SUSPECT

Alert citizens aided police in the capture of an asserted bandit a few minutes after he is reported to have held up Miss Osean Jordon, in a confectionery store at 240 North Larchmont Boulevard late Wednesday night, it was revealed yesterday. The suspect gave the name of Tom Lewis, 35 years of age. According to Officers Newman and Elliot, who made the arrest, several citizens reported seeing Newman walk into a rooming-house at 245½ North Larchmont shortly after the robbery. The officers found Lewis in a room counting a sum of money, they said He later was identified by Miss Jordan as the man who took $36 from her, the officers reported.

ATTACK LAID TO MISTAKE IN IDENTITY

Beach Man Believed Victim of Injuries Intended for Some One Else

Mistaken identity is assigned by deputy sheriffs as the reason for the mysterious attack by two sluggers on Fred A. Ripley, 73-year-old real estate man of Hermosa Beach Tuesday. Ripley is in a serious condition as a result of the beating The assailants used blackjacks.

Deputy Sheriff Croushorn questioned Ripley yesterday but he said he knows of no reason for such an attack. He told Croushorn that last November two men visited his apartment and demanded to examine his hand for missing fingers. Finding that no fingers were missing, they told Ripley he was not the right man and departed. He does not remember the description of the November visitors, but believes they were the ones who beat him Tuesday.

Several persons witnessed the attack and the Sheriff's office and the Hermosa Beach police have a good description of the assailants and the car in which they rode.

The two men came to Ripley's office in a car accompanied by another man and a woman. The third man and the woman remained in the car outside while the two men entered. Deputy Croushorn is of the belief that Ripley had been mistaken for another man. When the men fled from the office one of them dropped a blackjack. Efforts are being made to trace finger prints on the weapon.

MYSTERY IN BEATING OF HOUSEWIFE

Woman Unconscious in Home After Ordeal and Husband Detained

Mystery surrounded the beating yesterday of Mrs. Frank Roecliff, 41 years of age, of 4000 1-2 West Seventeenth street, who was found unconscious on the floor of her living-room. Her brother, Walter M. Burton of 4008 West Seventeenth street, found her unconscious when he called at her home yesterday and notified the police.

Detectives of the Wilshire division, after ascertaining that Mrs. Roecliff had been beaten violently, questioned her husband whom they found in the house. When he refused to make any statement he was arrested on charge of suspicion of insanity.

Dr. Donovan Johnson of 1930 Wilshire Boulevard, who was called in, removed Mrs. Roecliff in a semiconscious condition to a sanatorium at 1926 Eighth avenue. The detectives are unable to take further action until she is able physically to make a statement.

Council Resets Cost Session on Boulevard

Hearing of protests against the confirmation of the assessments for the Silver Lake Boulevard opening and widening project, one of the largest jobs of that nature now pending, was postponed yesterday by the City Council to the 17th inst. In the meantime, the Council's Street Opening and Widening Committee will endeavor to work out a modification of the original assessments, as desired by a great number of property owners, and will hold a public hearing on the matter at 2 p.m. on the 14th inst.

This project embraces the widening of Silver Lake Boulevard between Glendale Boulevard and Armstrong avenue and its opening, widening, straightening and extending between Berkeley avenue and Virgil avenue. Its total cost is $521,111.11, and this amount has been assessed against 3100 property owners.

Marble Replica of Noted Statue to be Here Soon

A marble replica of Canova's sculptural masterpiece, "Cupid and Psyche," or "Love's Triumph of Death," is reported en route to Hollywood, scheduled to arrive here in time for dedication on Memorial Day in Hollywood Cemetery. The original stands at Lake Como, Italy, and the replica being sent here is reputed to be the only marble copy in the United States. The replica was carved at a cost of approximately $25,000 for Frank Heron, manager of Hollywood Cemetery.

Elaborate unveiling ceremonies are announced for Memorial Day, when the replica is to be disclosed in the plaisance before the cemetery's memorial chapel. Mr. Heron received word yesterday that the group will arrive in two weeks. Agents in Europe assured him that few experts can tell the difference between the original and the replica. There are only three other replicas in America and they are plaster, at the Metropolitan, Chicago and Carnegie museums.

SIXTH STREET'S SPAN ADVANCED

City Council Orders Plan Put Up to State

Cost of New Viaduct Will Total $2,400,000

Piers for Structure May be Built This Summer

The proceedings preparatory to building of a viaduct across the Los Angeles River at Sixth street, which also will span the tracks of the Salt Lake and Santa Fe railways on the river banks, were advanced by the City Council yesterday when it adopted a report of its Tunnels, Bridges and Viaducts Committee, which instructs the City Attorney to prepare an application to the State Railroad Commission for approval of the agreement between the city and the railroads under which the work will be undertaken.

Although the completion of this viaduct will wait on completion of the Fourth-street span, it is desired to have the project approved by the Railroad Commission as soon as possible so that the piers for the structure may be built this summer.

The estimated cost of the viaduct is $2,400,000, making it the most expensive of the spans across the Los Angeles River. The agreement to be submitted to the commission provides that the two railroads together will pay 25 per cent of the cost. So far as the present agreement is concerned, the city will have to pay the remainder of the cost, but the County Board of Supervisors has adopted a resolution signifying their intention to share the cost with the city.

At present the city has available only $500,000 for the building of this viaduct.

NEW PLAY SOON TO GO TO FLORIDA

McGroarty's "Osceola" Will Close San Gabriel Season on 12th Inst.

The new play "Osceola," by John Steven McGroarty is to go to Florida for permanent production, along lines similar to the annual presentation of the Mission Play here. The introductory presentation at San Gabriel will be closed the 12th inst., perhaps for many seasons in this locality.

"Osceola" has a Florida background. It was written for Florida several years ago but it has not been feasible for Mr. McGroarty to make the test production so far from home so he agreed to build and organize its production in a going form here.

The new play has been acclaimed on a par with the Mission Play. It is full of music and dancing, scenic effects and intense dramatic action.

Mr. McGroarty has created a vivid picture of the one immortal Indian to commemorate whose life and career the State Legislature of Florida recently appropriated funds to build a huge monument.

Assessing for Los Feliz Work to be Changed

The City Council yesterday acted to end the long controversy over the spreading of the assessments for the widening of Los Feliz Boulevard between Brunswick avenue and the east city boundary by adopting a report of its Street Opening and Widening Committee which sets forth a definite outline for the modification of the original assessments. The Council instructed the director of the bureau of assessments to present revised assessments as provided in the committee's outline.

The total assessment for this project amounts to $136,072.62. Under the modification proposed, the assessments on the area back of the frontage will be cut to about half the former figures and the amounts cut off these levies added to the assessments on the frontage. One of the property owners whose assessment will be materially increased is the Southern Pacific Railway, whic horiginally was taxed $13,000 and now will have to pay $28,400.

Sister Offers Third Will by Col. Wheeler

Another claimant to the $600,000 estate of the late Col. E. G. Wheeler, who died last January, leaving two wills, appeared yesterday when Mrs. Nellie Wheeler Bryan, sister of the decedent produced a third document.

The two wills that Col. Wheeler left are dated August 28, 1926 and April 6, 1928. Mrs. Isobel Klein, secretary and nurse of the decedent, offered the 1926 will, by which she claims bequests amounting to $400,000. Victor H. Rosetti, local banker, offered the 1928 will for probate. It divided the estate between him and Mrs. Corra Granger a friend, and gave Mrs. Klein $5000.

Mrs. Bryan's purported revocation was dated September 16, 1927.

Col. Wheeler's affairs were given considerable publicity a year ago, when he sued Mrs. Klein for $24,000 on a note. She countered asking $180,000 for services during the previous eight years.

Suit Filed Over Sea Taxi Boats

In order to have free use of water taxi boats in Long Beach harbor, James L. Standefer yesterday filed suit in the United States District Court seeking a temporary restraining order and a permanent injunction against the City of Long Beach and its officers to prevent them from inforcing Long Beach Ordinance C-806, which restricts the operations of the water taxis.

The plaintiff asserts that he has three passenger boats, which have been used to convey passengers to fishing barges and various places about the coast. The Long Beach officials assert the boats were used to transport passengers to pleasure barges, anchored off the harbor.

GROUP WILL AID IN OIL PROGRAM

Check on Kettleman Hills Drilling Sought

Advisory Committee Named by Wilbur Aide

Double Waste Stressed in Dr. Smith's Letter

The move to check the lively drilling program in the Kettleman Hills oil field has resulted in the appointment of an advisory committee for the purpose of assisting Secretary of the Interior Wilbur in the present emergency.

Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, who postponed a series of interviews with governors of Western States on oil conservation plans to study the Kettleman Hills situation, made the appointments yesterday, as a follow-up of Secretary Wilbur's expression of official intention to obey the mandate of Congress as clearly expressed in Section 16 of the Oil Land Leasing Act. Dr. Smith is Secretary Wilbur's representative here.

ISSUES OUTLINED

In a letter addressed to R. A. Sperry, vice-president of the General Petroleum Corporation, Dr. Smith outlined what he considers to be the main issues at Kettleman Hills. The letter in full, says:

"The present great waste of gas and gasoline from the Kettleman Hills is a matter of public concern; its prevention means control of the well on the government lease to the Milham Exploration Company. Present wastage into the air every twenty-four hours is known to be 75,000,000 cubic feet of unused gas and 20,000 gallons of unrecovered gasoline; these are measured quantities and the losses to both the operating lessee and the government lessor are measurable values, but there is also involved an unmeasured future wastage of oil, the recovery of which from this great depth will be prevented if and when there is insufficient gas remaining in the structure.

"LARGE LOSS TO PEOPLE"

"This double waste related to both present and future production of gas and oil represents a real and large loss to the people of California and this fact compels the Secretary of the Interior to employ every measure possible to safeguard the public interest in the government lease on which this well stands and also the Federal government's property rights in the adjoining lands.

"Acting with the specific authority of Secretary Wilbur, and in his name, I am asking a group of oil men of large practical experience to act as a committee to advise the Secretary as to the possibility and practicability of bringing the Milham well under control.

"I am informed that conditions are not bettering themselves at Milham's well, if, indeed, they may not be getting worse, so that prompt action may be doubly desirable, to stop the present waste and to save the well, if possible."

COMMITTEE PERSONNEL

The personnel of this advisory committee just appointed includes Mr. Sperry, W. C. McDuffie, president, Pacific Western Oil Company; R. E. Collom, vice-president, Marland Oil Company; William Reinhardt, vice-president, Shell Oil Company; Norman A. Rousselot, chief engineer, Milham Exploration Company; Reed Bush, State Oil and Gas Supervisor, and Robert C. Patterson, United States Supervisor of oil and gas leasing operations.

Dr. Smith stated he has received the full co-operation of Mr. Rousselot, vice-president of the Milham Exploration Company, whose well is considered by the government as being out of control. He stated that company officials have assured him that everything possible will be done to bring the well under control, and that they are in full accord with plans for conservation.

Selection of a permanent chairman will be made at an early date, Mr. Smith stated. He has asked Mr. Sperry to act in that capacity and has not been informed that he will not serve as such. But he reported that the committee will meet to select a chairman from one of its members.

Dancer Exhibits Injury to Jury in Damage Suit

Injuries to Miss Betty Kiss, solo dancer, were exhibited to a jury in Superior Judge Edmonds's court yesterday during Miss Kiss's $30,000 damage suit against the California Clay Products Company, owner of an automobile that struck her.

MISS BETTY KISS

Miss Kiss asserts that her ability to do solo dances has been impaired by her accident, in which, she says, her back was permanently injured. She was struck at sixty-eighth and Central avenue September 23, 1925.

Attorneys for the defendant assert Miss Kiss could have avoided the car that struck her if she had exercised due caution.

Allowance Set for Ross's Son

Robert Erskine Ross, sone of the late Justice Erskine M. Ross, will receive $5000 in cash and $600 a month for a year from the residue of his father's $975,000 estate, pending final settlement, Probate Judge Crail ordered yesterday.

The younger Ross's share of the estate is about $200,000, and St. Paul's Episcopal Church and Grace Cathedral of San Francisco inherit the residue, except for a few minor bequests. The churches at first protested against Ross being paid out of their share, but their attorneys stipulated to the agreement.

Today's Bible Text

For thou hast trusted in my wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else besides me. Isa. xlvii:10.

KING FOR A DAY

Seems a pity we couldn't keep some of those bright boys on the official jobs they were temporarily filling. They looked better than the old-timers and probably behaved better.

MORE AMMUNITION

Looks as if poison gas would be pretty thoroughly outlawed in the next war. If we have our way the next war will be fought with lipsticks and curling irons, and it will still be hard to get the men out of the trenches.

IN OLD ENGLAND

King George is able to keep an eye on Parliament and the Prince of Wales has made a couple of journeys by airplane, so that England is once more resting comfortably, with two good men in the seats of the mighty. The Britons are at ease and even the general elections cannot disturb their aplomb.

TALKIES FOR HOOVER

Moving pictures are a regular diet at the White House and now President Hoover is having the place wired so as to permit the introduction of the talkies. Most statesmen like their drama noiseless, but the big chief at Washington seems willing to take a chance. Maybe this is what they call the square deal.

STILL HAS COURAGE

Democrats are going to maintain permanent headquarters in Washington, but not in the White House or the Capitol. The offices and activities will be in charge of Jouett Shouse, who seems to carry a name with a prewar tang. Exactly why the Democracy should carry on is not clear to all citizens, but there it is.

LOOKING WITHIN

A white-domed scientist assures us that this ancient earth of ours is a vast sea of molten glass at its interior and our continents rear themselves up from this fiery mixture. If we have plate glass insides some of these professors who are X-raying the globe will be able to see right through the blooming thing. Folks should be careful how they throw stones.

OVER THE BORDER

Advices from the border indicate that this country is getting to be a mere round-up of Mexican generals. It would seem that we have enough of them to inspire a general alarm. If they think they can rest up here until they can frame up another revolution they are off their feed. This is no training camp for disturbers. If they don't behave we can send them back to Gil and Calles and see what happens to them.

NO THIRD DEGREE

There would be no more third-degree stuff in harrying criminals and suspects under the provisions of a bill which has passed the Senate at Sacramento. It provides that a confession to be admissible as evidence must be sworn to and taken down before some magistrate or court officer. This may not halt all third-degree methods, but it would rather disqualify them in a court record. The cops will probably know what to do.

MILLS OF JUSTICE

Under new measures touching court practice six commissioners would be named to assist the courts in Los Angeles county. They could take depositions and hear evidence in certain cases and in various ways save the time of a regular court. There is also provision for an appellate wing of the Superior Court here. This would be made up of three judges assigned by the judicial council and would pass upon appeals from the municipal and justice courts. The standards of the minor courts would also be raised. A justice in a district having more than 30,000 population would receive a salary of $6000 and these minor courts would have jurisdiction in cases involving all sums up to $1000. The legislators have been passing a lot of bills intended to expedite justice and improve its quality.

A LESSON FROM FUTILITY

President Portes Gil of Mexico is quoted as saying that the Mexican revolt which has just ended with the surrender of the last town held by the rebels, was worth its estimated cost of $7,500,000 as a demonstration of the futility of such movements. Certainly it shows that the Mexican people, as a whole, are heartily tired of continual disturbance. The revolt was well planned strategically, and had it received any degree of popular support might easily have succeeded. But even the troops led by the revolting generals had no heart in the sorry business.

The loss, of course, is far more than the money cost to the government, since there is no estimate of business disrupted, damage to communications, and property destroyed, not to say lives lost. But even at that, if this revolt should prove to be the last gasp of unreasoning militarism and government by dictatorship, its results will be extremely beneficial and worth the heavy cost.

A program of popular education, of the arousing of popular interest in government, and of industrial development, was begun by President Calles and carried on by President Portes Gil, but interrupted by the Escobar outbreak. It may, it is to be hoped, now continue. The Portes Gil program may not be workable in all of its details, which can only be demonstrated by trial, but it at least looks toward a complete solution. Progress can be found in no other way.

There were some tactical lessons from the military operations, which serve to cast doubt on the theory that aviation will be a decisive factor in any future war. As scouts, the planes in use failed completely to detect troop movements when these took place at night; and as bombers they accomplished nothing. The air service was not very expert on either side, it is true, but on the other hand neither side had any defense against air attacks, and under such conditions even inexpert pilots should have been able to contribute something to the result. There is no proof that the plane is without value, but there are indications that its military value may have been overrated.

The American aviators who took part in the revolt, and who are now clamoring to be received back into the bosom of the nation they have disgraced, really deserve being bundled back across the border to face Mexican firing squads. If it is found possible to punish them here for their offense against neutrality, that punishment should be swift and severe. Especially is this true of the man or men who bombed Naco, Ariz.; there is little doubt that those bombs were thrown deliberately on the American side of the line, with neither reason nor excuse. The boundary was plainly marked by a railroad—one of the most visible of objects from the air. They should have been shot down at once by the American troops. Forbearance in such cases is never a virtue.

MUNICIPAL COURT JUDGES

Presiding Judge Turney, in his statement as to the importance of a good selection of Municipal Court judges, does not overestimate. In many respects, the Municipal Court is the most important group of courts in the city. Not only does it try a vast number of cases on its own account, but it is the sieve through which, in criminal matters, nearly all business of the Superior Court is first sifted. It comes in contact with far more people and more especially with the poor and the ignorant who need their rights protected with sympathetic understanding, than does the Superior Court.

"When the average citizen is involved in a legal case, he goes into Municipal Court; from this court he draws a picture of American justice," Judge Turney points out, and goes on to say that the loss of confidence of the people in courts can largely be restored if the municipal bench is filled with men of learning, courage and character, who will deal justice tempered with mercy where that is required, and lay a heavy hand upon willful malefactors and the really criminal class.

Under Judge Turney's skillful leadership, the Municipal Court, if the right men are selected for it, will put a stop to the purchase and sale of justice, will prevent the pollution of the court by shysters and crooked professional bondsmen, will send fixers where they belong, will see that the constitutional rights are obtained by the unfortunate and will deal the lash to organized crime and commercialized vice.

But the voters must do their share of this important work at the city primaries next Tuesday.

SPRING HEELS

This is the age of balloon tires, air cushions, springs, kick men and rubber heels. Everything that softens the jolts and jars of this world or pads the hard surface of things is held in high esteem and price.

The boy was once a prisoner of conventions. He was the prayer of the ancients and the pest of the neighborhood. He survived only because he was hardy. His name was "Johnny, Don't!"

Today instead of grabbing youth back, we put springs under his heels to give him a start in the race. Everything in honor is done to shoot him forward toward the goal. Hoyle has been revised as far as the boy is concerned. He has little time to get into trouble. When he shows signs of fatigue or lack of attention, something else is flung at him to do.

The boy may not know it and the world may not appreciate it; but Montessori was the emancipator of youth. Instead of erecting more reform schools, we are developing playgrounds. Instead of tying idle hands to bed posts, we offer levers and throttles. Instead of developing bad habits, the boy is finding himself.

Instead of being taken out to the woodshed, the lad is taken on a hike. And he usually knows more woodcraft than his dad. Instead of being punised for smoking behind the barn, the boy is given a football and he finds out for himself that a tobacco heart does not make touchdowns. This disposes of yellow fingers. Yellow boys are not in high repute on the gridiron.

Some modern highbrows weep over the enthusiasm for modern athletes and the high price of coaches. But making the team is making men clean. Youth does not have time to day-dream and indulge in evil imaginings. His cranium is filled with end runs and base hits. Cleanness has a way of its own of graduating into strength. Evil spirits cannot stand physical exercise.

One of the modern prophets is the coach. He may be gruff like all prophets. The bleachers may want to kill him as they have done the prophets from the beginning. But he is the herald of a new day and is turning out a cleaner generation.

SLOW-MOTION ANNEXATION

San Francisco advocates of the annexation to their city and county of the whole of San Mateo county are growing very impatient. They want to know why, after holding twenty-two sessions, the consolidation committee has not found a practical plan of union. More than two years ago several civic organizations in San Francisco, under the inspiration of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, met and authorized the local Bureau of Municipal Research to investgiate the possibilities of annexation or consolidation. The bureau made an exhaustive report favoring the plan and showing how it might be carried out under the State constitution. Since then those twenty-two meetings have been held by the consolidation committee, and there has been much talk but no definite action.

According to the Redwood City Tribune, "champion of the best interests of San Mateo county" and opponent of consolidation, the consolidation committee is made up of the best minds in both counties, and yet Allen G. Wright, legal counsel of the organization, states that no plan has yet been devised that will make consolidation possible.

Does this mean that while San Francisco is hot for consolidation San Mateo county is cold or lukewarm? Is the dream of the Bay City folk of adding to their forty-two square miles of territory and 700,000 population the 447 square miles and 70,000 population of San Mateo county never to be realized? The constitution amply provides for such consolidation or annexation, but the unfavorable vote of one community would block the plan. Still such a vote seems unnecessary, as the committee's inertia already has blocked it.

From the San Franciscan point of view it was a mistake that the two counties, once a homogeneous and more or less harmonious whole, ever were divided. But it is too late now to lament over the fact, and it seems fair to say, as a local journal has stated, that "consolidation is far away and may not be realized during the next decade, possibly not for several decades."

THE MOUSETRAP AGAIN

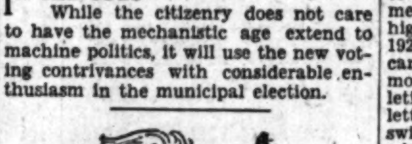
If you do nothing but swat a stick against a bit of horsehide better than anybody else, the world will wear a beaten path to the gates of the ball park and your wedding bells will ring on the front page.

BIDDING DEFIANCE

Now some speculators are going to park a big ship about twenty miles off the Atlantic coast and use it for a filling station for the regular liners plying between New York and Europe. It would be heavily stocked with the best liquors to be had anywhere and it would take care of the booze problems of the ocean greyhounds. Ships may not enter or leave American ports bearing anything but limited stores of medicinal liquor. There would be nothing, however, to prevent them from taking on unlimited supplies in the open sea if the facilities were provided. The supply ship could also be used as a safe deposit for the liquor surplus remaining on a liner as she approached American soil. This ocean renegade would be a floating clearinghouse for all trans-Atlantic vessels so far as the rum industry was concerned and might be in position to defy the flags of all nations.

IN THE COGS

While the citizenry does not care to have the mechanistic age extend to machine politics, it will use the new voting contrivances with considerable enthusiasm in the municipal election.



THE MOLECULE ROUND UP

By James J. Montague

With microscopic scale and rule,
  The scientific cults
Are measuring the molecule
  With accurate results,
And having learned it girth and height
  They then can calculate
With every chance of being right
  Its density and weight.

A task like this for burly man
  Is hardly any cinch.
A molecule will barely span
  The millionth of an inch,
A distance very few can see
  Upon a rule or tape—
Moreover it is apt to be Irregular in shape.

I think the reader may regard
  This job as little fun.
And it is really rather hard,
  But still it can be done.
A molecule is not a germ,
  As everybody knows.
It does not wriggle, write and squirm;
  It's always in repose.

And if one to the task will bring
  A scientific skill
Then he can measure anything
  As long as it stands still.
When molecules are measured, we
  Of course shall learn a lot
Of benefit to you and me,
  Although I don't know what!

What Printer Thought Appropriate

Considerable embarrassment was caused in one of our suburbs recently by typographical errors in the published report of an address by the town's leading orator. Before turning the copy over to the newspaper, it is said, the orator kindly edited it a bit, writing in the word, "Applause," in parentheses, here and there, as he knew the paper would be rushed to get it into the next edition. Even so, the paper was so rushed that there was no time to proofread the speech, and some of the hastily written additions to the copy were, the printer affirms, misread. After several of the most flowery passages of the speech as it appeared in print was the word, "Applesauce."

Can This Possibly Be Satire?

Leeside: I see that the commercial fishermen want to slaughter all the sea lions because they are "destroying $100,000 worth of fish daily." Also that the Legislature wants to put a curb on the fish canneries because so many tons of the larger size sardines are being made into fertilizer daily, to which the canneries retort that the fertilizer business is no menace whatever to the fish supply. Also that State Fish and Game Commission figures show that in one month approximately 50,000,000 pounds of commercial fish came in over the fish wharves at San Pedro alone. It is appalling to think that in only 10,000 to 50,000 years the sea lions, natives of these waters, have so depleted the supply that now the commercial fishermen, who are not natives but mostly came here from foreign lands only a few years ago, can catch only a meager 50,000,000 pounds of fish monthly. So I think it high time the sea lions were destroyed, as, at the present rate, they might seriously diminish the tonnage of fish in Southern California waters in another million years or so. And also to save these native sea lions from the sad fate of being starved to death by the foreign fishermen.—E. B. G.

Recently we mentioned La Habra as a very homey town. Here's some evidence from the La Habra Star: Those who wish to participate in the mixed foursomes at the Hacienda Club Sunday are invited to bring their kiddies with assurance that they will be well entertained. These mixed foursomes have been popular for some time, but with a view to making them more attractive a playground has been provided, where members may park their babies when engaged in play.

LETTERS TO The Times

In the Sweat Box

HAWTHORNE, April 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am glad to note the mothers making a protest against this educational burden which has been gradually foisted on the children of today.

Children of today are compelled to study subjects long before they have the necessary mental development for it. Geographies and histories are placed in their little hands in the grammar grades before they can read their readers intelligently. In other words, the whole system from beginning to end is a forcing process—a speeding up.

We wonder why the modern young people are old, tired, disillusioned by the time they are 20 and the answer is in this terrible, relentless cramming process that goes on day after day, and year after year. The "wildness" of the present generation is a natural reaction to this unnatural condition. What is needed is not increased hours of study, but much fewer than at present with more attention paid to fundamentals and more hours for rest and outdoor recreation.

The world is full of unhappy misfits. Griffith, the great director, has been quoted, when asked his recipe for happiness, as saying that the greatest happiness in the world is in doing the work for which one is fitted. That, in my estimation, is the answer to this whole educational problem. In the light of this think of the terrific waste of time and money now spent on the present system, not to say anything of the irreparable wrong done many a child who has no aptitude for academic learning, but who might be fundamentally destined to become a great artist, a great musician or a great engineer.

As Mothers Think

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read a letter by Christine Sterling protesting at the amount of home work given children, and believe she puts in concise terms the feelings of the majority of thinking mothers.

We hear a great deal about the high tension under which the present adult is laboring and the crying need for relaxation unless we would become a race of neurotics. Is assigning home work in such quantities that, if the child is conscientious, it precludes the necessary amount of relaxation due a growing child, going to build up a calm clear-sighted nation?

Are Parents Helpless?

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Christine Sterling is to be commended for her letter calling attention to the great amount of home work given in the Los Angeles schools, especially the Junior High and High School. I also wish to thank others who have written. Come, let's hear from all; let's deluge The Times with letters. Maybe they will come to our assistance in protection of the youth of Los Angeles. Certainly the parents have some redress. Many mothers have said to me, "Are we helpless? Can the schools do just as they please with our children?"

A Student's View

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In reply to the letter of Mignon Ford Hantke, who states that J. L. Lamb didn't go to school in this "fast" age, let me say that I graduated from high school at the age of 17 in 1926. During my senior year I carried a paper route every morning and engaged in athletics sufficiently to earn three letters in basketball, two in swimming and one in tennis. In addition to this I went out evenings as much or more than was good for me.

You will find that the students who stay up until midnight studying more than three or four nights a week are the kind who take gym only because it is required and who wouldn't get any more recreation if they only had two hours a day of school.

BATTLE FOR BEAUTY

BY LANNIE HAYNES MARTIN

"Save-the-Wild-Flowers" plea, which nature clubs and beauty lovers have been uttering so long, is no longer a mere verbal protest; it has become an ordinance. In Los Angeles county the ordinance protecting wild flowers only became effective on April 15, 1929, and many do not yet know that a fine and imprisonment are punishments which may now be legally imposed on anyone "for the mutilation, destruction, collection or removal of plants, or parts of plants" of certain designated species.

Among these are the dainty, elusive arbutus; that fragile, butterfly flower, the Mariposa lily; the wild delphinium and the white and yellow lupin; as well as all cacti, mountain laurel and many other native shrubs and flowers.

The counties of Imperial, San Diego, San Bernardino and Riverside have also passed ordinances to protect the wild flora of Southern California, and many committees, composed of private citizens, have offered their services in assisting the authorities to convict the violators of this God-given beauty, which should be treasured as the State's most precious heritage.

The protection given the yucca in the last few years has resulted in the hills being recrowned with that white candelabra of beauty which was fast vanishing, due to its wanton destruction by ruthless hordes who often carried away wagon loads of blossoming plants, and it is hoped that the recent legislation regarding the shy, helpless wild flowers of this section will bring back that variegated carpet of loveliness which glittered like the gold of Ophir in the yellow poppies on the hills, and gleamed like sapphires and amethyst in the fields of blue and purple lupin.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Bacteriology?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address, Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The bacteriology class at the Polytechnic Evening High School is under the guidance of a World War veteran, E. Earl Eggleston. Eggleston was a pharmacist's mate in the Navy during the war. The work of the class is very technical, but very interesting, and of great value in understanding present-day methods of preventive medicine.

University entrance credit is given for this study. Also there is a gain of much information and laboratory training by students who are engaged in the following places: dairy laboratories, clinical laboratories of hospitals, doctors' offices and the city water laboratory. Nurses, chiropractors and optometrists are among the enthusiastic members of the class.

This class meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, from 7 to 9 p.m., in the Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard. There is no charge for tuition or for laboratory fee. The text-book is loaned free, but a deposit of $2.10 is required to guarantee the safe return of the book.

PICKING A MAYOR

'Twill soon be time to go and pick
A man for Mayor, one who will stick,
One we can love, or mayhap kick,
  Before his term is through;
We would not mind just two or three,
Or four or five, or six maybe,
But fourteen—count 'em—fourteen, Gee!
  What can a poor man do?
And as election day draws near,
Just what to do is not quite clear—
Quinn, Bonelli, Porter, Greer?
  All honest men no doubt:
Or shall we our attention fix
On Workman, Colden, Smith or Nix?
  How do you pick em out?
We've heard 'em talk, but fear we can't
Just get the real wide-open slant—
Hopper, Harris, Knapp, LaPlante?
  All glibly answer, "Here;"
There's nothing that the town demands,
But what each man with lifted hands,
Swears that's exactly where he stands,
  It seems a trifle queer.
On harbor plans, gas, power and light,
They all agree and vote just right,
Why should we worry then or fight
  Upon election day?
Predictions? Worth, perhaps, a pin,
But just one entry rhymes with win,
And that is—yes, yes—J. R.
  Quinn.
  What will the ballots say?

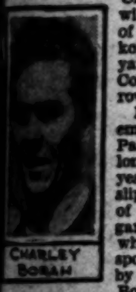
TRACK MENTOR FAVORS TROJAN

Thinks Star More Seasoned Runner of Two

Not Sure That Wykoff is in Perfect Shape

Hayhurst, Cromwell String With Own Boys

BY BRAVEN DYER



Boyd Comstock, former Yale, Southern California and L.A.A.C. track mentor, has a hunch that Charley Borah will finish ahead of Frank Wykoff in the 100-yard dash at the Coliseum tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Comstock emerged from Palos Verdes long enough yesterday to let slip a few words of wisdom in regard to the race which has the sporting public by the ears.

Boyd has seen a lot of track and field teams in his day, and inasmuch as he is a disinterested spectator in this particular case, his opinion is worth consideration.

"Ordinarily I would say that Wykoff is the better bet in the race," said Mr. Comstock, "but in the present case I have a hunch that Borah will get to the tape first. Wykoff, as far as is known, has run but one good race this year—that at Fresno, when he twice equaled the world's record. Nobody knows definitely just how strong Frank is. They can't tell whether he has thoroughly recovered from the illness of last winter, although his good marks at Fresno would appear to indicate that everything was all right."

BORAH SEASONED

"Borah, on the contrary, is thoroughly seasoned. He has run easily and steadily from the start of the year and has shown improvement in every race. Charley is a very fine sprinter and in top shape I sometimes doubt if there is anybody in the country who can take his measure. Were it a month later I think I should pick Wykoff, and I am by no means sure that he won't win tomorrow. On the face of things as they are I just have a hunch that Borah will be the victor. The whole thing is really a 50-50 proposition, but you can't rule a fellow off for having a hunch."

Normal Hayhurst, the Glendale High School coach, avers that Wykoff will win and set a new world's record of 9 2-5s. Dean Cromwell, who mentors Borah, believes that his boy can beat any runner in the whole wide world when he's in proper condition. And Borah's right this week, so that settles that.

Figures don't lie and in the finals at Fresno each runner did 9 3-5s. There were six watches on each race and in each instance four of the watches said 9 3-5s. and the two others read 9 2-5s. This was in the race where Borah and Wykoff were both giving 'er the gun. Of course, Wykoff did 9 3-5s. in his heat while loafing around twice. Borah's time

Local Pucksters Trim Vancouver, 3-2, With Rally in Final Period as Season Ends

The much-abused All-Star ice hockey team wound up the local puck season last night at the Winter Garden, scoring a surprise 3-2 victory over the Lions, their first and only win of the five-game series.

The Stars rallied furiously in the final period to take the contest, after they were trailing badly, 2 to 0, at the end of the second chapter. Sanderson and Beatty had hung up goals for the Lions at that time.

Jim Seaborn, the big St. Louis defense player, was the shining light of the game, scoring two goals, one unassisted and one on a pass from Peltier, Burr Williams of Duluth and Hollywood, scored the other tally for the Stars.

The game almost ended in a riot. Bill Phillips of the Vancouver outfit and Dale Wells of the Stars staged a private brawl in the final period, and both were banished from the game. One of the best crowds of the season witnessed the encounter.

Borg holds no less than ten world's records for distances over 200 meters and he will be out tonight to show local fans that he is the greatest middle-distance swimmer of the world.

GROVE TAMES RED SOX

Conquers Lowly Boston Outfit for Second Win in Two Days; Dykes is Hero

BOSTON, May 2. (AP)—Lefty Bob Grove boosted his total victories for the season to three and won his second game in two days here this afternoon by pitching the Athletics to a 5-to-1 triumph over the recumbent Red Sox. The victory gave the Mackmen three out of the series of four.

Grove pitched the first five innings of yesterday's 24-to-6 rout of the Red Sox, but quit the game at Connie Mack's orders at the height of the big sixth-inning rally. The Baltimore southpaw went the route in fine style today and might have had a shut-out but for his own awkwardness in interfering with Flagstead on the third-base line in the fourth.

LEFTY GROVE

Flagstead had doubled and rounded third on a wild throw by Haas. Grove gazed admiringly at the efforts of the veteran outfielder to churn his way around the paths, but neglected to remove himself to a sufficient distance as Flagstead tore toward the plate. Umpire Van Graflan allowed the home runner to score.

Grove, allowed only six hits and fanned nine. He walked two of the Red Sox.

Jimmy Dykes played a brilliant game at shortstop, and joined the other two members of the lowest one-third of the Philadelphia batting order in making life miserable for Jack Russell and Danny MacFayden. These three men, Miller, Dykes and Grove, got six of the

ENGLISH CRY FOR REVENGE

Annihilation of Yankees in British Open is Hope of Island Press

BY WILLIAM SHIRER
Tribune Copyright

LONDON, May 2. (Exclusive)—The usual reticent British press is beside itself crying for the annihilation of the greatest group of golfers the United States ever sent to this side in the national open championship starting at Muirfield, Scotland, on Monday. One Yank or another won it seven times since the war and it is felt here that the tendency should be the other way.

HORTON SMITH

Going further, the press demands that British youth take the Tildens and Hunters, Cochets and La Costes, Wills and Alvarezes for the ride of their surprised lives at tennis. After British golf supremacy comes British tennis supremacy.

But even that is not all. Local scribes have agreed that Phil Scott, who in the opinion of not a few succeeded Joe Beckett as the British and world's horizontal champion, is really Gene Tunney's rightful heir and they are clamoring for a titular bout for him with either Max Schmeling or Jack Dempsey.

"We have got rid of our inferiority complex at last. The Americans taught us to play games to win, not just for fun," comments the Daily Telegraph in predicting the end of American supremacy in golf and Franco-American supremacy in tennis.

LEGIONNAIRES EVEN IN DERBY; SALO CUTS LEAD

FRANK SHELLENBACK HURLS HOLLYWOODERS TO WIN

Crandall Shuts Out Slugging Angels, 4 to 0

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—The venerable Dr. Otis Crandall, who has been in baseball since the game was young, continues to be a stumbling block in the way of the pennant hopes of the Los Angeles Angels. In a recent series in the southern city, the veteran twice turned back the hard-hitting Seraphims and, as if to prove that those two victories were no flukes, he whitewashed them today by a score of 4 to 0.

DOC CRANDALL

Although the Doctor was touched up for a total of eight hits, only two less than the Senators gathered, he kept them well scattered and only twice was he in real danger of having anything disastrous happen to him.

In the second inning the Angels had the S.R.O. sign out on the bases with two out and Roberts slammed a drive to left field that had all the earmarks of an extra base hit and a flock of runs. But at this stage Frank Osborne turned up with one of the most sensational catches ever seen in the local park, a high-stepping, one-handed snag with his back against the wall.

THREATEN IN NINTH

The Angels flourished a threat in the ninth inning when Jacobs and Stats slashed out hot singles, but again the Doctor's support came to his rescue. This time it was a flashy

Seattle Errors Help Vittmen Trip Tribe

BY BOB RAY

After having suffered untold embarrassment at the hands of the lowly Seattle Indians during the first two games of the series, Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars finally gained a decision over the cellarites out at Wrigley Field yesterday, the score being 4 to 3.

FRANK SHELLENBACK

Frank Shellenback, whose salivaed shoots have produced victories for Hollywood his last five times out, was the hurler to finally put the skids under the Indians, who had broken their record for the season by turning in three straight victories. It was a hot day out on the mound for Shellenback and it looked as though he was going to run out of saliva in the eighth inning, when the Tribe chased over a couple of scores to climb to within one run of the Hollywooders, but the big right-hander made himself think about lemons and his mouth started watering so the crisis was safely passed.

COLLARD HURLS WELL

Hap Collard, who opposed Shellenback in a mound duel that was as hot as the thermometer, pitched a great brand of ball himself, but a couple of Seattle Indians proved the undoing of the veteran Tribe twirler. The Indians made only two miscues, but both of them paved the way for Hollywood tallies. Three of the four Hollywood runs were unearned, so

Joe Roche Fights Wesley Ketchel of Hudkins String Tonight in Hollywood Rin

BAY CITY BOXER RULES FAVORITE

Windy Windsor's Battler Wants Hudkins Go

Clash Tonight is Rematch Between Principals

Torndorf Meets Fitzgerald in Semi-Wind-up Spot

Joe Roche wants to prove he is the outstanding challenger among the California middleweights for a fight with Ace Hudkins. Roche fights a Hudkins fighter in the main event at the Hollywood Legion stadium in Wesley Ketchel and Roche is favored to win. He has won his last two starts at Hollywood and in beating Homer Sheridan he showed quite some ability for a youngster only 22 years of age.

JOE ROCHE

The Hudkins's boys manage Wesley Ketchell. They brought him here from the Middle West figuring that he would be able to hold his own around here. He has fought Roche once. A few weeks ago the same fighters met at Portland and Roche won but not until he had been floored by Ketchel for a nine count. Ketchel is a southpaw who is supposed to be a socker.

When the main event goes on tonight Ace Hudkins will be a ringsider. Ace may be called upon to fight Roche, who is claiming the Coast middleweight title since Bert Colima has refused to fight the San Franciscan. Hudkins says he is the Coast middleweight king and if anyone disputes that fact he will talk business. Roche, through his manager, Fred Winsor, has already filed his challenge.

The main event may end in a kayoc, according to Windy Winsor. That is one way to get the Hudkins family riled up, claims Winsor, and he is prepared to smoke them out.

If the preliminaries hold up there should be some fireworks. Freddie Fitzgerald, an eastern junior welterweight, fights Frankie Torndorf in the semi-wind-up and Fitzgerald's reputation has made him the favorite. He is fast, a good boxer and packs a pretty good sock.

Leonard Bennett is favorite to win from Tommy Smith in the special. Sammy Seamon fights Percy Gilbert in one four-rounder and Cupie Hernandez will meet Leonard Rahming in the curtain-raiser.

HUDKINS OFFERED BOUT

SAN JOSE, May 2. (AP) — Ora Forman, local boxing promoter, today telegraphed an offer to Ace Hudkins, contender for the middleweight title, to meet Chick Devlin of San Francisco in a ten-round bout here May 18 during the Rose Fiesta. Forman said he offered Hudkins 60 per cent of the gate receipts.

SHELLENBACK STOPS TRIBE

Hollywood Ends Losing Streak by Trimming Indians in 4-3 Game; Ostenberg Shines at Plate

Collard can't be blamed for the defeat.

The contest not only was an interesting affair, but the athletes hustled it to a conclusion in one hour and thirty-six minutes, which is pretty fast playing at Wrigley Field, which has become noted for its lengthy encounters this spring.

Leo Ostenberg, the young third-sacker who was allowed to languish on the bench while the Stars were moaning for power, again came through at the plate as well as performing in brilliant fashion at the hot corner. Since being injected in the Stars' line-up Wednesday, Ostenberg has collected a triple, double and two singles, driven in five runs and scored two himself. Yesterday Osty banged out a double and a single in three times at bat, driving in one run and then personally romping across the plate with what proved to be the winning marker.

STARS SCORE FIRST

After three rounds of scoreless ball, the Stars broke the ice in the fourth after two were out. The trouble started when Taylor let Ellsworth's throw go right through his mitts and Cleo Carlyle reached first safely. Wally Rehg followed with a double into the right-field corner to punch Carlyle across with an unearned tally. Carlyle did some fancy stepping around the paths to score from first on the poke. Rehg continued to third on the play at the plate, but perished there when Heath lofted to Wade.

Seattle tied the score in the sixth, the Indians' run also scoring after two were out. Wade singled to left center with two down and scampered home on Dave Barbee's double off the right-field screen. Barbee was nailed at third trying to stretch the blow into a triple, Rehg to Heath to Ostenberg.

Hollywood put over three runs in the seventh to break the tie and those tallies ultimately proved the ball game. Knothe, after making a nice stop of Carlyle's slashing hit, made a wide heave to first and Cleo was safe to start some excitement. Rehg flied to Eckhardt, Carlyle stole second and came home on Heath's single to center. Ostenberg doubled to right to send Heath over the plate. Bassler went out on an easy fly to Barbee, but Shellenback aided his own cause by smacking a single to center that enabled Ostenberg to gallop over the plate with the deciding run.

INDIANS GET TWO

Muller singled to open the Seattle eighth, but Knothe forced him at second. Wade drove a low liner to center that Carlyle attempted to catch off his shoe tops and failed. Knothe scored on the drive and Wade got a triple. When Lee mussed up Carlyle's throw-in, Wade rounded third and scored with the aid of the miscue.

Steinecke, who had replaced Borreani behind the plate for Seattle, singled after two were out in the ninth, but Collard forced him at second, Rollings to Lee, to end the struggle. Score:

Foul Tips

It will be speed against slow stuff on the mound today with Buzz Wetzel slated to pitch for Hollywood against Rudy Kallio. Wetzel beat the Seals, 2 to 1, in ten innings his last time out.

Fred Muller has been playing a bang-up game of ball since Ernie Johnson shifted him from third to second base. Muller came up with a couple of startling catches yesterday and looks like a real prospect since his change to the keystone position.

Muller has also been hitting the ball better since Johnson had him take a crouch stance at the plate. He has hit a home run and five singles against Hollywood pitching in the first three games.

Dud Lee can certainly turn those slow hit grounders into easy outs. Lee three times came in fast to make this difficult play yesterday, robbing Taylor of two hits and Ellsworth of a single.

Dave Barbee, Seattle rightfielder, hit four home runs during the opening series of the season against the Angels, but hasn't connected for a circuit clout since.

Tomorrow will be bargain day for the fans, a double-header being programmed between the Indians and Stars to make up for one of the three games rained out during their recent series at Seattle.

Muller skidded along on his chest for about six feet when he made a dive for Ostenberg's single over second in the fifth inning. Fred eventually got Ostenberg out in the same inning when he made a great stop of Borreani's poor throw and quickly tagged the Star infielder as he attempted to steal second.

Harry A. Williams yesterday issued a call for a special meeting of the league magnates to take place at San Francisco next Monday to see what they want to do about the "ladies free" situation in Los Angeles. The Hollywood, Portland and Seattle clubs requested the meeting which was originally scheduled for last Monday, but was called off because of the death of Charles Moreing.

Pitcher Glenn Gabler has been sent out on option to the Bisbee Arizona State League club by the Angels. Looks as though some of the other Angel hurlers ought to be sent to Arizona also.

No home runs at yesterday's Seattle-Star struggle. That makes six games at Wrigley Field this season without a four-base clout.

The nearest thing to a homer yesterday was when Wade circled the bases on his drive to center. However, the blow was only a triple, Wade coming home when Lee mussed up Carlyle's throw-in.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

A TURN FOR THE BETTER

IF THE current state of the weather has anything to do with it the Messrs. Charley Borah and Frank Wykoff will individually or collectively shatter the world's record in the 100-yard dash at the Coliseum tomorrow afternoon.

This comes straight from the lips of several experts on the matter, who assert that the big reason for the rapidity with which the Messrs. Borah and Wykoff tore off their hundreds at Fresno a week ago was due entirely to the looseness of the atmosphere in the Raisin City.

It was the first hot spell the athletes had hit all track season, and their muscles unlimbered and responded so naturally that both of our speed demons were greatly astonished when they heard of the 9 3-5s. marks they had turned in.

All the experts assert that a good hot spell is the greatest tonic in the world for a sprinter. He's warm before he starts a 100-yard race, for example, and doesn't have to waste precious split fifths of a second in getting churned up to his task in the first fifty yards of the race.

With these facts in mind, many of the dear old natives of our fair municipality will expect the Messrs. Borah and Wykoff to step on the gas in their assault on the 100 mark tomorrow afternoon.

It has been nothing else but hot for the past two days—a regular thermal-belt situation.

GREAT TROJAN TEAM PROPHESIED:

ALTHOUGH it is a long way off to the football season, Mr. Clifford B. Herd took time out between gulps of astonishment at the wrestling festivities between Pachyderms Lewis and Stecher the other night to prophesy that Howard Harding Jones will have a great football team at Southern California next fall—barring injuries.

In fact, after viewing the bulk of Lewis and Stecher, the head pachyderms of the evening's program, Mr. Herd went on record to the effect that possibly a few of Mr. Jones's men might qualify as pachyderms some time in the future—at least as far as size is concerned.

Mr. Herd particularly mentioned Mr. Dye, the center, who transferred from Alabama.

Incidentally, it is the college wrestler, or at least the version of one, who has played somewhere on a college team that is stealing all the grappling thunder these days.

For example, there is Gus Sonnenberg, who was a bona-fide all-American at Dartmouth.

Gus is the king of the roost now, and all the other boys are digging up college ancestries to prove that they also have color to their background.

Nick Lutze has been referred to for some time as the "Notre Dame boy," and Jack O'Malley was introduced as a "former football player at Ohio State University" the other night.

It seems that in order to be a good pachyderm these days you must have a college pedigree. Just plain and fancy wrestling as possessed by the Messrs. Lewis and Stecher won't suffice.

A BITTER SITUATION

AS THE result of the new attendance record at his soiree the other evening, it will now be impossible for any and all fight promoters to talk to "Carnation" Lou Daro.

Mr. Daro again points with great pride to the fact that his turnout of fans so far outdid the outpouring of fight fans the previous evening at the same arena that there is positively no comparison. And the gate receipts for the pachyderms was three times and more as large as that for the fights.

It is getting so now that "Carnation" Lou and Fight Matchmaker Wadhams, who have adjacent offices at the Olympic, will not speak to one another.

Neither will attend the other's shows.

"Those bum fighters," snorts "Carnation" Lou.

"Those pachyderms," moans Wadhams.

It is a distressing situation.

"Carnation" Lou has had the drop of late because he has been able to put more pachyderm "gigantics" into the Olympic than Wadhams could scare up in the way of fight "gigantics."

However, Mr. Wadhams is hoping the worm will turn some day and that fate will be as kind to a plump fight matchmaker as it has been indulgent to a rotund citizen of Glendale, who has elevated the art of pachyderming from low to high degree in this city.

DOC CRANDALL BLANKS KRUGS

double-play engineered by Backer and French on "Ducky" Jones's hard-hit ball.

For three innings Roberts stepped right along with Crandall, if anything a litte more securely, and had two men out and no one populating the bags in the fourth when the Solons unleashed an unexpected attack. Meusel singled through the box and Koehler bounced a hit over Tolson's head, setting the stage for a long double off the center-field fence by Dolph Camilli, which chased in both runners.

Crandall was instrumental in the manufacture of the third Solon run, his single, which followed by blows of like dimension by Osborne and Harris, being productive of a tally in the fifth inning.

FINAL RUN IN SEVENTH

The Senators' final run, coming in the seventh, was the result of singles by Backer and Osborne, a walk to Joe Harris and a long sacrifice fly by Meusel.

Today's victory gives the Solons a two-and-nothing grip on the series. George Boehler, recently acquired by the Angels from the Oaks, is expected to start one of the games in the double-header to be played Saturday.

REDLANDS NETTERS ON TOP

REDLANDS, May 2.—Redlands High School girls' tennis team, given little chance to make a showing at the first of the season, defeated San Bernardino, 10 to 9, and remains undefeated in the Citrus Belt League. Joyce Fisher, whose cool-headed playing won the deciding set from Pomona in the first match of the season, played second singles and won from Florine Livingston in a close match, 6-2, 7-9, 6-3. The first doubles team also was extended to the limit to win, 8-6, 8-6.

Head and Feet Keep Balance in Golf Swing

BY SOL METZGER

All the points making for the good golf drive or shot are closely interrelated. If the head is not held in position on the backswing, if you let it sway to the right, the body also sways to the right and you cannot bring the clubhead back to the ball correctly.

Balance covers such points. One gets off balance by swaying or by overswinging or by swinging back too fast. There must be a base to hit from. Barnes gets it from his feet and head. Were his head to sway as he takes the club back he would throw all of his weight onto his right foot at the top of his swing and then be unable to glide it forward onto the left as he swings through.

Instead, with the head in the same position during the backswing his weight is transferred mostly to the right foot, but not altogether. The left knee bends in and forward and its heel is pulled off the ground. But weight remains here. It is carried and balance is maintained by the inner side of the ball and the big toe. Thus he is able to swing his clubhead down and through the ball in the groove he took it back. Tomorrow—his left arm and right elbow at the top.

Why continue to slice when the fault can be absolutely cured by following a few simple instructions? Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times, and request his illustrated leaflet on "Slicing." In writing inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

THURSTON HURLS WIN FOR SAN FRANCISCO

OAKLAND, May 2. (AP)—Hollis Thurston pitched the Seals to a 9-0 win over Oakland today, and in doing so caused the Oaks to experience their first shutout of the season. Thurston was in great form and the only two hits he allowed were singles by Frazier and Carlyle. The Seals hammered McEvoy for fourteen hits. In connecting again today, Carlyle ran his string up to seventeen consecutive games in which he was garnered at least one hit. Score:

TROJANS AND BRUINS IN DECIDING DIAMOND TI

The deciding diamond encounter in the intercollegiate baseball city championship series between the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California will be played off tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock on Bovard Field. The game will be held in the morning so as to avoid a conflict in contests with the A. A. U. open championships meet in the Coliseum, and feminine fans will be admitted free.

Tomorrow's game bids fair to become a stiff diamond duel between Capt. "Whitey" Graham of A. and Larry Dihel, Southern California southpaw. Graham verdict last Saturday against in a 6-to-3 game on Bovard but the Trojan left-hander given terrible support in the

Exploding a Wide-Spread Myth About Golf Balls

NO GOLF BALL MANUFACTURER EVER MADE A "SPECIAL"

Bluntly, there ain't no such animal. The so-called "Special" is made no differently than any stock ball which the manufacturer produces. It is made on the same machine and with the same labor. . . . .

If you're from Missouri and don't believe this statement, go to any golf ball plant and they will prove it to you.

Here's the joker in the wood-pile. It's not a matter of making a "Special ball". It is a matter of special testing. Every ball supplied to the pro has been carefully and scientifically tested—for compression, for finish, for shape, for uniformity. And this special testing is the one ingredient that the manufacturer with too sharp an eye on profit cannot afford to put into a line of golf balls for sale to the public at large.

Testing—a thorough and careful test for absolute and unqualified uniformity. It doesn't sound very expensive but it is. . . .

Testing for uniformity such as the Pro demands and Mr. Golfer hopes for. Just as automobile makers spend time and money in testing a stock car intended for racing, so the Pro Special merely becomes a high-tested stock job. .

Wilson-Western is pioneering again. Their Hol-Hi Golf ball is tested with the infinite care heretofore accorded only the ball known as a "Pro-Special".

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY HOLDS TOURNEY AT CALIFORNIA

California plans to entertain a field of 150 women golfers of the Southern California Auxiliary today in a White Elephant flag tournament, according to an announcement from Mrs. Lou Detmers, California chairwoman. The entry fee is a trophy to be selected by the entrant.

CATALINA MAY SET NEW MARK

AVALON (Catalina Island) May 3.—Officials of the Catalina Country Club tonight announced that the total entry for the Catalina invitation tournament for women next Monday and Tuesday, the 6th and 7th inst., had passed the 170 mark and that indications were that the tournament would be one of the largest ever held on the Pacific Coast and perhaps one of the biggest women's tournaments in the United States.

More than thirty entries were received today and included in this list were the two foremost players of the California Country Club, Mrs. Roy Green and Mrs. R. E. Edwards. These two players have teamed together in the team matches sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Southern California Golf Association and either is capable of shooting fine enough golf to win the low gross trophy offered by William Wrigley, Jr.

Mrs. A. E. D. Trabue, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary, today stated that she believed the total entry for the Catalina event next week would pass the 200 mark. Tournament plans require all eighteen handicap and over players to play on Monday, the 6th inst., and those under the eighteen mark to play Tuesday morning.

PRO ENTRIES TO BE MADE IN ADVANCE

J. A. Patterson, secretary of the Professional Golfers' Association of Southern California, today asked all contestants in the coming professional championship at Sunset Fields send in their entries at once. The championship will be played the week of the 13th to 19th inst. and is open to all members of the Professional Golfers' Association. Next Monday this organization will hold a sweepstakes event on the Sunset course in order that players may be made familiar with the course over which the championship will be contested.

Veteran Oak Golfer Bags Longest Ace

OAKLAND, May 2. (AP)—Jack Kinney, veteran Oakland golfer, today had the distinction of having made what is believed to have been the longest drive to result in a hole-in-one. Kinsey made his famous shot from the eighth tee at the Oak Knoll Country Club course here yesterday, to the green, a distance of 360 yards. The ball hit the pin and dropped into the hole.

Kinsey was playing in a foursome with Frank Pollard, J. C. Seagrave and W. C. Hooper, all of Oakland. He has two other holes-in-one to his credit, one at a Toledo (O.) course, and another at Los Angeles.

A.A.U. OFFICIALS PLAN CLEAN-UP

Amateur Boxing Champ Barred and Title Taken

No Hope for Reinstatement of Jim Thorpe

Leo Lermond Looming Up as Star Miler

BY ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union, by its sharp action in shearing the national amateur heavyweight boxing champion of his honors along with his disbarment, serves concrete notice of its clean-up policy.

It may appear that the door is being locked after the horse's escape, for Buddy Howard, who won the amateur crown at Boston, has already made definite plans to turn professional, but the A.A.U. acted as promptly as was possible after obtaining evidence to substantiate its suspicions of Howard's commercial intentions.

"Frequently we are criticized because we do not act quicker in cases where the amateur status of an athlete is involved," said Dan Ferris, national A.A.U. secretary. "But we cannot arbitrarily disbar an athlete or take away his amateur card on hearsay."

The decision depriving Howard of his title as well as cancelling his amateur card is the most drastic of its kind since the celebrated case of Jim Thorpe, who had his Olympic laurels removed after the 1912 games because it developed he had played professional baseball previously.

By coincidence, Thorpe jumped back into the spotlight on the same day the Howard case was decided. The veteran Indian would like to have his Olympic medals returned and his amateur status restored, but this seems a trifle fantastic now to the A.A.U., which couldn't return Jim's medals if it wanted to. They were given to the Scandinavians, Wieslander of Sweden and Bie of Norway, who finished second to Thorpe in the Olympic all-around tests.

Thorpe, ballyhoo man with the Pyle cross-country bunion derby, perhaps feels in a reminiscent mood.

With Lloyd Hahn indicating no desire to come out of retirement, his coach, Jack Ryder of the Boston A.A., has set about developing another star miler in Leo Lermond.

Lermond's specialties, prior to this year, were at distances of two miles and up. He competed and finished fourth in the Olympic 5000-meter race (about three miles) last summer. But his recent development as a miler under Ryder's tutelage has been sensational.

In the indoor "mile of the century" last March, Lermond chased Ray Conger in the remarkable race which the latter won in 4m. 13 2-5s., with Edvin Wide trailing both Americans. Last Saturday, Lermond reeled off the best American outdoor mile of many years when he stepped the distance in 4m. 14 3-5s. to beat Orval Martin of Purdue at the Penn relays.

Thus, Lermond in a few months has established his class as a miler, where those capable of beating 4m. 15s. in the last score of years can be counted on the fingers of two hands.

There need be no worry about the Far West's replacements in track and field for some years to come, at least not while such schoolboy performances are recorded as those at Fresno, where a high school lad leaped 6ft. 4½in. in the high jump and another dashed 100 yards in 9 4-5s. on the track where Borah and Wykoff did 9 3-5s.

All the player-writer controversy has brought about no diminishing of editorial production among American sports champions.

Big Bill Tilden, in fact, will now contribute to the official publication of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. Bobby Jones is now an associate editor of a golf magazine and Helen Wills, besides writing a book, contributes magazine articles to the current sports literature.

MACK GARNER WILL RIDE BLUE LARKSPUR

NEW YORK, May 2.—Mack Garner is scheduled to ride Blue Larkspur in the Kentcky derby, it became known at Pamaica today. Garner has been doing better than ever in the saddle of late, and in the opinion of many observers his selection greatly strengthens the chance of Col. E. R. Bradley's colt.

Mack Garner, who rides for William Zigler, Jr., comes of a noted family of jockets. His brothers Guy and Skeets and his nephev Willie, are as well known as he. Guy and Skeets are the veterans of the family and the latter has retired from the saddle, but Guy is in France riding for Joseph E. Widener.

YANK TOREADOR WILL MAKE DEBUT

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times.]

MADRID, May 2.—Sidney Franklin, American toreador, born in Brooklyn and educated at Columbia University, will make his debut in the Madrid bull ring this summer when the season is at its height. He has recently appeared in several provincial bull rings in Spain and announced on his arrival in the capital today that he will begin training immediately for his first appearance here about two months from now. Franklin has already performed in Mexican bull rings. Newspaper critics who have seen him at Seville and elsewhere credit the American with considerable skill. His style is said to be reminiscent of Joselito, celebrated Spanish toreador.

PLAN TO FILM TITLE GO

Conference on Making Motion-Picture of Fight Between Morgan and Sal Scheduled

Motion pictures will likely be made of the Baby Sal Sorio-Tod Morgan world's championship bout at Wrigley Field May 20. A conference will be held within the next few days over the plan.

BABY SAL

Both parties—Frank Churchill and Grafton Leabo, rival managers—are interested. It is believed the pictures would reap a far greater harvest than the match will draw in Mexico in case Sal becomes the first champion of his people.

A motion-picture concern from Mexico City has representatives looking into the matter here. The films would be good for only California consumption, while the clean-up would come over the border.

Pictures were made of the George Godfrey-Paolino Uscudun bout with the same idea in mind.

If Uscudun had won—Mexican fans do not enthuse over losers—the films would have been good for at least $500,000 in Mexico and another such chunk in Spain.

LATIN ANGLE FLOPPED

It cost Jimmy Dougherty and the Paolino interests $4500 to make the pictures. Since Godfrey won the golden goose was killed from the Latin angle. However, it is said the returns on the films in California alone more than paid for the expense of making them.

A Spanish newspaper concern has already made some motion-picture scenes of Sal's training camp in San Bernardino. The old 'dobe hut in which Sorio lived until recently with his father makes a picturesque starting point.

And since Sal has knocked out fifty-one of around seventy-five opponents there may be some knockdowns if not a knockout to make the fight pictures themselves highly exciting.

The Olympic may take a share in the pictures along with the fighters. The expense was cut three ways for the Paolino-Godfrey films, too.

Seal Harris, negro giant, who boxes Neal Clisby in the Olympic next Tuesday, has a very fair record. He boxed Bill Tate a draw. He holds a decision over Chuck Wiggins.

Last year when he was in Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, he knocked out two men in a couple of rounds each. He boxed Big Boy Peterson a no-decision bout in Minneapolis.

HARRIS IS HUGE

The size of Harris is his chief advertisement. Like Jess Willard, his huge size protects him from the ordinary fighter. He stands six feet and six inches tall and weighs 240 pounds.

Eddie Burnbrook, who boxes Roy Moore in the other ten, holds knockout decisions over Joe Dundee, Pete Latzo and Sergt. Sammy Baker. One doesn't have to take Burnbrook's word for that. The record book of 1926 will show any skeptical fan the facts in black and white.

Burnbrook may box Bert Colima next if he gets over the rugged Moore. Matchmaker Wad Wadhams is ready to book the match if Colima will accept it.

British Team to Play Here

Local fans will have an opportunity of witnessing two smart soccer games Sunday at Loyola Field, when the men from His Majesty King George the Fifth's Battleship Colombo play an exhibition game with the local all-stars, and Hollywood clashes with Magyars in the semifinal game of the Southern California Cup competition.

The exhibition game is scheduled for 1 o'clock and will be followed immediately after with the cup game. A large crowd is expected to pack Loyola Field as these two games are causing unusual interest in local soccer circles.

An invitation has been extended to the officers and men of the Colombo to be present as guests of the L.A. Soccer League.

Southern California Youngsters Preparing for District Finals in Junior Olympic

YOUTHS MAKING GREAT RECORDS

Approximately 30,000 Boys in Competition

Comstock to San Bernardino for City Meet

El Monte Schedules Program for Thursday

BY BRAVEN DYER

Approximately 30,000 youngsters of Southern California are now busily engaged in Junior Olympic Games competition. This figure is based on the entrance of more than 500 organizations in the 1929 program and will probably swell to greater numbers before competition is actually concluded on June 1, when the finals will be held in Los Angeles.

BOYD COMSTOCK

Right now thousands of youngsters are competing in their respective school meets. Winners will go to designated points for their district competition. Victors in these divisions will in turn be sent to various cities for county finals.

In some instances district finals have already been concluded and the youngsters are anxiously awaiting county competition. Inyo county is the first to complete her county meet, this having been staged last week. A number of county programs will be held one week from Saturday, with most of the rest cleared up by the 18th inst.

Los Angeles county finals are slated for the 25th inst. and will include a great field of star athletes, among them Jerry Deal, last year's Southern California junior champion; George Warboys, a playground star at Queen Anne; Vane Baker, one of the best prospects among the juniors and a star performer last season; Walter Waers and Leonard Reed, two other seniors who have been making splendid scores at the playgrounds; Bruce Kelly, El Monte junior star; Robert San Jose of Los Angeles Harbor, high scorer among the seniors with 623 points, and many others of equal ability.

Following the Los Angeles county finals on the 25th inst., athletes from every county in the Junior Olympics, nine in all, will take part in the Southern California meets. The two best juniors and two leading seniors will then be sent to Atlantic City for the national finals, returning here in July for that free trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

Boyd Comstock, director of the Junior Olympic Games program, will leave this morning for San Bernardino, where he will take in the San Bernardino city finals tomorrow. Last year the city turned out Rex Heap and Mike Pina, two star athletes, and Comstock will have his eyes peeled for more stellar performers. He may find one in Lyle Bresslin, the up-and-coming junior who bettered 600 points recently.

STEWART WHITE TO RUN ORANGE COUNTY MEET

Stewart White, head of the physical education department at Orange High School, will conduct the Orange county Junior Olympic Games meet this year. Last season the meet was held at Santa Ana under the able direction of Walter L. Scott, director of physical education for the city.

Orange county leaders got together recently and agreed that it would be a good plan to let a different community have the county meet each year, hence the switch. Mr. White will announce the date of the meet within the next day or so.

EL MONTE YOUNGSTERS IN MEET THURSDAY

El Monte Union High School district has twenty-three candidates for the Junior Olympics team and will hold tryouts next Thursday, the 9th inst., at the high school athletic field to select ten boys for the district meet to be held the following Saturday, the 11th inst., at South Santa Anita grammar school. Three contestants who will undoubtedly qualify for the district meet are said to rank among Southern California's best Olympics material. One is Bruce Kelly, a junior who holds a score of 610 points, just one point under the Southern California record for 1928 of 611 points held by Jerry Deal of Los Angeles. The other two leading candidates are Albert Pearson, a senior, and Jimmy Montgomery, a junior. Prof. J. W. Johnson of El Monte Union High School has been in charge of coaching the boys but has delegated a good deal of the work to George Phelps, high school junior and student executive, who has exhibited marked and unusual ability in the work. El Monte High School district has a good Junior Olympic material as you can find in Southern California, says Manager Phelps.

ALHAMBRA YOUTH RUNS UP SCORE OF 508 POINTS

Bennie Bleistein of Alhambra High School recently made a score of 508 points in the senior division of the Junior Olympic Games competition. He feels that he can better this mark in stiffer competition, which will come when the district finals are to be held in Pasadena within the next two weeks.

REDLANDS NINE WINS

REDLANDS, May 2.—High school baseball players of Redlands are plenty cocky today for yesterday they downed the city police team in a practice baseball game here by a score of 20 to 8. The Terriers touched Robinson for twelve hits but the errors made by the flatfoots in the field did the great damage. At that the cops proved to be pretty handy with the stick for they pounded Wheeler for several nice bingles.

Fullerton to Rejoin Coast Prep Circuit

SANTA ANA, May 2.—Fullerton High School today was officially extended an invitation to join the Coast Preparatory League at the beginning of the fall semester and in time to compete with Santa Ana and other old rivals in football.

Whether the Indians will react favorably to this cordial bid was not known, but in athletic circles it was believed authorities there will be glad of the opportunity of renewing alliances that were severed in 1925 when Fullerton resigned from the circuit to join the weaker Orange League.

Fullerton has made no effort to hide its desire to withdraw from the Orange League, in which it competed with schools smaller than itself. The Indians even applied for readmission to the Coast League last year, but this was denied because the Coast League was full at that time. Fullerton's application was still on file, however, when league representatives met at Whittier yesterday.

The resignation of Whittier and South Pasadena at this meeting paves the way, however, for one and possibly two new schools to join the confederacy. Representatives unanimously voted to invite Fullerton to come "back home" and President John Alman was instructed to dispatch such notice to Principal Louis Plummber. Nothing was done about inviting Covina or any other institution into the membership.

Pomona May Land Orange Nine Franchise

POMONA, May 2.—Prospect of organized semiprofessional baseball for Pomona Valley fans seemed to be in the offing today with the announcement that the California State League, a minor organization, under the wing of the Pacific Coast League, had submitted an offer to the Pomona Chamber of Commerce to transfer George Harding's Orange county team to this city. Harding is a wealthy Los Angeles building contractor.

W. W. Breaseale, advertising and publicity man from the league, conferred here yesterday with J. M. Paige of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce and C. B. Afflerbaugh, manager of the Los Angeles County Fair. A special meeting of the City Council today officially sanctioned the use of the fair grounds' diamond by the semi-pro outfit if the proposition was favorably accepted. Afflerbaugh will take up the matter with fair officials at the next board meeting, Monday night.

Reports indicate that the Orange county club is at the bottom of the list in the State league, this due to asserted inaccessibility of the present grounds used by the team and also lack of support from Orange county fans, with consequent poor gate receipts.

INGLEWOOD ANNEXES THREE-WAY AFFAIR

Coach Ivan Carey's Inglewood High swimming team walked off with first-place honors in a three-way swimming meet yesterday afternoon at Inglewood, amassing 44 points to Hollywood's 21 and Venice's 17. OUTBOARDS TO CLASH SUNDAY

Speedy Motor Craft Will Battle on Lake

Elsinore to be Scene of Spring Regatta

Novice Drivers Offered Special Prizes

Outboard racing pilots from San Francisco and Los Angeles will clash at Lake Elsinore Sunday in the second spring regatta of the Southern California Outboard Association schedule. Indications point to the largest and fastest meet since the national championships were staged there last winter.

The northern contingent left the Bay City last night with a fleet of flashy speedsters securely packed aboard trailers. Among the local pilots that appear on the entry list of thirty drivers are H. G. Ferguson, Floyd Pierce, David Mackay, M. C. Martin, Al Thompson and Miss Loretta Turnbull.

Special encouragement to novice drivers who are strictly in the amateur class has been offered by the posting of trophies for races in a classification called Division 1 in the new rules of the American Power Boat Association. Only pilots who have participated in less than fifteen races may enter in this classification.

The first gun will be fired at 9:30 o'clock, according to Commodore O. K. Hunsaker of the local racing association, and heats will be run each half hour thereafter until the program is finished.

BORAH FAVORED IN TRACK RACE

in his heat was 9 3-5s., but Charley didn't stop to look around Which would seem to indicate that Wykoff has a slight edge. However, the heat doesn't mean a great deal, inasmuch as Wykoff was totally relaxed and thus capable of running faster. (See books on golf, etc., for benefit to be gained from refraining from pressing.)

Against Borah it is extremely unlikely that Wykoff will be relaxed or that he will have any spare time to glance around.

Personally, we believe that Mr. Comstock has spoken wisely. It does look like a 50-50 proposition, but the question of Wykoff's condition forces us to lean toward Borah. And were we sure that Frank was in tip-top shape, we would still give Charley a shade the edge, not because we haven't confidence in Wykoff's ability but on account of Borah's brilliant record over a long period of time. The great Trojan runner has never acquired the habit of falling down in a pinch. Neither has Wykoff for that matter, but when you consider Borah's record you can't pass him up in a race like this.

CONGER VS. CARTER

Ray Conger and Nick Carter, foes in the mile run, worked out together at Paddock Field yesterday afternoon. Their meeting was merely a coincidence. Carter lives in Pasadena, while Conger has taken up residence there since coming to Los Angeles. Observers who saw the two in action believed that Conger appeared to have a shade the edge in form and speed, which bears out this writer's opinion voiced two days ago that Ray is the smoothest running machine to be seen here since the days of Nurmi. Carter is inclined to be a little less steady, but Nick can get up and gallop for all of that.

Squash Tilts Bring Upsets

Two of the most startling upsets registered in months occurred in the Hallam Cooley trophy squash-handball singles tournament at the Hollywood Athletic Club yesterday, when two former championship-class players, Bert Hartwell and Tom Gallery, staged comebacks to defeat Bill Holman and Chet Cooper, scratch players in the current tournament.

Hartwell, club president, eliminated Holman, 27-25, 21-13, while Gallery won from Cooper, squash commissioner, 21-3, 21-10. Hartwell had a 10-point handicap and Gallery five.

In other feature third-round matches Allan Sinclair (13) defeated A. Cummelias (18,) 21-11, 21-14; Les Klawiter (scratch) beat Maxwell Stiles (8,) 21-17, 21-18, and H. C. Hopper (3) defeated Frank Egger (10,) 21-17, 21-16.

SAGEHEN FROSH NINE LOSES TO BONITA, 7-3

CLAREMONT, May 2. (Exclusive) Coach "Beefy" Heath's Pomona frosh baseball team dropped a 7-to-3 decision to the strong Bonita High School nine in a practice game here yesterday. The freshmen outhit their prep rivals, but were unable to field adequately. Capt. Herb Langdon was on the mound for Pomona and was fairly effective. The Sagechicks completed two double plays during the contest and showed marked improvement over their form of Saturday, when they defeated Caltech's yearlings. The frosh will play two more conference games before closing their season.

POMONA SWIMMERS FACE CALTECH TEAM

CLAREMONT, May 2. (Exclusive) Opening the Southern Conference season, Pomona's varsity swimming team faces California Tech in a dual meet in the local tank. Performances in the annual interclass meet give promise of a fairly strong team of paddlers here this year. With Capt. Harold Backstrand in the sprints and middle distances, Johnny Christie and George Stancer in the sprints, Stanton in the backstroke, Boynton and Beardslee in the breast stroke and Don Hall in the dives, the Sagehens should present a formidable outfit.

POLOISTS CLASH SUNDAY

Uplifters' Horsemen Tangle With Buccaneers in Mallet Feature at Rustic Canyon

Southern California polo fans will be served with a tasty dish of their favorite sport Sunday at the Uplifters' Club if everything goes according to Hoyle and the mallet rules.

At the Rustic Canyon field Sunday Hal Roach's Uplifters' horsemen match mallets and mounts against those of the Buccaneers, captained by Bob Millsap. The Buccaneers announce they will have Snowy Baker riding at No. 3, the same position that Roach is playing, which means a riding duel between these two athletes.

Roach is rated as one of the best low-goal players on the Coast. Last season he rode with the Midwick Big Four in the Pacific Coast high-goal championships at Del Monte. In every game so far during the summer season he has been the "big gun" of the Uplifters' attack.

The Buccaneers are pitting Baker against Roach because they believe that the Australian star's hard riding will keep Roach from running up a big score. Baker is not the shot-maker that Roach is but he is a tough man to keep clear of the mallet.

On the Uplifters' team besides Roach are Clair Brunson, Lyal Puckett and Scott Hackley. On the Buccaneers are Millsap, Baker, Clarke and Crawford. Millsap is expected to bring the Bucs a number of goals if he gets going right. The game is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

Title Aquatic Clash Carded

SAN CLEMENTE, May 2.—Frank Holborow, swimming coach of the San Clemente Beach Club team, has sent entry blanks to various clubs of Southern California, who will participate in the championships to be held here on the 25th inst. The meet is the Southern California championships for women with added events for men.

Blanks have been sent to the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Pasadena Athletic and Country Club, Hollywood Athletic Club, San Diego Rowing Club, San Diego Athletic Club, Florence Chambers Club, Silver Gate Swimming Club, Venice Swimming Association, Pacific Coast Club, Glendale Athletic Club.

Championships for the afternoon of the 25th inst. follow: 100-yard free style; 220-yard free style, 500-yard free style, 100-yard back stroke, 100-yard breast stroke, 400-yard relay.

Added events follow: Fifty-yard back stroke for girls 12 years of age and under, fifty-yard free style for girls 12 and under, ten-foot diving for men.

POMONA ATHLETES TURN TO POLITICS

CLAREMONT, May 2. (Exclusive) Marcus Stanton, member of the varsity swimming team, and former distance ace on the track squad, was today elected president of the associated student body of Pomona College. Stanton defeated Donn Bent, leading college tennis player, for the office. Other Pomona athletes who were elected included Stan Hahn, varsity tennis ace; Curtis Inman, football and track star; Bob King, Poke Hartman, Al Putnam and Russel McKnight. Final announcement of positions will be withheld until a later date.

Hoffman Has Walker; Ace Holding Out

Efforts by Ancil Hoffman, San Francisco boxing promoter, to close a middleweight championship bout between Mickey Walker, titleholder, and Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "Wildcat," bucked up against counter-demands here yesterday.

Hoffman revealed that he had one party of the proposed match "completely satisfied," but the other, the Hudkins clan—Ace and his retinue of brother-managers—is not.

"Jack Kearns, manager for Walker, is completely satisfied with the terms I have made to him," Hoffman said, "but the Hudkins's demands are exorbitant. They want 20 per cent of the gate receipts, or a guarantee of $25,000 if Ace wins, or $40,000 if he loses."

BAKERSFIELD SWAMPS ORANGE OUTFIT, 14-1

ANAHEIM, May 2. (AP)—The Bakersfield Bees' pitcher, Monty Pearson, held the Orange county nine to five hits, permitting only three men to reach second base until the last inning, while his team-mates pounded out fourteen hits to swamp the Orangemen, 14 to 1, today. A ninth-inning home run, poled out by Otto Brandle, was all that saved the Orangemen from a shutout.

Two homers helped the Bees, Pearson's coming in the ninth with two men on the sacks. Porter, who clouted the other circuit drive, also cracked out two doubles and a single in five times at bat.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE NINES MIX TOMORROW

Three Southern California Conference diamond contests are slated tomorrow, in which chief interes centers around the Whittier and Occidental tussle to be staged at Patterson Field, Eagle Rock. Whittier was the 1928 ball champions of the circuit and Oxy the runner-up. The Tigers are favored to cop, having won their first engagement sometime ago with the Poets.

The two remaining tilts bring together San Diego and Pomona on the Aztecs' field and Tech and Redlands at Pasadena. The Engineers and Sagehens are none too strong this year and are thus given little hope against the Aztec and Bulldog nines, which are yet pretty much in the running for the title.

NET PLAY NEXT MONDA

Ben Gorchakoff to Defend Crown in Sou California Tennis Tourney Next Week

Ben Gorchakoff of Occidental College yesterday filed his Edward Berry, chairman of the committee, for the forty-fourth Southern California open tennis championships which open play at the Los Angeles Tennis Club Monday afternoon.

Gorchakoff will be the defending champion, inasmuch as he won the Southland title last year by defeating Clifton Herd in the final bracket. Gorchakoff had previously won the same title in 1926 when he eliminated Johnny Doeg, then of Santa Monica High, but now representing Stanford, in a torrid five-set battle.

The Tiger tennis ace will have plenty of tough opposition. Gerald Stratford and John Doeg are coming down from the north to perform, as is also Phil Neer of Portland, and possibly Neil Brown at San Francisco. Stratford recently won the men's invitational at Ojai, while Doeg captured the State intercollegiate following a victory over Gorchakoff.

Other dangerous foes are Alan Herrington, Lester Stoefen and Sidney Wood, which trio are playing under the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. There are also Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Jack DeLara, freshman star of the University of Southern California, and Art Kussman, another Oxy College singlist.

Perhaps young Midge Gladman, seventh ranking United States singlist, will have another crack worthy foe, Mrs. Marian of La Jolla, who defeated jan star at Ojai in the finals State women's singles. man intends to avenge that and the pair are both entered women's singles of the tourney next week and gain the singles finals. Patz, Helen Marlowe, Carolyn cock and Dorothy Workman other leading entries.

Arthur Kussman Gorchakoff, Lester Stoefen Alan Herrington, Sidney Gene Warren and several combinations similar in will compete for the doubles was won last year by James er and Ellsworth Vines of dena.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

[Requests for recipes and information relating to the proper preparations and serving of foods will be answered in this column every Friday. Address all requests to A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, [illegible] Arden ave., Glendale.—Ed.]

CHEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS

MERINGUE

A. R., Alhambra, Cal.: If you will follow the diretcion given in the Practical Recipe Column, April [illegible] 1929, I do not think that you will have any trouble with your meringue. The cause of its watering is because you bake it in too fast an oven and the sugar is not properly cooked. You can procure back numbers from your agent or at The Times Building, at First and Broadway.

TAMALES

Mrs. P., Pasadena, Cal.: The recipe for the Mexican tamales was printed in the paper, April 23, 1929, in the Practical Recipe Column.

STUFFED BAKED ORANGES

Mrs. E., Los Angeles, Cal.: Wash medium-sized oranges and cut a slice from the stem end, carefully remove all pulp, being carefull not to break the skins, remove the white membrane from the pulp and cut in medium-sized pieces, mix with it an equal amount of crushed pineapple and about a dozen chopped maraschino cherries, sweeten to taste, fill the orange shells with the mixture, place on top of each one a teaspoonful of butter, arrange in a baking dish, and bake in a medium oven until the skins are tender and can be easily pierced with a tooth pick, cover them for the first half-hour and baste occasionally with a little of the juice that is left from the filling to which has been added a tablespoonful of sweet cooking sherry.

CUSTARD SAUCE

I. R., Los Angeles, Cal.: Beat the yolks of three eggs, add one cupful of milk, and three tablespoonfuls of sugar, and a few grains of salt, place in a double boiler, and cook slowly, stirring constantly, until it will coat a spoon, remove from the fire, add any desired flavoring, chill, and serve on puddings.

STRAWBERRY PIE

L. J. P., Evanston, Ill.: May 31, 1927, is sometime ago and there are so many strawberry pie recipes it is almost impossible for me to give you the same recipe again; but try this one, I think you will like it.

Bake an open pie crust and when cold fill with uncooked strawberries, take one package of strawberry jelly powder, add to it one tablespoonful of sugar, and pour over it two cupfuls of boiling water, allow this to cool, and as it begins to thicken pour it over the berries, allow to thoroughly chill, just before serving cover with sweetened whipped cream or a meringue, garnish with a few of the whole berries that have been dipped in sugar and serve.

ICE BOX OATMEAL COOKIES

J. C. H., Los Angeles, Cal.: One cupful of butter, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, four eggs, three tablespoonfuls of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, twq teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, two cupfuls of flour, two cupfuls of rolled oats; cream the butter and the sugar, add the well-beaten eggs, sift the flour, soda, and cinnamon together, and add to the butter and sugar mixture; then add the rolled oats, and if liked two cupfuls of chopped walnut meats. It may be necessary to add more flour sufficient make into a roll, place in the ice box overnight, cut in thin slices, place on a cookie sheet, and bake.

PICKLED WATERMELON RIND

M. R., Reseda, Cal.; L. M., Pasadena, Cal.: You ask for a watermelon pickle with some of the red meat left on, we do not find it practical to leave any of the red meat on the rind as it does not keep firm. Ten pounds of watermelon rind, one quart of vinegar, four cupfuls of sugar, one-half an ounce of whole cloves, one-half an ounce of stick cinnamon. Cut the rind in small pieces, peel and remove all the red part, cover with cold water, and let stand for several hour; boil in the same water it has been soaked in until the peel is clear, lift out, drain well, and place in a large saucepan, place the vinegar in a saucepan, add the sugar and spices, and allow to boil for ten minutes, then pour at once over the drained rind; do this for three days in succession, heating the syrup, boiling hot each time. Some like the addition, of a small piece of ginger root, added to these other spices.

CORN MUFFINS

Mrs. W., Eagle Rock, Cal.: Heat two cupfuls of milk or water to the boiling point, gradually stir in one-half a cupful of cornmeal, and cook until the consistency of mush, add two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, the yolks of three eggs beaten until light, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, fill oiled muffin tins, three-quarters full and bake in a medium oven.

MEATLESS LOAF

M. B., Los Angeles, Cal.: Cover two cupfuls of bread crumbs with just enough milk to moisten them, allow to stand for half an hour, drain off any surplus milk, add two peeled and chopped apples, two cupfuls of finely chopped walnut meats, one finely chopped green pepper, two chopped tomatoes, or their equivalent in canned tomatoes, the juice of one lemon, a seasoning of salt and paprika and two well-beaten eggs. Place in an oiled baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes.

BARBECUED FISH

Mrs. O., Los Angeles, Cal. I have never eaten barbecued fish, that you speak of at the beach, but think it must be fried in the ordinary way and then a barbecue sauce poured over it.

BARBECUE SAUCE

Melt two tablespoonfuls of unsalted butter in a small saucepan, add one teaspoonful of mustard, three tablespoonfuls of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar, three tablespoonfuls of tomato ketchup, and a few drops of tobasco sauce, heat and stir in slowly the well-beaten yolk of one egg.

ONE HELD AS OTHER DIES AFTER FIGHT

Two El Segundo Street Department Employees in Fist Battle, Say Officers

Arthur R. Gunn of 401 Sycamore street, El Segundo, is being held for investigation by deputy sheriffs following the death of Charles B. Ainsworth, 66 years of age, who succumbed to injuries received in a fight with Gunn Wednesday.

According to investigating officers, Gunn and Ainsworth engaged in an altercation and Gunn struck the other man a blow in the face knocking him to the pavement. Ainsworth received a fractured skull in the fall and died a few hours later.

Both men were employees of the El Segundo street department, officers assert.

A complaint charging manslaughter may be asked from the District Attorney against Gunn should the facts revealed in the investigation warrant it, according to the officers.

Hunt Renewed for Missing War Veteran

GODFREY ALLAN HURD

Renewal of the search for Godfrey Allan Hurd, 41 years of age, an army officer of both the Belgian and American armies during the World War and local real estate man, was started by police yesterday on report that the missing man had been seen recently in Long Beach by friends, whom he failed to recognize.

Hurd, according to his wife, Mrs. Alma Hurd, is a shell shock victim and may be suffering from amnesia.

Hurd left his home at 414 North Coronado street January 30, last, his wife told Captain of Detectives Allen. He had about $300 in his possession.

Once before, just after the war, Hurd wandered about the country suffering from amnesia, the wife asserted, and was found in New Orleans using the name of Louis Smith.

For Breakfast
—the best meal of the day

Breakfast follows the longest fast 'round the clock. No wonder you want something good! No wonder you turn to Heinz Rice Flakes—for you know they're good!

Dainty flakes of rice. Rolled thin as tissue. Toasted to a golden-brown. Crisp as an autumn day. And—that flavor! Nut-meats? No—better than that. Pop-corn? No—better still. Good. Just plain, honest-to-goodness good!

And good for you, too. Yes indeed, for Heinz Rice Flakes are the result of a special patented, Heinz process which transforms the natural roughage element of the rice into a pure, edible cellulose. This gives the flakes the healthful qualities of a gentle, natural laxative.

Isn't it great to eat a good-for-you breakfast that tastes good to eat?

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the lovely affairs of the week were the two bridge-teas with which Mrs. George Edwin Orme entertained Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at her home in Beverly Hills, the first honoring Mrs. Jose Lacayo (Sue Watson,) a bride of the season, and the second one yesterday afternoon having Miss Ruth Morrison, who has just returned from a year's travel around the world, as special honor guest.

The decorations of each affair were charmingly carried out with a profusion of spring flowers in baskets, a May Day motif predominating. The first afternoon had as chairman Mrs. Horace Miller, while the second one was chaperoned by the president, Mrs. William N. Goodwin and the one last month by Mrs. Frank King, each being ably assisted by a group of executive board members.

Campus Notes

Pledges of Delta Gamma complimented the members of that sorority with a delightful dance Friday evening at the winter home in Brentwood Park. Glenn Edmonds's orchestra and the lovely old mansion with its patio and gorgeous flower decorations contributed to make the affair a memorable one. Programs of parchment and gold in the shape of the pledge pins and a dancing contest were special features of the evening's merriment. Two silver loving cups were awarded to Evelyn Richard and Jimmy Holt, a member of Sigma Alpha Fraternity, and to Isabel McCully and John MacMillan, a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. The pledges, Virginia Coffee, Betty Winter, Maxine Doerfchlag, Dorothy White, Jane Harris, Virginia Reynolds and Margaret Workman were in charge of the affair. Among the guests were Mrs. Conklin, house mother, Mr. and Mrs. Winter, and Mr. and Mrs. Coffee.

May Day Party

A charming affair was the May Day party given at El Verde Lodge in Bouquet Canyon Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Farrell Stewart, in honor of the birthday of her little daughter Joan. NEW PAVING ON LA BREA APPROVED

Council Takes Steps for Extension of Avenue to Limits of Inglewood

Another step was taken by the City Council yesterday in the plans for the extension of La Brea avenue from Exposition Boulevard south to the city boundary, when it instructed the City Engineer to prepare plans for the paving of twenty feet of the roadway and the Board of Public Works to receive bids for the paving. The engineer has submitted an estimate that the paving will cost $17,779.

These instructions were issued in accordance with reports of the Public Works and the Street Opening and Widening committees, which indicate that under negotiations now being carried on with the Baldwin estate the estate will dedicate a 100-foot roadway from Exposition Boulevard to the city boundary without cost if the city pays for the paving. If the dedication is obtained the Council will allocate the entire cost of the paving.

This project is only one division of a general plan to make La Brea avenue a through thoroughfare from Hollywood to Inglewood. From the south city boundary of Los Angeles the county will build the road to Inglewood.

Thursday—Breakfast: Poached eggs on toasted shredded wheat biscuit, pear sauce. Lunch: Glass of grapejuice. Dinner: Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, cooked tomatoes, cooked lettuce, salad of tender raw spinach leaves, pineapple sponge.

Friday—Breakfast: Whole-wheat muffins, peanut butter, stewed prunes. Lunch: Generous dish of junket and one or two apples. Dinner: Tomato and celery broth, baked whitefish, cooked turnips with tops, molded salad of peas and chopped celery, raspberry whip (without cream.)

Saturday—Breakfast: Baked eggs, Melba toast, stewed figs. Lunch: Cornbread, spinach, raw celery. Dinner: Broiled lamb chops, asparagus, baked ground beets, salad of shredded lettuce, peanut butter dressing, carrot pudding.

Stuffed beet salad: Select beets of uniform size, scrub with a vegetable brush and boil until tender. Remove from the fire and place in cold water, then the skin will slip off very easily. Cut a slice from the stem end of each beet (to make the beet flat) and scoop out a portion from the center with a sharp knife. Fill with a mixture of finely chopped celery, cucumber and tomatoes and put in the icebox for an hour or two before serving one or two of the beets on crisp lettuce. Do not discard the scooped-out portion, but use on the following day by cutting into small pieces, reheating and serving with butter.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tuberculosis

Question: Mrs. S. S. writes: "For the last three years my husband has been in the hospital suffering from tuberculosis. My little boy was born three weeks before my husband went to the hospital. That was my first knowledge that he had tuberculosis. Now, what chance has my boy? Will he inherit the disease, or how can I care for him so that he will be saved from it?"

Answer: The tendency toward tuberculosis may be inherited, but it is not considered that the disease itself can be transmitted in this manner except in very rare cases. If your little boy is fed upon a well-balanced diet, allowed plenty of sleep and perhaps given sun baths there is not much danger of his contracting this disease. I believe that it is quite easy for one to avoid contracting this disease by the proper hygienic measures.

Salisbury Steak

Question: Mrs. J. C. writes: "I missed your article stating what salisbury steak was and why it was superior to hamburger, etc. How is it prepared? I am learning much from your column each day."

Answer: Salisbury steak is made by grinding only the red, lean part of round steak after having removed all gristle and fat. This may seem similar to hamburger steak, but it is really more palatable and more easy to digest; it has an entirely different flavor than when the fat is included. Allow three-quarters of a pound for each person served when purchasing the steak. After grinding the meat press flat into an ungreased cake tin to a depth of about one inch and place in a hot oven for about five minutes, after which time turn down the fire. A tasty addition is made by grinding parsley or spinach with the meat. Do not season until ready to serve, then use only a small amount of salt.

BAKED ROCK BASS

Wash, clean, leave on the head of a four or five-pound rock bass, mix two cupfuls of fine bread crumbs with two-thirds of a cupful of soft butter, the grated rind of half a lemon; one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, one teaspoonful of powdered marjoram, a seasoning of salt and paprika, and two eggs, that have been beaten with two teaspoonfuls of water, fill the cleaned bass with the mixture, sew up, score each side in four places, and place in the scored places thin strips of salt pork, or bacon. Cover the bottom of the baking pan with thin strips of salt pork, finely chopped onion, two chopped stalks of celery, two sprays of parsley, one sliced carrot, one-half a bay leaf, and one cupful of water, place in a moderate oven, and bake until well done; remove to a hot platter, add to the pan one-half a cupful of chili sauce, boil up, strain, and serve with the fish.

CUCUMBER AND TOMATO SALAD

Peel and cut in dice, two medium sized cucumber and mix in a bowl that has been rubbed with a crushed clove of garlic, three peeled and diced tomatoes, six sliced radishes, a half a cupful of finely chopped celery, a seasoning of salt and pepper, and two-thirds of a cupful of French dressing. Mound on lettuce-covered plates, garnish with a spiral of mayonnaise.

CHEESE PUFFS

Bring to a boil a half a cupful of water, and four level tablespoonfuls of butter, sift half a cupful of flour with two tablespoonfuls of corn starch, and beat into the boiling water until the mixture will leave the sides of the dish. Add half a cupful of grated cheese, half a teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika, remove from the fire, allow to cool, then beat in two eggs, one at a time, beat for three minutes, after the addition of each egg. Drop from a tablespoon in small balls on a well-buttered baking dish and bake for twenty-five minutes or until light and firm. Cool, split, and fill with a spoonful of whipped cream to which has been added a seasoning of salt and paprika, and one tablespoonful of grated cheese.

ONION SOUP AU GRATIN

Melt half a cupful of butter in a large sauce pan, add four large peeled onions, cut in thick slices, a seasoning of salt and pepper. Allow to cook for five minutes, do not brown. Add one cupful of beef stock, and one cupful of milk, allow to simmer slowly for one hour, cover the bottom of a deep casserole with six slices of French bread, sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of grated Parmesan cheese; beat the yolks of two eggs with one tablespoonful of the hot soup, add one more cup of milk, pour over the bread, cover, set in the oven for five minutes, pour over the hot soup and serve.

COOLEY MURDER MOTIVE SOUGHT

Howard Must Face New Quiz on Hammer Death

Confessed Slayer to Have Hearing Today

Chief of Pasadena Police Writes Prosecutor

Further investigation into the motive that impelled J. L. Howard to kill his employer and friend, Victor A. Cooley, will be launched by the District Attorney's office immediately following Howard's preliminary hearing this morning before Municipal Judge Gibbs in Pasadena.

Wayne Jordan, assistant chief deputy District Attorney, yesterday was named by Dist.-Atty. Fitts to handle the prosecution and investigation of all phases of the midnight attack on the wealthy Pasadena automobile man as he apparently lay asleep in his Pasadena apartment.

LETTERS EXCHANGED

This move followed a heated exchange of letters between Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief of Police Kelley of Pasadena, after an accusation hurled at the District Attorney's investigators, in which the Pasadena official said investigation of the case had been hampered by detectives working out of Fitts's office.

Last night Jordan announced that he will make a thorough investigation into Chief Kelley's belief that the true motive behind the slaying never has been revealed and that Howard's confession to the effect that it resulted from a drunken argument between Howard and Kelley is "but a fantastic story made up by Howard to conceal the facts."

BREACH ADMITTED

Yesterday Chief Kelley replied to Mr. Fitts's pointed letter of Wednesday, and was openly outspoken in his argument that a severe breach has developed between the two law-enforcement bodies.

Kelley's letter reads in part:

"It seems to me that you are wandering far afield in regard to the issues of this case. This department had eliminated all but three suspects in the case when your officers came over to assist. Since that time one person has been entirely eliminated; John L. Howard has been arrested and confessed that he actually killed Cooley; the third person has not been entirely cleared of some possible connection with the case.

WOMAN'S SCREAM

"There remains the neighbor who will testify she heard a woman scream at about the time the killing occurred; the statement of Mr. Howard as to his conversations with the third party under investigation and his admission that he saw the third party both before and after the crime; the third party's statement to him at the hospital the next morning that he had better not say anything about being at the third party's house, and other matters of less importance.

"What shall we do now? Shall we decide Mr. Howard alone is guilty and drop the investigation, or shall we, as public officials, pursue the investigation in a fair and impartial manner, particularly for the benefit of the third party who either should be cleared of all suspicion by an official report or arrested and prosecuted. . . .

WHEELER NAMED

"It is admitted that Mr. Wheeler, chief of your investigation bureau, is a friend of many years standing of the attorney of the third party under investigation in this case; that he has been employed by said attorney to work in the interests of the third party while conductin a private detective agency."

Kelley then reiterates that Wheeler refused to let Detective Lieutenants Thomas and Culver of Pasadena be present when Mrs. Pearl Cooley, wife of the slain man, was questioned by Wheeler in his private office with her attorney present.

SUPPORT DESIRED

"I greatly regret the statement that your department exerted pressure on the defendant Howard, in order to obtain a confession. As a veteran public prosecutor, you must know that a confession obtained by pressure of the arresting officers will not be admitted as evidence by any fair-minded judge.

"I asked you frankly if we legally can take the third party in custody after the preliminary hearing of Howard and question her without her attorney being present. You answer by quoting two sections of the Penal Code that have been memorized by the student members of this department. I gather from your reply that we would not have the support of your office in doing so."

NO FITTS COMMENT

Kelley closes his letter by stating that he still is subordinate to Mr. Fitts's office and that he will abide by the prosecutor's ruling.

Late yesterday afternoon the District Attorney had not received Kelley's letter and would make no reply. By his order of a thorough investigation of the matter the prosecutor indicated that he will not continue the debate by letter, but will proceed with the investigation from his office, thereby ending the controversy.

Lucien Wheeler, who drew most of Kelley's fire, is said to be working on another case, and Capt. Tom O'Brien, veteran detective, is reported acting in his place. Which detectives will be assigned to the case by Mr. Jordan had not been decided last night. Jordan is known as one of Mr. Fitts's right-hand men, and is known as a diligent investigator as well as a prosecutor.

A scheduled conference between Chief Kelley and Mr. Fitts failed to materialize yesterday afternoon. Chief Kelley announced that he was busy, engaged in preparations for a trip to Omaha which starts this afternoon. The trip is in connection with another case, he said. A prisoner now held there will be returned to Pasadena for trial.

COOLER WEATHER DUE TODAY

Heat Sends Crowds to Beaches

Mermaids at Play

A LITTLE cooler weather is in right for today, the United States Weather Bureau forecast last night.

Yesterday's maximum temperature was 89 deg. at noon, the same as the day before, which was the warmest day of the year so far. Yesterday's lowest temperature was 65 deg., making a mean of 77 for the day. The maximum is 17 deg. higher than the normal May maximum, and the mean is 16 higher than the normal May mean.

The 100 per cent of sunshine during the day and its warmth sent big crowds to the beaches, parks and recreation centers for the first time this season.

POLICE FIRE AT TARGETS THAT FLEE

"Running Men" Installed at Pistol Range, in Park and Pits Improved

"Shoot when he starts to run," ordered Lieut. John March in a hoarse whisper.

Officer Jones crouched.

"There he is. Let him have it," cried March.

And Jones, whipping his revolver from its holster, fired three shots in quick succession at the figure of a man fleeing across the police pistol range at Elysian Park yesterday.

The figure was a man-sized silhouette mounted on steel tracks and run across the range by an endless cable. Each of the bullets pierced the target below the shoulders and above the hips.

All members of the police department will be required to do such quick shooting as the result of installation of the "running man target" and "surprise targets" at the range. Construction of the devices was made at the order of Chief Davis. The mechanical manipulation was worked out by Lieut. March, range master, and Sergt. Pickett, chief carpenter.

The "surprise targets" are scattered about the range. Man-sized silhouettes bob up out of earthen emplacements by the manipulation of levers on the firing line.

The entire range has been reconstructed by the Chief. Target pits have been widened and fully cemented. New embankments have been thrown up. When completed, within the next week, the range will be the most completely equipped in the world, it is stated.

ALHAMBRA TELLER'S BAIL REDUCED BY HALF

Paul D. Seeders, collection teller for the Bank of Italy branch at Alhambra, appeared yesterday before United States District Judge McCormick to answer to a charge of misapplication of $225 of bank funds. Upon his request and a showing that his father, W. D. Seeders, has made restitution of the amount, bail of the defendant was reduced from $5000 to $2500. Bail then was furnished by the defendant and he was released pending trial.

FUNERAL OF MRS. VANCE CONDUCTED

Last Rites Observed for Woman Who Gave Years to Helping Afflicted

MRS FRANCES R. VANCE.

The body of Mrs. Frances R. Vance, whose last seven years were marked with a devotion to helping the blind and others physically handicapped, was laid to rest in Memorial Park yesterday. The funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. in Turner, Stevens & Berry mortuary.

Mrs. Vance died in Pasadena Hospital on Tuesday morning after having been at home, 601 South El Centro street, South Pasadena, for two months on sick leave. She was 58 years of age and leaves her husband, Milton, and son, Lewis. The Vances came here from Texas fifteen or twenty years ago.

About seven years ago, Mrs. Vance became a supervisor in county outdoor relief work. She organized a shop where work could be done by the blind and others with physical handicaps. In time the California Crafts and Industries Society was formed to conduct the shops. She was a director of the society and also an executive board member of the Southern California Association for the Blind.

Pair Hunted in Connection With Silverstein Case

Two Chicago Fugitives Now Believed in Texas

Men Also Named Kidnapers of Murder Victim

Two asserted Chicago gangsters, who fled from their Los Angeles apartment at 701 South Mariposa street on March 20, last, the day Max Silverstein was shot to death in his apartment at 454 South Catalina street, are being sought by police and District Attorney's investigators for questioning, Blayney Matthews, assistant to Lucian Wheeler, chief of detectives for Dist.-Atty. Fitts, announced yesterday.

The men being sought are Dan Kennedy, alias Dan Donovan, and Bert Barrett, alias Jack Kennedy and Jack Barrette, according to officers. They lived at the Mariposa-street address under the names of Dan and Jack Kennedy and posed as brothers, it is charged. Barrett is wanted by Chicago police for robbery and bail jumping, the officers state.

Photographs of the two fugitives, who are believed to be hiding in Texas, were identified by Miss Arline Storey, Silverstein's telephone operator, as likenesses of the two men who entered the apartment, tied her to a chair and shot her employer when he entered ten minutes later.

HUNT LEADS TO TEXAS

Investigation of Silverstein's death has been continued quietly by the District Attorney's detectives since the day of the shooting. Wednesday, after obtaining an identification, Jack Chriss, District Attorney investigator, and Detective Lieutenant Reavis left for Texas to apprehend the two men.

According to Assistant Chief Matthews and Ed Elliott, an investigator, the two fugitives are well known in Chicago where Mrs. Florence Murphy, widow of Tim Murphy, recently attempted to get in touch with them in Los Angeles by telegraph. It was through these communications, the officers say, that they traced the men to Texas.

At the same time that the two officers left for Texas Chief Wheeler left for Chicago where he will conduct an investigation into the records of the two men in that city.

With the release of information that the two men who fatally shot Silverstein have been tentatively identified, Matthews also announced that he has obtained evidence indicating that they are the same men who kidnaped the asserted bootlegger several months before his death and demanded $20,000 ransom.

RELEASE OBTAINED

Silverstein, however, obtained his release by paying $1400, which he carried in his wallet, with the promise to pay an additional $600 later. This money was sent to the kidnapers by another underworld character, who kept it and left the city, the officers assert.

Further identification of the fugitives was obtained, officers assert, from Clem O. Hall, a Los Angeles clairvoyant, who said he knew the men and visited with them in their Mariposa-street apartment on numerous occasions. Hall's friendship with the men was revealed by Fred R. Luchcan, Highland banker, who said that Hall once offered to put him in touch with two men who were willing to sell $500,000 worth of Liberty bonds for half that sum, according to investigators.

Silverstein's dying statement to officers gave them the tip that revealed the identity of his slayers, it was disclosed. His last words were: "Find the men who kidnaped me, they may know something about it."

Peg Entwistle Says Actor Mate Was Cruel to Her, and Wins Divorce

Peg Entwistle, with the Theater Guild Players, known in private life in Los Angeles, where she was reared, as Millicent Keith, was granted a divorce from Robert Lee Keith, an actor, by Superior Judge Baird yesterday after the actress testified her husband was guilty of cruelty. One of the instances she cited was that he seized her and pulled a handful of hair from her head.

The couple were married in New York April 18, 1927, according to her complaint, which was filed by Attorney Gesner Williams. They separated April 16, last.

Miss Entwistle's complaint against Keith stated that at the time she married him he let her believe he had never been married before, that later she discovered he had been married before, had a son 6 years of age and was back in his alimony in the sum of $1000.

The plaintiff declared she was forced to get a loan from the theater where she was playing in order to settle up the alimony and keep Keith from going to jail.

SECRETARY ADAMS'S TRIP WEST POSTPONED

Secretary of the Navy Adams, who in a dispatch from Washington was reported ready to start on his first inspection of West Coast naval operations today, has postponed the tour indefinitely. This was the information contained yesterday in a radiogram from the commandant at Mare Island Navy Yard to Lieut.-Col. I. F. Landis, inspector in charge of California's Naval Petroleum Reserve, and relayed to Southern Pacific officials who had been planning to assist in arranging the secretary's itinerary.

POLITICS

THE WATCHMAN

Trend of Political Thought and Action

—BY THE SENTRY ON HIS BEAT—

According to the drift of comment and publicity pouring in from campaign headquarters of candidates over the city, the week-end is going to witness the traditional "whirlwind finish" to the various campaigns. Conferences will be held, workers will come in from outlying districts to make their reports to headquarters, bands will begin to tune up, handbills and posters will be carted out by the truckload, air forces will be marshaled, and by Monday morning, no doubt, Mr. John Citizen's eyes and ears will apprise him of the fact that a political campaign is on and that the primary election will be held Tuesday.

Erwin P. Werner is the logical man for voters of this city to place in the office of City Attorney, George Breslin asserted last night in a radio address delivered over KNX.

Styling Werner the one man who can and will provide relief from burdensome archaic and overlapping assessments, Breslin delivered a stirring indorsement of the candidate.

"The office of City Attorney," said Breslin, "should be an instrument of civic advancement. It is a nonpartisan post. A sound attorney and proven executive should be placed at its head. There is no place for a politician in this responsible office.

"Erwin P. Werner is a man of broad, sound vision, possessing a humanitarian understanding of the civic and social needs of this city."

Holding that Werner is "unquestionably best qualified to fill the office of City Attorney to the best interests of all the citizens of Los Angeles," the Housewives' League of Los Angeles and Southern California yesterday indorsed his candidacy. The league includes 5000 housewives in its membership.

Indorsement of Judge Guy F. Bush for Municipal Court Office No. 7 was received yesterday from the Swedish American Republican Club, according to the announcement of R. E. Heerman, president.

Among the list of indorsements received yesterday at campaign headquarters for Wilbur C. Curtis, candidate for judge of the Municipal Court, was that of J. F. T. O'connor, law partner of William Gibbs MacAdoo.

Jesse W. Curtis, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of California, has voiced a strong recommendation that George W. McDill should be returned to Municipal Court office No. 10, according to Clinton E. Miller, manager of Judge McDill's campaign for re-election.

Senator George W. Rochester was not too busy hearing the Hardy case at Sacramento to take time for a letter of indorsement of the candidacy of Perry Thomas for Judge in Office No. 7, of the Municipal Court. "I am for you unqualifiedly, no matter who your opponents may be," he wrote.

Senators and Assemblymen have been so busy with legislative matters and the Hardy trial that they have not had opportunity to engage in primary campaigning.

Dave F. Smith, attorney, yesterday indorsed Perry M. Greer for Mayor. "Perry is one of the finest, cleanest, biggest men I have ever come across," he said, "and would make a wonderful Mayor. But the trouble with Perry is he doesn't know anything about politics."

The outstanding mark of civic devotion is the voters' attitude on any issue affecting the administration of the public school, Dr. R. B. von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, declared yesterday in urging the election the 7th inst. of the four candidates indorsed by the citizens' school committee for the Board of Education.

"The citizens' school committee has made an ideal choice in Harry H. Baskerville, Mrs. Carrie Parsons Bryant, Mrs. Elysabeth Louise Clark and Arthur W. Eckman," he said.

In accordance with his opinions, expressed during the campaign, that candidates should make public the amounts of their financial support from outside sources, Nick Harris, candidate for Mayor, announced that the total of all contributions to his campaign fund was $37.50.

Because Robert L. Burns, candidate for City Council from the Fourth District, has had both legislative and business executive training, Frank H. Brooks, prominent realty dealer, has announced his indorsement of Burns for the office. Other indorsements received by Burns recently include the Los Angeles Civic League and the Dewey Congressional Medal Men's Association.

Frank Belcher, Councilmanic candidate, will make nearly forty speeches between now and the primaries.

John A. Westrom, candidate for Council from the Sixth District, is indorsed by Wayne H. Fisher, investment financier, who speaks of him as follows: "Of the various men seeking election as Councilman in the Sixth District, in my estimation John A. Westrom stands head and shoulders above the rest. I feel that we all should stand behind men who will give us fair, honest and business-like representation in our governing bodies."

Henry E. Holbrook, real-estate man of the Echo Park District, came out with an indorsement of Leslie Saunders, candidate from the Thirteenth District where the race promises to be lively.

Frederick W. Ferguson, former Venice official who is making a strong campaign in the Thirteenth District, has been conducting a quiet house-to-house campaign for months.

S. De Vier Ely was characterized as "the best man in the field for the job" by Mrs. Lulu M. Brown, past State president of the League of Honor Protective Association, a national organization to promote and protect the interests of widows. Mr. Ely is Councilmanic candidate in the Fifth District.

"Tuesday's municipal primary election is fraught with import to all Los Angeles home owners," Edward J. Nagle, candidate for Councilman from the Seventh District, declared yesterday. "There must be immediate action taken to remedy overlapping assessments and burdensome taxes," Nagle added. "If elected, I pledge myself to give my constituents every possible aid in remedying existing conditions."

Official indorsement by the Anti-Saloon League of Southern California was announced yesterday from the headquarters of Donald M. Keith, deputy City Attorney and candidate for City Attorney.

The Young Women Voters' Association has indorsed Councilman Peirson M. Hall for City Attorney in Tuesday's election, it was announced yesterday at Hall headquarters. Mr. Hall has ten speaking engagements today, including the Venice Women's City Club, the West Highland Park Improvement Association and the Italo-American Society.

Quigley declares he is the owner of an original set of sketches of

VOTERS URGED TO DO BIT FOR GOVERNMENT

BY HAROLD G. FERGUSON
President Harold G. Ferguson Corporation

HAROLD G. FERGUSON.

"Vote as you please, but vote May 7," the slogan adopted by the Register and Vote League, it is hoped will bring a higher percentage of registered votes to the polls at the coming election.

Citizens often fail to realize that issues of an important election can be contested so that their one vote may hold a tremendous weight in helping to swing a victory. At the recent civic election in a suburban city three voters from one family decided at the last minute to cast their ballots which they had thought unnecessary to assure the election of their preferred candidate. When the count was taken the margin of victory was only three votes. Those three votes, cast just as the polls closed, reveal an emphatic example of every voter's power in exercising his right of suffrage.

A voter should realize that the decision not to express himself at the polls is a common tendency of all individuals, and that he can play a strong part in the program of government when he accepts his own responsibility. The weave of democratic patterns is knotted by the individual's will to see his own responsibility.

The personal interest of each citizen in the affairs of the city is the strongest assurance of an efficient city administration which will meet prevailing opinion with harmony. The citizen who may have selfish interests never fails to express himself at the polls, so that laxity upon the part of others is doubly damaging and encourages corruption. When elections become a true gauge of the will of the majority, the real ills or hypothetical ills of civic government will vanish.

HOSPITAL DEDICATION SET

Ceremonies at Children's Institution Will be Conducted on 12th Inst.

Preparations for the dedication on the 12th inst. of new additions to the Children's Hospital on Sunset Boulevard were made yesterday at a meeting of the directors of the Children's Hospital Society. The ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m., with Dr. Langley Porter, dean of the medical college of the University of California, delivering the dedicatory address. A buffet supper will follow, according to Mrs. Albert Crutcher, president, and one of the founders of the society.

The additions, which include a wing to the older building and a nurses' home, have been occupied for some time, though never formally dedicated, according to Mrs. Budd Frankenfield, vice-president of the society. The wing provides accommodations for 130 children and with the home for nurses and necessary alterations in other buildings represents an expenditure of $900,000, she said.

The hospital now has total accommodations for 230 children, not including its clinical work. According to Mrs. Crutcher, it is considered as one of the finest institutions of its kind in the West.

Being a nonsectarian institution, it is planned to have representatives of various churches and religious organizations participate in the dedicatory exercises.

Sunned Foods Highly Praised

Foods that have absorbed the sun's rays will make teeth stronger and healthier, 1000 dentists will be told when they attend the annual meeting of the Southern California State Dental Association at the Biltmore next Monday and Tuesday.

The sun's rays have the property of penetrating exposed fruits and vegetables with the important vitamin "D" which, when taken into the human body, stabilizes the predominating inorganic material in teeth, calcium, said Dr. E. Ray Brownson, association official.

Top vegetables, such as lettuce, tomatoes, peas, and beans, also have an abundance of this calcium-fixing property, he said.

BRIBE OFFER CITED AT TRIAL

Officer-Witness in Palombo Murder Case Testifies Concerning Cash Bid for Forgetfulness

Testimony that a Los Angeles police officer was offered a bribe to "forget" certain evidence relating to the shooting of August Palombo, asserted bootlegger, was brought out yesterday in Judge Fricke's court, where Mike Pupillo, Domenic De Ciolla and Vito Ardito, asserted gunmen, are on trial on a charge of murdering Palombo.

The testimony was given by Detective Lieutenant James, who arrested the defendants following the shooting of Palombo last July. According to James, De Ciolla offered him $1500 to forget about some shotgun slugs which were found in the De Ciolla home.

STATE CONTENTION

It is the contention of the State that Palombo was killed by shotgun slugs fired from an armored car that drew alongside Palombo as he parked his car in the 2200 block on Hillcrest avenue.

Bullet-proof glass, said to have been taken from the armored automobile the police declare was used by the defendants, also was placed in evidence yesterday through the testimony of Capt. Crossman, retired army officer and firearms expert.

GLASS UNDER TEST

The expert tested the strength of the glass by firing at it with .25, .38 and .45-caliber pistols, a .30-30-caliber rifle and shotgun loaded with buckshot.

Trial of the case was delayed during the afternoon session owing to the absence of a State witness who was said to be testifying in another court. The trial will be resumed this morning.

QUINN GETS HIGH PRAISE OF CLARKE

Former Judge Declares City Needs Services of Trained Executive

ROBERT CLARKE

Asserting that the citizens of Los Angeles are fortunate in having the opportunity to place at the head of their city government a trained executive, former Judge Robert M. Clarke in a statement issued yesterday, indorses and sponsors the candidacy of John R. Quinn for Mayor. Calling attention to the fact that many of the candidates who now are contesting for the office are entitled to serious consideration by the electorate because of their experience, ability and charatcer, Judge Clarke says:

"I think, however, that we are fortunate in having before us a man who is a trained executive. I have had occasion to examine and watch the public activities of my neighbor and friend, John R. Quinn, for some years. He is an upstanding, thorough-going American, devoted to the principles of good government and patriotic discharge of duty; moreover, he was born and raised in California, and as a Californian is familiar with the problems which confront any growing city within its confines.

"As National Commander of the American Legion he was familiar with and consistently advocated, as did the Legion itself, the Boulder Canyon dam project, for the purpose of controlling and utilizing both for water supply and additional power supply, the waters of the Colorado River.

"As a business man, he has been a successful banker, and as a member of the Veterans' Welfare Board has handled conscientiously and carefully large sums of money in the interests of those whom he so gallantly served. He believes in good government, stands for a square deal and has the capacity, in my humble judgment, to discharge all the duties and make a splendid chief executive for this great metropolis. His candidacy shall receive my hearty support."

Eight Arrested in Morals Raid Plead Innocent

Eight youths arrested in a morals raid at 459 3-4 Hartford street, in the Westlake district, early yesterday morning, pleaded not guilty to the charges in Municipal Court late yesterday and were held in $500 bond pending their trial, set for the 22nd inst.

According to the eight arresting officers, who were led by Detective Lieutenants Jennings and Graham, a party of thirty-two men was to be held at the above address. They surrounded the place and broke in after less than half of the invited guests had shown up.

Those arrested gave their names as Robert Morgan, 23 years of age, 3930 Fourth avenue; Tom Cochran, 23, 1618 South Grand avenue; Joe Anderson, 24, 1513 South Hope street; Roy Ingram, 142 West Forty-first Place; Robert Owens, 22, 2152 South Vermont avenue; Robert Collins, 25, 1618 South Grand avenue, and Vic Lucas and Jack Golden, both of whom refused to give their age or address.

Two Officers Held for Trial

Four Japanese yesterday took the witness stand in Municipal Judge McDill's court and, through an interpeter, related their versions of the asserted petty extortion of Police Officers William Homan and F. Davis, attached to the Seventy-seventh-street division. When their testimony was concluded Judge McDill ordered the two officers held for trial by Superior Court on four counts of extortion and four counts of bribery each.

Questioned by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman, the Japanese told of being halted by the two officers for minor traffic violations and declared the accused men accepted "cigarette money" to "forget." In all four cases, the Japanese declared, small sums were paid, the amount in no case exceeding $5, in return for the promise of the officers not to file charges.

Argument Begun on Film Title

Argument on an injunction suit involving asserted damages of $100,000 against the First National Pictures Corporation, for use of the name "Why Be Good" for a film in which Colleen Moore appeared, was heard by Superior Judge Gates yesterday.

H. G. Coulter, plaintiff, claims that he wrote a play with the name "Why Be Good" and produced it in Long Beach. Shortly thereafter, the film corporation announced the name for Miss Moore's picture. The defendant claims that it chose the title several months before Coulter's play was staged, and that a restraining order would cost them $500,000. Judge Gates took the case under advisement.

SENTENCED MAN SLASHES THROAT

Attempts Suicide After Probation Denial

Scene Enacted in Prisoners' Room at Court

Had Been Convicted on Check Charge

Thomas K. Dawson, 24-year-old ex-convict, yesterday attempted to end his own life by slashing his throat with a razor blade in the prisoners' room of Judge Murray's court just after Judge Murray had imposed a one-to-five-year sentence on him for passing a worthless check.

Quick action on the part of Arezincio Cacillas, another prisoner, and Charles Bryant, bailiff of the court, saved Dawson's life, according to County Jail Physician Blank, who reported that Dawson narrowly had missed severing his jugular vein.

Dawson broke down when the court denied his plea for probation and imposed the penitentiary sentence. He just had taken his seat in the prisoners' room, according to witnesses, when he suddenly produced the razor blade from somewhere in his clothing and made a quick slash across his throat.

Cacillas leaped to his feet and attracted the attention of Bailiff Bryant, who knocked the blade from Dawson's hand before he could do further injury to himself.

Bailiff Bryant and Deputy Sheriff Bailey immediately removed Dawson to the County Jail hospital, where it is stated he will recover.

Miss Logan and Winston were married in Tia Juana six months ago, but separated a few days later when informed that the marriage was not legal, as Miss Logan's decree of divorce from Robert Gillespie, local business man, had not been entered finally.

Miss Logan says she and Winston plan to be remarried as soon as possible, but she says no date has been fixed.

CLERK'S EMPLOYMENT STIRS WIFE'S ANGER

When Frederick William O'Connor became attentive to other women and his wife, Mrs. Cora A. O'Connor, objected he told her he liked all the women, Mrs. O'Connor testified yesterday before Superior Judge Bishop when granted a divorce. The wife also told the court her husband hired a young woman to work in his garage business and then insisted that the clerk live in the O'Connor household. The couple married at Woodstock, Ill., September 28, 1904, and separated December 3, 1927, according to the complaint.

LASKY WILL FILM "APPLESAUCE"

Bertram Harrison Signs With M.-G.-M. to Make Talkers; Ben Lyon Has Featured Role of Poet in "Lummox;" Mack Sennett Makes Feature Talking Comedy

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Stories of backstage life are at a premium for talking pictures these days. Now it is "Applesauce," based on the successful novel by Beth Brown, which is to reach the screen. It was purchased yesterday by Paramount, and will be filmed as an all-dialogue production at the Long Island studios.

The story has to do with life in a burlesque show, and is being adapted for the screen by Garrett Fort and Rouben Mamoulian. The picture will go into production in about a month and is to be directed by Mamoulian, noted stage director who put on "Porgy" and "Wings Over Europe" for the Theater Guild, in addition to other successful Broadway plays including "Congai."

DRAMATIC DIRECTOR GOES WITH M.-G.-M.

Just who will guide the destinies of New York plays so far as stage direction is concerned by this time must be causing anxiety to New York producers. One after another they are falling for the talkers.

The latest addition to talking pictures from the forces of Broadway is Bertram Harrison, who has been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. He will arrive in Los Angeles within a few days, it was announced yesterday.

It was Mr. Harrison who was the moving force behind the theatrical throne in first giving the world those favorites, "The Great Divide," "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," "Grounds for Divorce," and the current musical comedy success, "Hold Everything."

Ben Lyon in "Lummox"

Maybe Ben Lyon and his admirers had begun to think that he was to be that picturesque character, a Hell's Angel, the rest of his life. However, "Hell's Angels" is finished at last, after two years.

BEN LYON

Ben is to play an entirely different role next. He will have the part of the poet in "Lummox," in which Winifred Hart is making her screen comeback in the name part, and which Herbert Brenon is directing for United Artists.

Lyon was a stage actor before going into pictures, and, therefore, he should be entirely adequate in the talking sequences.

Mack Sennett's Five-Reeler

If you think that that arch comedy maker, Mack Sennett, is going to sink back to the level of the two-reel producer, you have another think coming. He was merely practicing on the talkers during the making of his recent short-reel subjects.

HARRY GRIBBON

Sennett proves this by coming forward with the word that he has just completed a five-reeler. There was no forcing of the issue, however, we hear. A five-reeler just naturally grew out of the subject and out of the acting, too, of Harry Gribbon, the star.

"The New Bankroll" is the temporary title of the new Sennett comedy. The cast supporting Gribbon includes Andy Clyde, who is featured; Alma Bennett, Addie McPhail, Rosemary Theby, Nathalie Joyce and Vernon Dent.

Those who have seen the comedy declare that in it Sennett shows all his old-time genius. He himself directed, and the talking sequences are said to be admirably handled.

Nagel Remains With Warners

All reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Jack Warner wants it distinctly understood that Conrad Nagel is not lost to Warner Brothers and Vitaphone.

On the other hand, Nagel is to act in five pictures for the Warner organization during the coming year. The arrangement has been negotiated with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which company has first call on Nagel's services.

Rumor Dix to Leave Lasky

While no confirmation of the report could be had yesterday, rumor is busy with the report that Richard Dix is shortly to leave Paramount.

No reason is given for the report other than a vague rumor that Dix is dissatisfied with some of the stories that have been given him. His contract has still two years to run.

"Galloping Fish" Gallops Back

"The Galloping Fish," that comedy which romped into popularity a few seasons ago, is to gallop again on the screen, this time in a new version as a sound picture. One never heard of a fish being very noisy, but then one never heard of a fish doing the things that other fish did, either.

LOUISE FAZENDA

However, a very interesting angle about the whole thing is that "The Galloping Fish" is to be made again with the same cast, at least as regards the human actors. The fish will probably be doubled.

Louise Fazenda, who, you remember, was the chief comedienne, will again appear in the same role, only this time her shrieks when the big fish chases her will be audible.

Chester Conklin and Ford Sterling likewise will appear in their featured leading roles.

The director will be Ernest Klein and the story, as you perhaps recollect, is an adaptation of a Frank Adams magazine yarn.

"Kid Boots" Held Up

Eddie Cantor and "Kid Boots" are out of the running, at least for the present, so far as Paramount and the talking film version are concerned. The picture has been held up back there in New York, where it is in the making.

Florenz Ziegfeld, it is reported, objected to Cantor, who is working in Ziegfeld's show, "Whoopee," giving his efforts during the daytime to the talking pictures, since he felt the strain would be too great on Cantor, who is not overly husky. When "Whoopee" ceases running this summer Cantor will probably take up "Kid Boots" again for the screen.

Charlotte Merriam in It

Now that Charlotte Merriam has been freed from the bonds of matrimony, she having obtained her release from Rex Lease last week, she feels free to go tripping on her professional way.

CHARLOTTE MERRIAM

Miss Merriam signed yesterday for an ingenue role in Fox's "Scent of Sweet Almonds," which Charles Klein will direct as to action, Donald Gallaher has charge of the dialogue direction.

This will be the first picture in which Miss Merriam appears for some time. At the time of her marriage she gave up her acting career for her home.

Rudolph Schildkraut Starred

We are always glad when we know there is a chance for us to behold Rudolph Schildkraut on the screen. So it is with pleasure that we announce that Universal is to star him in a Hebrew comedy by Abraham Schoemer called "The Greener Millionaire."

Schoemer himself will direct the picture, which will be a talker adapted from his play of the same name, a play which made a great success in New York a few seasons ago.

David Solomon, the director, who first obtained the rights to the play because of his enthusiasm for its possibilities for the screen, but who discovered that the play was ahead of its screen time, has been signed to assist Schoemer.

Leatrice Joy Here

Leatrice Joy arrived in Hollywood yesterday from the East, where she has been triumphing in vaudeville.

Miss Joy will start to work almost at once in a First National picture, one of several which she is to perform for that organization.

Tec Art's Sound Stages

Talking pictures hold no terror for the smaller independent producing companies, to judge from the fast moving, but careful preparations they are making to produce this type of amusement.

Several studios are caring for them. Tec-Art has two new sound stages all ready to receive the independents. Al Mannon, president, has erected a recording building, which will house four of the principal types of sound reproduction.

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN SHIP AT PORT

Harbor Boats Subdue Blaze in Hold of German Vessel After $5000 Loss

Fire, believed to have had its origin in spontaneous combustion, yesterday did $5000 damage to the general cargo of the North German-Lloyd freighter Ludwigshafen, as the ship was unloading while tied to the outer harbor dock in San Pedro.

The blaze was discovered in No. 5 hold, but within half an hour had been extinguished by two fire boats, aided by one engine company and two truck companies of the San Pedro fire department. The vessel arrived Wednesday from Hamburg.

"SONNY BOY" GIVEN GUARDIAN BY COURT

David D. Lee 4-year-old screen actor, appeared in Probate Judge Stephens's court yesterday with his mother, Ella May Lee, who was appointed guardian pendente lite in order to approve a contract the young actor is about to make. David's last notable appearance was as "Sonny Boy" in an Al Jolson picture.

REUNION FOR JERSEYITES

C. Newton Miller, president of the New Jersey Association of Southern California, last night announced a picnic reunion for folks from that State on the 11th inst., at Sycamore Grove Park. The program is to begin at 2 p.m., and there will be songs and short talks to enliven the renewing of old acquaintances.

TRIUMPHS IN PICTORIAL ATTRACTION

'Bridge of San Luis Rey' Is Unusual; Return of Eddie Peabody Celebrated

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

It is beautiful enough photographically to conjure moods—is "The Bridge of San Luis Rey." And all in all it is artistic and different. Consequently this picture adapted from a novel of great popularity will elicit the interest of those who desire a departure from conventional film themes and ideas.

"The Bridge of San Luis Rey" is on view at Lowe's State Theater. Anomalously it is combined with a program running heavily to jazz.

One may question the appeal of "The Bridge" from a broadly popular viewpoint, since it is scarcely the height of entertainment, and because very definitely it would seem to demand some knowledge of the book by Thornton Wilder from which it is taken, but unquestionably it suggests enough of beauty to be worth while even for the casual observer who relishes beauty.

Charles Brabin directed the production. Lily Damita, Don Alvarado, Ernest Torrence, Raquel Torres, Emily Fitzroy and Duncan Rinaldo are among the leading players. They all have moments of singular effectiveness in the many faceted story, with its exceedingly picturesque scenes against the background of old Peru.

From a motion-picture standpoint, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" essays to deal with a very complicated plot. The original was a sort of literary triptych—three briefly-told and very complete narratives blending with a single psychological idea. Wilder's achievement was distinctly a mental one in writing the novel, and without question the picture preserves that same intellectual impulse, even though here and there the original spirit may suffer slight loss.

Certainly, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" makes very obvious the purport of the Wilder novel. Too obvious, perhaps, for those who liked his particular type of delicate suggestion. Indeed, with the talking sequences that are introduced (and that are bad artistically) there can be little question that the five deaths which occurred as a result of the collapse of the span across the Peruvian chasm, were ideally foreordained. It might be pleasanter for some if this were left a little more to the imagination.

However, this is not to quarrel too much with a very commendable interpretation of a story that is in character exceedingly difficult to interpret on the screen. Brabin has done work of highly creditable quality in his direction, and the various players give portrayals that are unusually expressive. To my way of thinking, too, the casting is exceptionally good.

Miss Damita in her performance achieves a stunningly voluptuous effect. The role of Camila is Carmenesque, and Damita invests it with amazing abandon. Only here and there did she a trifle overemphasize the wrigglings that otherwise seemed a very component part of the role. She is a remarkably colorful presence.

Don Alvarado's portrayal of Manuel was unusually well judged. The repression of his acting in some highly dramatic scenes especially merited approbation. Mr. Torrence, Miss Fitzroy and Miss Torres were very adequate in their acting, and Mikhail Vavitch as the Viceroy was a salient and aristocratic figure. Henry B. Walthall, who does most of the speaking, Jane Winton, Tully Marshall and Eugenie Besserer were others of importance. Rinaldo shows very definite promise.

Remote from the feature is the jazz festival featuring both Rube Wolf and Eddie Peabody. Quite a combination this! Peabody's return resulted in many banjo solos that were received with big applause. A remarkably clever acrobatic dancer is Stella Hewitt.

Many Societies Attend Comedy

Many theater parties have been arranged by various groups and societies for the comedy called "Burlesque," which Hal Skelly and the Henry Duffy Players are presenting at El Capitan. Among the recent gatherings and those to be called in the near future are those of the Catholic Women's Club, the California Confederation of Women's Clubs, the Beverly Hills Women's Club, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma, Delta Epsilon, Phi Mu, the Los Angeles Realty Board, Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority.

In "Burlesque" Hal Skelly appears in his original role of Skid, the red-nosed comedian, who finds prosperity as the star of a Broadway revue too much for him. Laura Hamilton plays opposite him as Bonny, his wife.

Club Playlet to be at Orpheum

Attracted by the unusual interest he aroused when presented recently at the Writers' Club in Hollywood, Radio-Keith-Orpheum announces the special engagement next week of Walter Long, screen favorite, in "The Ace is Trumped," H. H. Stinson's melodramatic playlet.

Attired as an underworld leader, Long is said to enact one of his greatest characterizations. With him will be Virginia Cleary and Frederic Howard.

The Radio-Keith-Orpheum presentation marks the realization of a playwright's dream. For more than a year Stinson vainly tried to get Long into his creation.

NEARLY FINISHED

Within the next two weeks, Nancy Drexel, formerly under contract to the Fox organization, will become a free-lance player. At present Miss Drexel is completing her appearance in the talking sequences in "The Four Devils," special production directed by Murnau.

VOCAL RECITAL TONIGHT

Horatio Cogswell, vocal instructor of the college of music, University of Southern California, will present his pupils in recital this evening at Touchstone Theater.

Talk Fans Greet New Convert

Norma Shearer

Will make her debut among the speaking coterie in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," Bayard Veiller's popular melodrama which tonight will be reproduced in celluloid. A gala premiere is scheduled for the Fox-Criterion Theater.

YOUNG PIANIST GAINING POWER

Master Danenberg Presents Exacting Program Before Large Audience

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Master Emil Charles Danenberg gave his annual piano recital at the Beaux Arts auditorium last night and because his skill has been noised about in Los Angeles since his successful recital least season, he was greeted by a capacity audience. Master Emil is but 11 years of age, but he has an old soul. His piano playing makes this apparent and, although he has been excellently taught by his devoted father, Emil Danenberg of Hongkong and Los Angeles, he has his own individual style and his sensitive, charming temperament shines through his playing.

One of the loveliest numbers illustrative of this, which I heard last night, was the Debussy "Reflections on the Water." In this, all the dream nature of the child-man came to the surface and the impression it left with the audience was one of fairy fingers bidding the keys perform miracles.

More pretentious numbers successfully achieved were: Nocturne for the left hand by Scriabine, an attractive Idyll by the resident musician, Max Weil; a suite for two pianos brilliantly played by both the Danenbergs and a concluding Hungarian Fantasy for two pianos by Liszt. Earlier numbers on the program were: Prelude and Fugue in E minor, Mendelssohn; the Schumann Faschingschwank and a group of Chopin numbers.

The young musician plays with remarkable understanding and musical feeling. He has learned much in his short span of years and if the future gives him a joy and lilt to his playing he will make his audiences happy as well as amazed by his ability.

Ervine Treats of Cowardice in His Drama

What is frequently described as "the finest study of cowardice that has been presented in any modern play" is found in "John Ferguson," St. John Ervine's graphic, poignant drama, which the New York Theater Guild Repertory company will give for one week at the Figueroa Playhouse beginning Monday and following "Ned McCobb's Daughter," current attraction.

Ervine has sensed vividly that the coward is really a tragic figure. The abject little grocer, Jimmy Caesar, would be comic stuff of a familiar sort if he did not echo every man's despair over the limitations that hedge him in.

It is this longing for heroism and power, and egotism struggling beneath an intense and searing fear, that make him fit, not for contempt, but compassion.

This type study of the frequently humiliated suitor for the hand of Hannah Ferguson ranges through the grotesque and comic before it sounds the tragic. In the first act, Caesar is confronted by his great enemy, Henry Witherow, the bully, and he cringes before him in the sight of the girl.

"You're always talking, Jimmy Caesar," she sneers.

"Ay, I'm always talking," admits Jimmy, "and never doing."

But when tragedy presents itself and demands vindication, the manhood of Caesar rises to highly dramatic avenging action.

Corps Prepares Circle Opening

Fred A. Miller and his corps of assistants at the Fox Carthay Circle Theater are hard at work preparing for another world premiere at that house on Wednesday evening.

The occasion is the opening of Fox Films' all-talking Movietone special, "The Black Watch," suggested by a story by Talbot Mundy and said to be an absorbingly interesting drama of intrigue, mystery and adventure.

FILM OPERA TO BE SUNG LAST TIMES

"Time, Place and Girl" Succeeds Desert Opus at Warner Theater

"The Desert Song," now enjoying record patronage at Warner Brothers Theater, will terminate its engagement the 12th inst. This announcement is made with reluctance, and owing only to a congested booking condition.

To follow the Vitaphone operetta, the Warner Brothers have chosen an all-talking production, "The Time, the Place and the Girl," from the stage piece of the same name. The new audible motion picture will begin a one-week run on the 13th inst.

This announcement should be of especial interest to college students, particularly those of the University of Southern California, as it is understood a large number of the students of that institution appeared in the picture.

Much of the picture has a college background and the real college types were selected from U.S.C.

In addition, the champion U.S.C. football team played the parts of the "Stanton University" players before the camera under the direction of Howard Bretherton.

The cast includes Grant Withers, Betty Compson, Bert Roach, John Davidson, Gertrude Olmsted, Vivien Oakland, James R. Kirkwood, Gretchen Hartman.

Biltmore Lists First-Nighters

Making good its promise that filmland will turn out practically en masse on the occasion of the premiere of "Show Boat," the screen version of Edna Ferber's "best seller," Universal studios today announced a partial list of the celebrities who will be in attendance at the Biltmore Theater on Monday evening.

Laura La Plante and Joseph Schildkraut, co-stars of the picture which has as its theme life on a Mississippi River show boat in the gay nineties, as well as Harry Pollard, who directed, will entertain parties. The supporting cast of the film including Emily Fitzroy, Otis Harlan, Elise Bartlett, Jack McDonald, little Jane La Verne, Neely Edwards, Stepin Fetchit, Gertrude Howard, Theodore Lorch and others will be present also.

Rubin Proffers Suitable Show

A syncopating stage show, created especially for the picture "Syncopation," had its premiere at the Fox Boulevard Theater last night, when the singing talkie moved into the Vermont and Washington house for a continuation of its first-run engagement.

The stage show is presided over by Benny Rubin, and features a twenty-piece augmented band which offers numbers that justify its billing as the "fastest, sweetest, hottest" in town. The Boulevard girls present interesting chorus novelties, and Parker and Mac, comedy acrobats, and Bobby Thompson, petite singer and dancer, are featured.

RUSSIAN HEARD IN ARTLAND CONCERT

Annette Keyser, the Russian lyric and dramatic soprano, gave a concert Tuesday evening in Artland Auditorium before a good-sized audience. The soloist was assisted by Mrs. Guy Bush, pianist; Sol Cohen, violinist, and Mr. Robert Alter, cellist. Mme. Keyser's principal numbers were: "The Prayer of Tosca," Puccini; "One Fine Day," Puccini, and an opera aria from the opera "Enchantress," Tchaikowsky, and "A Serenade in Seville," Cook-Sousa.

Mme. Keyser also sang shorter number in English, French, Italian, German, Russian, and one of her own composition, "Catalina La Encantada" ("Catalina Is Calling Me.")

FAKE SEANCE EXPOSED IN ALL-TALKIE

"Hole in the Wall" Deals in Thieves and Spirits; Shown at Paramount

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

It is a strange combination of good and bad, this all-talking production, "The Hole in the Wall," current at the Paramount Theater The title is not alluring, the plot is hackneyed, and the dialogue might have been written by a not too bright fourth-grader. On the other hand, there are several capital characterizations by a group of stage players. In the matter of timing speeches for the best dramatic effect, "The Hole in the Wall" is an example which might well be studied. The picture was made in the East and lacks the careful recording and production detail of the Hollywood film output.

As an expose of certain type of the spiritualistic seance "racket" in the big town of many "rackets," the picture will interest. The plot concerns the effort of a girl to be avenged for a term in prison. She determined to kidnap the granddaughter of the woman who accused her falsely of theft, and to rear the child as a criminal. She allies herself with a gang of crooks who use a spiritualistic salon as a "come-on" for its thievery. There is an incidental and unimportant element of romance between the girl, who poses as Mme. Mystera, and a newspaper crime reporter.

The climax, illogical as it is, does not lack in thrills. The grandmother is granted a seance with Mystera, while the child is taken to the hiding place, the hole in the wall. One of the crooks is drowned while escaping, with the child left clinging to a ladder beneath a pier. Suddenly, during the seance, Mystera, the fake, really receives a message from the dead crook. His voice speaks from her lips.

An elevated wreck at the beginning of the picture is presented so grewsomely as to be in bad taste. There is no need to show maimed limbs and twisted bodies on the screen.

Edward G. Robinson as "the Fox," the head of the criminal band, gives a fine performance as a sympathetic heavy. Robinson was seen last year in Los Angeles in the stage production of "The Racket." As the scar-faced gangster of that play he was a figure of malicious evil. Now he does a good job in demonstrating that he really has a "heart of gold."

Claudette Colbert is attractive and shows assured dramatic ability, as Jean Oliver, the girl who poses as Mystera. Her voice is especially pleasing. David Newell shows promise in talking roles as Gordon Grant, the reporter. Donald Meek is excellent as Goofy. Among others in the cast are Nelly Savage, Louise Closser Hale, Katherine Emmet, Marcia Kagno and George McQuarrie. The direction is by Robert Florey.

"The False Alarm Fire Department" is probably one of the worst of the talking comedies—and that is saying a good deal.

A pleasing feature of the Paramount program is a medley of Victor Herbert melodies with Raymond Paige conducting the orchestra.

"Just Kids" is the Publix stage presentation of the week. The featured entertainer is Ad Carter, creator of the "Just Kids" cartoons. Carter sketches rapidly on the stage, and his more familiar characters from the "funnies" are recreated in person. Others seen are Cecile Blair, Anna Chang, Charles Rozella, Albert Lewis and Jeannie Lang.

An always enjoyable Milton Charles organ program and the Paramount News complete the program.

Duffy Regime Reaches Year at President

The President Theater tonight celebrates its first anniversary under Henry Duffy's management. On May 3, 1928, the playhouse opened as one of the Duffy chain of Pacific Coast theaters with the comedy "Tommy" as the initial bill. For "Tommy," which ran nine weeks, Henry Duffy brought Sidney Toler, Alan Bunce, Lloyd Neal and William Janney of the original New York production to the Coast.

Seven attractions, including "The Bad Man," in which Leo Carrillo is now starring, have been offered at the President during its year as a Duffy theater. "The Wooden Kimono," the mystery play, proved the most popular, running ten weeks. The others have been "Why Men Leave Home," "Nightstick," "Take My Advice," "The Skull" and "The Bad Man."

The eighth attraction at the President will be the current Broadway hit, "Skidding," which starts its engagement with the Sunday matinee, the 12th inst. Clara Blandick in her original role of the mother, which she created in the New York production. Emerson Treacy and Grace Stafford head the cast.

"CLOSE HARMONY" AS MILLION'S NEW FILM

Buddy Rogers and Nancy Carroll talk, sing and dance in "Close Harmony," Paramount all-talking picture, opening at Lazarus's Million Dollar today, with Jack Oakie, Skeets Gallagher, Greta Granstedt, Harry Green and a group of Fanchon and Marco girls featured in the cast.

In this colorful story of life behind the footlights, Buddy Rogers plays such soothing music on his saxophone that he wins the heart of a beautiful young tap dancer. A pair of happy-go-lucky hoofers provide the comedy relief. Elsie Janis wrote the story.

GOOD FOR THE SOUL

Laura La Plante "tells all" in her latest talking picture, "Scandal," which has its premiere at Pantages tomorrow. "Scandal" presents the blond beauty of Universal as a wife who has been guilty of indiscretions, and who, frees her conscience by confession. The problem, "Should a woman tell?" is not involved in "Scandal"—the question is, rather, can she be happy without telling? and Miss La Plante answers in the negative.

CONTRACTORS— And Builders —8

WE BUILT for a lady a home, within one year she sold it; we constructed for her another home, which she sold within a year. In five years we built four houses for her, all of which she sold at a profit of about $15,000. We furnished all the money for the buildings. The lady only bought the lots.

"You can always afford to make payments on a home, as payments are about what your rent would be. When you sell at a profit, build you another as this lady did.

If you have a lot come in and see us, whether you do business or not.

IDENTIFIED

In the course of a recent stroll along Broadway, New York, my companion, who enjoys a wide acquaintance along the Rialto, pointed out four or five men, and later he asked whether I had noted a characteristic that applied to them all. I recalled them simply as men who appeared to have nothing to do but balance themselves on the curb and watch the rest of the world go by. Then he told me that they were former policemen who were once active along the Big Stem and who, in retirement, find pleasure in standing around and watching passing vehicles and people. They are characterized, he informed me, by wearing substantially soled shoes, easy collars and standing with their hands clasped behind their backs. Policemen more than any other class of men are, he said, given to standing with hands behind their backs.—[Philadelphia Public Ledger.

GUARD AGAINST TYPHOID

The touring season is here. So is the typhoid season. In making their long dreamed-of auto trips across the country many people will be compelled to drink water and milk from many sources. In doing so it will not always be possible to avoid contaminated water and milk. Thus the safe thing to do is to have every member of the party vaccinated against typhoid fever before starting the trip. Typhoid is preventable by this method and the inoculations should be started a month or two before the tour begins. If it is not possible to have this protection more care must be taken with the drinking water. Avoid contaminated water—and to be on the safe side boil all drinking water for twenty minutes, then cool it in clean vessels before drinking.—[The Pathfinder.

TREATMENT FOR SUNBURN

In case you expose yourself too long and get sunburned try the following treatment recommended by the Public Health Service:

Take one-half pint of hot water and stir into it a level tablespoonful of boric acid powder. To this add twenty drops of carbolic acid and shake well. This lotion should be dabbed on the inflamed skin with a small piece of cotton or sprayed on with an atomizer. Don't rub it into the skin. Repeat the treatment every half hour if necessary. When medicines are not available cold compresses will relieve the badly burned areas.

GERMAN PRINCE DEFIES FAMILY

Ex-Kaiser's Grandson Will Make Home Here

Hohenzollern Scion Makes Decision for Himself

Plans Work for Henry Ford; Will Wed at Thirty

A threatened controversy in the former royal house of Hohenzollern, as the result of published reports in Los Angeles that Prince Louis Ferdinand, second son of the former German Crown Prince, intends to live here, was yesterday terminated abruptly by the Prince.

No words were wasted by the young man who might have been Kaiser of Germany, but who now elects to call himself Dr. Louis Ferdinand. He recently was graduated as a doctor of philosophy at the University of Berlin. He simply and seriously said: "I have my own life to live. I have acted as countless others who came to America, attracted by the enormous business possibilities here. Los Angeles is the finest place I have seen, and if I choose to settle here it is entirely a personal matter."

WILL RETURN HERE

He indicated that no official objection is expected from his family when he explains his plans to them. The Prince stated that his family is aware of his program. He is going to rest here for a few months. Then he will go to Argentina for some research work. Afterward, he expects to return to Los Angeles.

Negotiations are now in progress with Henry Ford of the Ford Motor Company, and it is entirely likely that he may become associated with that organization when he is ready to begin his business life, he said. He praised Mr. Ford's achievements and said that he will consider it an honor to be affiliated with him.

When shown news dispatches carrying an official denial from his family relative to his reported engagement to Miss Lily Damita, motion-picture actress, the Prince declared his disbelief in the authenticity of the statement. He says that his family knows all about the relationship between him and Miss Damita.

MARRY AT THIRTY

"My father advised me some time ago not to think of marrying before 30. I probably shall follow his counsel. Anyway, I have my own career to consider before I plan marriage. When the time comes I do not expect any opposition from my family. As to Miss Damita, our romance has been public for two years, and our relationship is unchanged."

The Prince pointed out that the news stories relative to possible marriage at the proper time are entirely true. He expects to abide by the family law that provides he must obtain the approval of his grandfather before marriage.

No press controversy with his family over his affairs will be shared by the Prince. "We have complete understanding. Of course, there is nothing official about any of my plans yet. I shall not be in position to state definitely what I am going to do for some time," he said.

THANKS PRESS

The Prince expressed his appreciation for the kind treatment accorded him by the American press since his arrival in this country. He asked that the newspaper men now leave him alone with his work. "I wish the same consideration given to any foreign or native person living in this country, that of permission to pursue my private life without hindrance. I am here to work, and my personal life is my own affair," he said.

No further statements relative to his life in this country will be issued by the Prince, he declared.

GRAND OLD LADIES CELEBRATE

Two Aged Notables Have Birthdays

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Oh, but they are truly "grande dames"—two of the most wonderful and attractive women—who have kept their feminine fascinations to the end.

Tomorrow morning "Grandma" Wakeman—Mrs. Caroline Wakeman of Hollywood—celebrates her ninety-second birthday in this vale of sunshine, and will be receiving affectionate callers all day at her home, 1405 Stanley avenue.

Today dear "Mother" King, known far and wide as the prisoners' angel, celebrates her ninety-first birthday at 2235 Norwalk avenue, Eagle Rock.

Both have keen minds. Both can see and hear everything that is good for them—and, oh, the thrilling memories that are theirs!

On Wednesday the Hollywood Women's Club paid Grandma Wakeman honor with a stylish party. Flowers flowed in upon her. No one has to help her walk—with gay independence she declines all aid but that of her old stick. She made a speech in clear, ringing tones that all could hear, beginning with "The good die young, so you can draw your own conclusions." She grinned naughtily as she added that she had tried to be good—but "what's the use?"

She told us how she settled in Hollywood thirty-six years ago, acquiring ten acres of land, "Which is why I'm a millionaire today," she chuckled. How, too, she planted the first pepper tree in Hollywood, made two streets which the town fathers declined to accept for ever so long. But she proved persistent with her gift—Serrano avenue.

Then dear Fannie L. King, born in 1838, who lived in Arkansas all through the Civil War, in which her husband fought for the Confederates. Until a year ago she was State superintendent of prison reform for the W.C.T.U. in California, a job she has performed wisely, lovingly, for twenty years here, and thus won the benign title of "Mother King."

One of her closest friends is Madeleine Obenchain of sad memory, who lives near-by in Eagle Rock and visits Mother King constantly. For her sake Madeleine has joined the W.C.T.U.—and once played for the prisoners in the jail when their organist had failed them.

Interesting, too, that both these dear, lovable women, whose experience has been so long, so vivid, who have made of old age a gracious and beautiful thing defend our modern young people ardently.

CLEANERS SCHEDULE PRICE RISE

Organization Meeting Sets Minimum Charge to be Effective 15th Inst.

A price boost in the cleaning and dyeing industry is scheduled for the 15th inst., according to action taken by the Better Cleaners Club at a meeting held at Sixty-second and Gramercy last night. The organization is composed of most of the retail and master cleaners in Los Angeles county and the price boost was decided upon after a series of meetings during the last three months.

Legislation that will require all cleaners and dyers to cover their customers' clothing with insurance is also to be urged following the general increase.

According to the tentative agreement last night, men's suits are to cost a minimum of $1 for cleaning and pressing, and women's dresses are to cost $1.50 and up. For the delivery of men's suits the price will be $1.25.

More than 250 owners of cleaning and pressing establishments attended the meeting, which was presided over by Chairman Harned. A number of speakers on the program explained the technical side of cleaning garments and urged the dealers not to cut prices to obtain business.

According to Chairman Harned a large percentage of the business is conducted on a credit basis and he asserted that unless prices are maintained many of the cleaners will face bankruptcy.

GERMAN LECTURES AT LIBRARY END TONIGHT

The last of a series of lectures in German being given by the Los Angeles Public Library will deal with Ricarda Huch and two other women writers of Germany. The lecture will be given tonight by Selma Rosenfeld of the German department of the University of California at Los Angeles. It will be in the lecture room of the central library at 8 p.m.

Car Decamps as Crew Aids Injured Man

A street car ran away last night while its crew was picking up a man who had been struck by it on Fifth street, near Central avenue.

David Tondell, 60 years of age, of 831 East Fifth street, was bumped and injured slightly by a D car, the police report.

Conductor J. J. Cormeir and his motorman jumped off to help up Tondell. In stopping suddenly the car had been put in reverse and as soon as the motorman stepped off, it started, backing briskly west on Fifth street.

After it had run for half a block it was stopped by George Grummett of 2626 North Broadway, who jumped aboard and applied the brakes.

RELIGIOUS DRIVE PLANNED

Students at U.C.L.A. Will Conduct Campaign in Behalf of New University Conference

United on a basis of "co-operation without compromise," Protestant, Jewish and Catholic students of the University of California at Los Angeles last night announced plans for a five-minute speaking campaign to be conducted in the principal churches and synagogues of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach and other near-by cities on behalf of the University Religious Conference.

It is the first time in the history of any American university, according to Thomas S. Evans, executive secretary of the movement, that such a religious project has been undertaken by students.

Fifty student speakers will carry the message to the churches, according to plans announced at a conference last night in Newman Hall. The campaign will be launched tonight in the synagogues of Los Angeles and virtually every church in Southern California will be visited by the speakers Sunday. These talks will describe plans for the religious program which is to be introduced at the university when it moves into its new home at Westwood.

Last night's meeting was in the nature of a get-together session. Raymond L. Dunham presided and Rev. H. V. Harris of the Protestant Episcopal Church was chosen as chairman of the speakers. Several students were called on for extemporaneous talks and members of the faculty assisted in preparing a standardized outline to make the five-minute talks as comprehensive and forceful as possible.

Plans for the religious program call for a joint religious building to be erected on the new campus at a cost of approximately $150,000. Arrangements are under way to purchase three lots fronting on Wilshire Boulevard as a site for the proposed structure.

The movement is indorsed by many Los Angeles church leaders representing all denominations.

Hospital Nurse With Record in World War Dies

Mrs. Helen G. Meehan, supervisor of nurses on the third floor of the Hollywood Hospital, died yesterday after a lingering illness. Mrs. Meehan underwent an operation two years ago, and, although she resumed light duties at the hospital, never entirely recovered.

When the Hollywood Hospital was thrown open in 1924, Mrs. Meehan admitted the first patient. She had been identified with the hospital until illness forced her to give up her work. During the World War she served with the British Royal Nurses Corps from the beginning until the year following the Armistice.

She is survived by Thomas Meehan, her husband, of 4608 De Longpre avenue. Funeral services will be conducted at the chapel of Delmer A. Smith, 731 West Washington street, at 2 p.m. Monday. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

ACTOR'S COOK BURNED

Accident in Harold Lloyd's Home Sends One to Hospital

Harold Lloyd's cook, Mrs. Edith Sloggett, 33 years of age, was burned last night while preparing the film comedian's dinner in the Lloyd home, 502 South Irving Boulevard.

The gas was turned too high when she touched the match to the oven, and the resulting puff of flame burned her left hand. She was treated in the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

BUYER FOR DOWNTOWN SHOP DIES

Former Peggy Hughes Widely Known for Work in Red Cross During War

Mrs. Lester A. Roderick, widely known as Peggy Hughes, died early yesterday of tuberculosis in the Rangely Apartments, 723 West Third street. As Peggy Hughes, widow of Hughie Hughes, famous auto race driver, she was a buyer of jewelry and handbags for Ville de Paris for about five years and later for Harry Fink, Seventh street.

Last August failing health forced her to retire from work and in March she went to Tucson, Ariz. She returned here last Sunday with death hard on her trail.

Mrs. Roderick was born in Boston about forty-two years ago. She came here with Hughes in 1915. He was killed not long afterward in races at Uniontown, Pa. She took up Red Cross work and in 1917 had added more than 10,000 members to the Los Angeles unit of the organization, which was one-third of its total, and was hailed as having personally influenced more persons into Red Cross work than possibly any other woman in America.

The body will be at the W. A. Brown mortuary, 1815 South Flower street, this evening and friends may call. Funeral services will be conducted at Los Angeles Crematory tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Drive for Fund to be Directed by Mrs. Werner

Announcement was made yesterday by Carl May, president of the board of directors of the Ruth Sanitarium, that Mrs. Erwin P. Werner has accepted the general chairmanship of the building fund campaign for $85,000. The Ruth Sanitarium is a Community Chest agency. It is the only one in the county which cares for socially diseased girls between the ages of 12 and 21 years. No girls are turned away for lack of funds.

Mrs. Werner, who was one of the leaders in the recent Assistance League building campaign, American Legion membership campaign and prominent in numerous other civic undertakings, said: "There is an institution in our city caring for the most neglected of all human beings. This institution is the Ruth Sanitarium, giving scientific hospitalization to girls and babies and reconstructing the human lives of these unfortunates to moral and physical health. I have agreed to serve as chairman of a building-fund campaign that this most noble work may go forward and better meet the great need. It now is operating in wholly inadequate quarters."

MRS. WYMAN PLANS LUNCHEON FOR CLASS

Mrs. Mabelle (Chef) Wyman again has planned a luncheon for her class this afternoon at 1:30 in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, and the menu is as follows: Creamed fish rolls, sweet bread, mushrooms in cases, frozen mint jelly and creamed cheese, poppy-seed sticks and strawberry blanc mange shortcake. Chef Wyman also will respond to a request for lemon layer cake with lemon jelly filling.

CHAMBER PROTESTS POSTOFFICE MERGER

Resolutions adopted by the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce, made public yesterday, protest against "any proposed plan to place the Beverly Hills postoffice under the jurisdiction or control of the Los Angeles postoffice. Copies of the resolution were sent yesterday to the Postmaster-General, to all California Senators and Representatives, and to all chambers of commerce in the communities affected.

COUNCIL TO HEAR PROTESTS

The City Council is scheduled to hear protests today against the ordinances of intention for the widening and laying out of Sherman Way, between Variel avenue and Topanga Canyon avenue, and for the improvement of the south roadway of Burton Way, between La Cienega and Robertson Boulevards.

YACHT HARBOR BILL SCO

Playground Board Opposed to Senate M
Hjelte Will Set Forth Stand to Legislat

By unanimous resolution the Playground and Recreation yesterday went on record as opposing Senate Bill No. 797, pro yacht harbor at Santa Monica, and urged the Mayor and Ci to do all in their power to defeat it. Similar action was amendments proposed for Assembly Bill No. 373. Supt. authorized to go to Sacramento to do what he can to Legislature with the board's view of the situation.

The commission's action on Bill No. 797 was taken for the following five reasons, as advanced by Supt. Hjelte:

"The bill provides an easy procedure whereby control of the tide and submerged lands and beaches of the State may be granted to small districts and exploited for local benefit rather than developed and projected for the enjoyment of all the citizens to whom these lands belong as a priceless heritage.

LOSS OF BEACHES

"Municipalities may be deprived under this bill, without their consent, of the opportunity to develop the tidelands and beaches within their boundaries, and said lands and beaches may be turned over to small districts governed by a board of three members appointed by State and county officials, not subject to recall or to removal by the appointing power.

"Annual taxes, unlimited as to amount, may be levied on local harbor districts for the improvement and operation of harbors established under the act, and unlimited bond indebtedness may be incurred on a majority of the vote

"Leases may be gra

years, with no provis

construction of break
